Course Description

(ENG 1301) College Reading and Writing. Three semester hours. Introduces students to writing as an extended, complex, recursive process and prepares students for English 1302, which more rigorously examines the forms and structures of argument and means to approaching multiple audiences. In 1301 students will write weekly, and will work on essay organization and development. The course will emphasize close reading, summarizing, and analysis of expository texts, including student writing.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Read, interpret, and analyze print and digital texts.
2. Apply writing strategies to draft, revise, and edit major writing tasks.
3. Apply and evaluate appropriate syntax, grammar, punctuation, and spelling.
4. Apply and evaluate appropriate voice, style, tone, and audience awareness in writing.
5. Compose new writing in multiple genres that is focused, coherent, and developed.
6. Collaborate with peers to plan, develop, and revise projects.

1 The syllabus and schedule are subject to change.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS Textbook: Writing Inquiry, 3rd Edition

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

Students must be able to compose and format their essays on a computer using word processing software like Microsoft Word. They must also know to access materials on the D2L learning management system and to upload their essays by the designated deadline.

Instructional Methods

Music Mondays will examine a piece of protest music for research and context. Each will have a small group presentation. There will be four essays in this course, and each essay will focus on a different topic, and different genre of essay. There will also be a reading each week, with a short response due. Fridays will be dedicated to peer reviews of the current essay. One day a week will be set aside for working in class.

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

Summary of Graded Work

Assignments	Percentage
Essay 1	15%
Essay 2	15%
Essay 3	20%
Essay 4	20%
Responses	15%

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course Attendance & Participation

Being a body in a seat is not full attendance – while you are in class, you are expected to pay attention, arrive prepared, take notes, and participate in your own learning. Consistent attendance is directly linked to higher pass rates, better grades, and higher graduation rates. It also demonstrates your commitment to your own education and respect for the learning process of your classmates, as absences and tardiness reduce your potential to contribute to and benefit from peer collaboration, teaching, and learning opportunities.

Absences

Absence is not an excuse for ignorance. If you are absent, it is your responsibility to contact one of your classmates and/or check D2L for any learning materials posted (lecture slides, assignment prompts, rubrics, etc.) to get the information you missed. If you are truly unable to find an answer to your questions through your peers or through your own investigations, you can also email me with specific questions. If you anticipate needing to miss class on the day that an assignment is due, reach out and work with me so that we can arrange for you to turn the work in without penalty if you have a valid excuse. [see University attendance policy below]

ACCORDING TO THE GPISD DUAL-CREDIT HANDBOOK, YOU WILL RECEIVE A 10 POINT DEDUCTION (AN ENTIRE LETTER GRADE) AFTER MISSING TWO WEEKS (10 DAYS) OF CLASS.

Tardies

Class begins on time each day. If you miss half or more of class time due to being tardy, you will be counted absent for that class period. See the GPISD policy on absences above. Being tardy can and will affect your grade.

Due Dates, Extensions, & Late Work

It is your responsibility as a student to keep track of and make up any work you've missed. You are provided with instructions and dates for assignment submission on the course calendar below and on D2L. I may also ask you to bring hard copy rough drafts for in-class peer review. I will deduct a letter grade (10 points) for each day your work is late, but I will not accept work that is more than 7 days late. It will receive a 0 Grade. If you have a school-related activity, work must be turned in early. And any school related absence must be told to the professor 48 hours in advance.

Classroom Etiquette & Technology

Inside the classroom, the success of our class discussions and activities depends on you being respectful and both physically and mentally present. No texting or social media viewing during class. All mobile phones must be placed face down on your desk or out of sight. If you using a computer during class, you must be logged into D2L. Outside the classroom, you are responsible for checking your MyLeo email daily. If you do not have ready access to the internet (in a way that will prevent you from successfully completing assignments), please inform me at the start of the term so that we can discuss alternatives. I commit to checking my email many times daily and to respond to you promptly – please return the favor.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS LMS

All course sections offered by Texas A&M University-Commerce have a corresponding course shell in the myLeo Online Learning Management System (LMS). Below are technical requirements

ACCESS AND NAVIGATION

You will need your campus-wide ID (CWID) and password to log into the course. If you do not know your CWID or have forgotten your password, contact the Center for IT Excellence (CITE) at 903.468.6000 or helpdesk@tamuc.edu.

Note: Personal computer and internet connection problems do not excuse the requirement to complete all course work in a timely and satisfactory manner. Each student needs to have a backup method to deal with these inevitable problems. These methods might include the availability of a backup PC at home or work, the temporary use of a computer at a friend's home, the local library, office service companies, Starbucks, a school campus open computer lab, etc.

COMMUNICATION AND SUPPORT

Everything in this class will go through TAMUC, including email. Add your TAMUC email to your email on your devices. Check it frequently. This is where your professor will send announcements, changes to due dates and assignments, and where you will receive alerts on when to change your password. If you don't change your password and let it expire, you will have to call the Help Desk and talk to someone.

If you have any questions or are having difficulties with the course material, please contact your Instructor.

Technical Support

If you are having technical difficulty with any part of Brightspace, please contact Brightspace Technical Support at 1-877-325-7778.

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Course Specific Procedures/Policies
