Labs are integral parts of the Physics 1401 course

Course Description:

Catalog Description: College Physics. Four semester hours. Mechanics and heat; including one two-hour laboratory period per week

Supplemental Description: College physics is an introductory physics course utilizing mathematics at the college algebra level and covering the topics of motion, forces, energy, momentum, mass, gravity, and other topics typically referred to as mechanics. This course is typically taken by biology and pre-med majors or other allied science areas that do not require calculus based physics.

Goals of the Course: Students will gain qualitative knowledge of classical mechanics, will be also able to work standard quantitative physics problems on the topics of the course. Students will verify, and explore many of these concepts in the laboratory. Laboratory instruction will consist of taking measurements, interacting with computer simulations, analyzing data and writing brief reports describing the experiments.

Grading Procedure and Scale:

Labs: The online laboratory simulations/activities count 20% of the course grade
You must pass the lab part with at least a C to pass this course to meet the state accreditation requirement, regardless of your scores in other portions of the course

Course Grade: The lecture portion of the grade is determined by Online Discussions, Homeworks and 2 Exams:

Homeworks (Late Homework NOT accepted/graded unless otherwise pre-approved by the instructor) 30 %

Two Exams (Mid-term and the final will be announced on D2L, 20% each) 40%

Labs (Late Lab Reports NOT accepted/graded unless otherwise pre-approved by the instructor) 20%

Online Discussions (must post one physically meaningful and relevant question on the specific topic of the chapter and answer one question posted by others, late submissions NOT graded unless otherwise pre-approved by the instructor) 10%

90 and above:	A
80 and above but less than 90:	B
70 and above but less than 80:	C
60 and above but less than 70:	D
Less than 60:	F

AI use policy [Draft 2, May 25, 2023]

East Texas A&M University acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course.

Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.
