3. Personal Responsibility: Students will be able to understand their role in their own education.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

4. Social Responsibility: Students will demonstrate awareness of societal and/or civic issues.

5. Students will be able to:

- Explain the origin and development of constitutional democracy in the United States.
- Demonstrate knowledge of the federal system.
- Describe separation of powers and checks and balances in both theory and practice.
- Demonstrate knowledge of the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of the federal government.
- Evaluate the role of public opinion, interest groups, and political parties in the political system.
- Analyze the election process.
- Describe the rights and responsibilities of citizens.
- Analyze issues and policies in U.S. politics.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

- Students will need to be familiar with the University learning management system,
- (myLeo Online or D2L), know how to use a personal computer, navigate the World Wide
- Web/Internet, and use basic word processing software such as Microsoft Word and
- Power Point. Students will also be introduced to the Adobe Acrobat Suite for the
- purposes of completing the Public Policy Assignment.

Instructional Methods

The following methods of instruction will be utilized for this course.

- Assigned readings from the required textbook.
- Lectures and discussions during assigned meeting times.
- Weekly course work on myLeo Online.
- Periodic outside readings

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

- All students are expected to comply with the following requirements.
- All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment.
- Students are expected to regularly check the course site for announcements and updates.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

- Students are expected to complete all course readings for each section of the course.
- During class, students are expected to turn off and put away all electronic devices such as laptops, cell phones, tablets, iPods/iPads, audio and video recording devices, etc. The only exception is for students who have accommodation letters allowing them to use such devices.
- Students are expected to review any supplementary materials that the instructor provides, such as web links, news stories, etc.
- Students are expected to attend class regularly. Consistent with University policies and procedures, students who miss five class meetings or more will be administratively dropped from the class. Excused absences will only be granted for documented official university activities or documented medical issues. Students are required to provide documentation by the next class meeting to receive an excused absence.
- Students are expected to complete all course assessments.
- Students are expected to exhibit respect toward their fellow classmates and the instructor. This includes treating everyone with courtesy and esteem in all correspondence for the course. For more information on this subject, please see the Student Guidebook.
- Students are expected to avoid committing academic dishonesty, consistent with Texas A&M University-Commerce rules and policies. Academic dishonesty "includes, but is not limited to, plagiarism (the appropriation or stealing of the ideas or words of another and passing them off as one's own), cheating on exams or other course assignments, collusion (the unauthorized collaboration with others in preparing course assignments or taking exams), and abuse (destruction, defacing, or removal) of resource material. For this course, academic dishonesty includes cheating, plagiarism, collusion and/or falsifying academic work. In particular, any student who passes off work as their own that was actually written by someone or something (artificial intelligence) else, will be deemed to have committed plagiarism. This holds true whether material comes from the textbook, another publication, an Internet source, or another student. Any act of academic dishonesty on any assessment will result in a zero for that assignment and the offending students may be referred to the proper campus office for potential disciplinary actions.
- Students are expected to comply with all myLeo Online/D2L technical requirements in terms of training, computer access, & Internet access.

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

- A = 90%-100%
- B = 80%-89%
- C = 70%-79%
- D = 60%-69%

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

F = 59% or Below

Assessments

Attendance:

I will take attendance in this course. Students are expected to attend class regularly. Consistent with University policies and procedures, students who miss five class meetings or more will be administratively dropped from the class. Excused absences will only be granted for documented official university activities or documented medical issues. Students are required to provide documentation by the next class meeting to receive an excused absence.

Weekly Quizzes:

Because the pace of the class follows a week-by-week basis, the student will complete one chapter quiz per week/chapter. I will take the best of 10 quizzes and drop the remaining.

The due dates for these chapter quizzes will always be the Thursday of each week at 11:59pm and will be submitted online via D2L.

- Ch. 1 Quiz due 8/29 at 11:59pm
- Ch. 2 Quiz due 9/5 at 11:59pm
- Ch. 3 Quiz due 9/12 at 11:59pm
- Ch. 4/5 Quiz due 9/19 at 11:59pm
- Ch. 6/8 Quiz due 9/26 at 11:59pm
- Ch. 9 Quiz due 10/3 at 11:59pm
- Ch. 7 Quiz due 10/10 at 11:59pm
- Ch. 10 Quiz due 10/17 at 11:59pm
- Ch. 11 Quiz due 10/31 at 11:59pm
- Ch. 12 Quiz due 11/7 at 11:59pm
- Ch. 13 Quiz due 11/14 at 11:59pm

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Ch. 16/17 Quiz due 11/21 at 11:59pm

Media Analyses:

Many political ideas are communicated in everyday life through language and media. Accordingly, you will analyze a piece of media content (e.g. video, text, pictures, memes) based on (3) criteria: (1) what is the main argument expressed in the content? (2) What evidence was used to make the case? And (3) Do you agree with this argument? (Explain why or why not). I will provide a playlist that includes videos the students may watch, or they may select their own if they can make the case that it includes a political argument!

There will be three media analyses total. The due dates are listed in the class schedule and will be submitted online via D2L.

Media Analysis #1 Due 9/19 at 11:59pm
Media Analysis #2 Due 10/17 at 11:59pm
Media Analysis #3 Due 11/14 at 11:59pm

Midterm Exam:

There will be a midterm exam in this course, which will assess the student's understanding of all material leading up to that point.

Test review: I do not believe exams should be overly stressful, so I have devised a system that will ensure you learn the material and do not have to have unneeded test anxiety. The system is as follows:

I will open up a shorter version of the exam that selects questions randomly from a test bank. What you should do is take the shortened exam multiple times to allow the law of averages to feed you all the questions that may show up. For example, if you take the review exam 4 times and you score a 66, 72, 78, and 80, you could reasonably expect to make a B on the exam. You may do the review an unlimited number of times before the exam formally opens, but completion of the review (even once) will earn you 5 extra points on the exam. Please take advantage of this! I will post the review in the week leading up to the exam week.

Midterm Exam due 10/24 at 11:59pm

Policy Proposal:

The student must select a policy issue of their choice and do the following: 1) define the problem that your policy deals with; 2) identify possible solutions; 3) evaluate tradeoffs and obstacles; and 4) reach a solution and make a case for it. Because this is an outline, though, you do not have to write an entire proposal. Just give me an outline of what you would write if you were a policymaker!

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Length requirement: At least 750 words total, but you may write more if you would like.

Once the student has selected their policy problem, they must gather evidence from at least three sources to answer these questions. They are not required to rely on an abundance of sources to seem “professional”, but rather, to use solid evidence to strengthen an already solid argument.

When doing research, ask yourself:

1. Is the information I’m using as evidence scientific, logical, or rational in nature?
2. Have I considered all sides of the argument and made an honest assessment of the facts presented to me?
3. Could the objectivity of my evidence be suspect in any way? (hint: all objectivity can be questioned to some extent, so identifying and adjusting for possible bias is a sign of a good argument).

The student will be asked to cite the sources they used to provide evidence for their argument. I prefer ACADEMIC journals, but reputable news articles are acceptable if the student can verify that the information was true. (No fake news allowed). I do not require more than three sources, but I do encourage more to construct a better argument. For citing statistics, I prefer figures from government agencies (FBI, Census, CDC, etc...). Students may utilize whatever citation format they prefer (APA, MLA, etc.).

Policy Proposal Due 11/26 at 11:59pm

Final Exam:

There will be a final exam in this course, which will be cumulative. The students will have one week to complete the exam online via D2L. Exams will open on that Monday at 12am and will close the following Sunday at 11:59pm.

Test review: I do not believe exams should be overly stressful, so I have devised a system that will ensure you learn the material and do not have to have unneeded test anxiety. The system is as follows:

I will open up a shorter version of the exam that selects questions randomly from a test bank. What you should do is take the shortened exam multiple times to allow the law of averages to feed you all the questions that may show up. points on the exam. Please take advantage of this! I will post the review in the week leading up to the exam week.

The Final Exam date is TBA.
Extra Credit:

The following extra credit assignments will be offered throughout the semester, with others offered at my discretion. Each extra credit assignment will count for one additional point on your final grade! These assignments have no due date (before the last day of the regular semester) and will be posted on D2L.

1. "Political Compass" Assignment
2. "Democracy Pros and Cons" Assignment
3. "Is the Constitution Outdated?"
4. "The Storm" Essay
5. "Open Secrets" Assignment
6. "Stump for Trump" Assignment

AI use policy

Texas A&M University-Commerce acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course. Given that, this course will allow the use of generative AI, given the following constraints:

1. Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).
2. Generative AI is acceptable only to help gather information, the structuring of a writing assignment, and to answer specific questions students may have before or during the completion of an assignment.
3. Generative AI is in no way acceptable if it is used to generate an opinion or subjective conclusion solicited by the instructor in order to complete an assignment. e.g. "According to ChatGPT, abortion is morally wrong"; "According to ChatGPT, the second amendment does not permit personal possession of automatic weapons"; etc.

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.
