Course Description

Doctoral dissertations must be acceptable to the student's advisory committee and the Dean for Graduate Studies and Research on a problem in the area of his specialization. To be acceptable, the dissertation must give evidence that the candidate has pursued a program of research, the results of which reveal superior academic competency and significant contribution to knowledge. Graded on a (S) satisfactory or (U) unsatisfactory basis.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Students will evaluate research to develop a research project.
2. Students will synthesize research on their topic.
3. Students will identify techniques for data collection and analysis.
4. Students will write a formal dissertation and orally defend their dissertation.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Assessments

I. Proposal – Before conducting their project, students will write a formal proposal and orally defend it. This will include a literature review and methodology of the project.

II. Final Dissertation – A final dissertation that includes the literature review and methodology along with the results and interpretation of the results will be required. A corresponding presentation will be required to defend the final dissertation.

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

To be successful in this course, you will need to know how to access and navigate (a) Desire2Learn, (b) Microsoft Word, and (c) Microsoft Excel. If you use the program PAGES, you will need to convert your file to a Word document or PDF before submitting to Dropbox. I will not serve as technical support. TAMUC has multiple professionals (e. g., Instructional Technology, CITE, library) who will be able to help you troubleshoot and/or teach you how to navigate the necessary technical requirements for this course.

Instructional Methods

It is expected that the doctoral candidate(s) enrolled in this course will make every effort to meet weekly with Dr. Carrero. During our weekly meetings, it is expected that the doctoral candidate will prepare an agenda with NO MORE than 3 points of discussion to make sure the meeting is efficient and productive. One of the points of discussion will be reviewing/discussing whatever action items were discussed at the previous meeting. It is also expected that the doctoral candidate will communicate with EACH committee member at least one time per semester EXCEPT in the semester that the candidate is expecting to propose or defend their dissertation—in these semesters, it is expected that the doctoral candidate will meet with their committee members at the beginning of the semester and again within the 2 weeks of their scheduled proposal or defense. Finally, it is expected that the doctoral candidate creates and maintains a dissertation progress report that is frequently updated and shared with committee members using an accessible format (e.g., Google docs).

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

To contact success in this course, students are required to maintain an updated dissertation progress report that is shared with committee members in an accessible way (e.g., Google docs). Students are encouraged to plan their semester workload for this course using the Carnegie Unit model to calculate (i.e., 1 credit = 3 hours of study per week). For example, if the doctoral candidate is enrolled in 6 credit hours of PSY 718, they would spend 18 hours per week working on their dissertation. Therefore, it is recommended that the student make every effort to schedule 18 hours of EACH WEEK to dedicate to their dissertation (some of that time may be spent meeting with their chair and/or other committee members).

Finally, to be successful in this class, I recommend you access your resources fully, frequently, and without timidity. Email the instructor if you have any questions or concerns that are specific to you. Reach out to other scholars who are doing work that you are interested in if you want/need to unpack some concepts applicable to your dissertation. Contact the TAMUC librarians (they have provided multiple ways to contact them) for assistance in accessing available resources. Schedule time with the TAMUC Writing Center to identify some writing behaviors you need to work on before sending your document out to your committee members for review.

GRADING

S/U is the grading scheme. Students are assigned a grade of I while the dissertation is in progress, and this grade will be converted to an S upon successfully defending the final dissertation. Students may be assigned a grade of U if they are not making progress on their project.

Artificial Intelligence

Texas A&M University-Commerce acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, Chatbots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course.

Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.

Students with Disabilities-- ADA Statement

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities.
