Course Description

ENG 1302 – GLB/US Written Argument/Research • 3 credit hours. This course provides students with advanced training in communication skills emphasizing the writing and reading of argumentative prose and adapting writing to alternate audiences. Students will write weekly, including such texts as journals, reading response logs, summaries of argumentative texts, argumentative papers, and longer papers integrating secondary research. Activities include close reading of sample texts, both student and professional. Some sections will emphasize special topics in both reading and writing. Prerequisites: Grade of C or better in English 1301 or advanced placement or CLEP.

Core Curriculum Course Objectives

- Critical Thinking Skills: to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information;
- Communication Skills: to include effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral and visual communication;
- Teamwork: to include the ability to consider different points of view and to work effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal;
- Personal Responsibility: to include the ability to connect choices, actions and consequences to ethical decision-making.

English 1302 Learning Outcomes

- Define important terms/concepts including, but not limited to, literacy, community, research, ethics, knowledge, ethnography, and writing processes;
- Discuss the ways these terms expand based on cultural and communicative practices;
- Locate scholarly research related to key terms/concepts;
- Examine scholarly, personal, and/or multimodal texts that detail varying understandings and applications of key terms/concepts;
- Develop writing and research processes appropriate for ethically studying the literacy of a specific community;
- Engage in collaboration that supports individualized and communal understanding and writing development;
- Collect primary ethnographic data;
- Organize collected data in order to understand specific literacy community practices;
- Consider the various affordances and constraints of composing using different technologies (analog, digital, and/or multimodal), research methods, practices, styles, and/or languages;
- Compose texts across different genres and media of writing that further expand key terms/concepts based on primary ethnographic research and engagement with trustworthy secondary research;

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

- Reflect on your writing experiences and literacy practices;
- Design individualized learning goals appropriate for a first-year writing course; and
- Assess individualized learning goals based on labor and performance alongside feedback from peers and the instructor.

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Course Specific Procedures/Policies

While there will be no attendance grade or specific policy your attendance is still expected and will be taken when class starts. If you know you are going to miss class please let me know ahead of time when possible. If you miss class you will need to ask your fellow classmates about what you missed in order to catch yourself back up.

You will have the opportunity to revise and resubmit any major assignment that you are unsatisfied with your grade. Please let me know that you plan to revise your assignment and I will tell you when you need to submit your revision by in order for me to re-evaluate the grade. While I am open to allowing you to revise your previous assignments at any point in the semester, there will be a final deadline for revision submissions.

Interaction with Instructor Statement

My office hours are open door, you may come in at any time during my office hours to ask any questions or raise any concerns you have with the class at these times. You may also email me at any time and I will respond as soon as I am able but please give me at least 24-48 hours to respond. If your email has not received a response after 48 hours please remind me during the next class meeting and I will get to it as soon as I am able.

Grievance Procedure

Students who have concerns regarding their courses should first address those concerns with the assigned instructor in order to reach a resolution. Students who are unsatisfied with the outcome of that conversation or have not been able to meet individually with their instructor, whether in-person, by email, by telephone, or by another communication medium, should then schedule an appointment with Dr. Gavin P. Johnson, the Director of Writing (gavin.johnson@tamuc.edu). In the case when the Director of Writing is the instructor, the student should contact Dr. Christian Hempelmann, Chair of the Department of Literature and Languages (c.hempelmann@tamuc.edu). Where applicable, students should also consult University Procedure 13.99.99.R0.05 ("Student Appeal of Instructor Evaluation").

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may make it necessary for the instructor to modify the syllabus during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

University Specific Procedures

Student Conduct

All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment. The Code of Student Conduct is described in detail in the Student Guidebook.

AI Use in Courses (Draft)

East Texas A&M University acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course.

Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.

Collection of Data for Measuring Institutional Effectiveness

To measure the level of compliance with the university's Institutional Effectiveness guidelines, throughout the semester, I will collect some of the ungraded texts you produce. The texts will be part of a portfolio created on your behalf and will be measured to ensure that our program "promotes practices that result in higher student academic achievement; an enhanced student experience; aligned and transparent decisions; and readily available information for improvement, accountability, and accreditation" (see "Department of Institutional Effectiveness," <http://www.tamuc.edu/aboutus/institutionalEffectiveness/default.aspx>). This is solely an assessment of program effectiveness and in no way affects students' course grades or GPAs.

Students with Disabilities-- ADA Statement

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact:
