Course Description

Human Trafficking is a graduate-level course designed to help students gain a better understanding of contemporary human trafficking and modern-day slavery. During this course, you will learn important terminology in this field, the different types of human trafficking that exist, and gain an understanding of the scope of the problem, both domestically and globally. You will also learn about the physical, emotional, and psychological trauma experienced by victims of human trafficking and the methods used to recruit and control them. The roles that entities such as government, the economy, the media, organized crime, and culture play in these complex human rights and social justice issues will also be explored.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

The Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) requires a competency-based approach to identify and assess what students demonstrate in practice. In social work, this approach involves assessing students' ability to demonstrate the competencies identified in the educational policy. Listed below are the competencies and associated knowledge, skills, values and cognitive and affective processes that comprise the expected outcomes for this course.

The syllabus/schedule is subject to change.

	Activity/Assessment	Dimension
Competency 1: Demonstrate Ethical and Professional Behavior
Make ethical decisions by applying the standard of the NASW Code of Ethics, relevant laws and regulations, models for ethical decision-making, ethical conduct of research, and additional codes of ethics as appropriate to rural and urban contexts and at the intersection of the two. COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

In this course you will utilize the Learning Management Systems (LMS) D2L for instructional and learning opportunities, submitting your assignments, participating in online synchronous and asynchronous discussions, accessing resources, and completing quizzes/tests. Additionally, knowledge and skills in using Microsoft Word, PowerPoint and Outlook Email. If you have any issues with using the various systems or software, you must contact support services and notify the Instructor of the problem.

Instructional Methods

This course will be delivered via synchronous and asynchronous sessions via D2L. It will consist of live class sessions, pre-recorded lectures, group engagement activities, and various assignments, some including experiential learning and practical application of the content areas. In addition, small lectures, discussion activities and workshops may be utilized to provide instruction during this course.

Student Responsibilities and Tips for Success in the Course

As a student in this course, you are responsible for engaging in active learning and reaching out to the Instructor if problems or challenges interfere with optimal learning. Communication is vital when engaged in a fully online, virtual environment.

Expectations for success include:

1. Always demonstrate professional behavior, including respect for the Instructor and peers; being open to feedback and guidance throughout this class and the program.
2. Adhered to the School of Social Work and University student code of conduct and NASW Code of Ethics.
3. Begin reading the assigned text and supplemental readings as soon as possible, focusing on completing all readings prior to engagement with the Instructor or peers.
4. Prepare to engage in live class sessions, discussions, and other activities so you can be a contributor as well as a receiver of knowledge and skills.
5. Actively participate in engagement activities, including live virtual class sessions, online discussions, and interactive learning opportunities -as this is vital for learning and success in both this course and the program.
6. Work ahead when possible. Completing assignments ahead of the due date so you are prepared to submit on the due date.
7. Sign in to the D2L course shell multiple times weekly to access updated announcements or posted resources.
8. Check your university email daily. This is the university, department, and Instructor's official method of communication.
9. Be open and focused on the "process" and not the "product," as earning this degree requires time, effort, work, growth in knowledge, skills, and abilities, along with personal and professional attributes.

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

A = 90%-100% of total points

B = 80%-89%

C = 70%-79%

D = 60%-69%

F = 59% or Below

The syllabus/schedule is subject to change.

Assessments	Value
Discussion/Responsive/Reaction Writing Assignments (5 @ 20 pts. each)	100 pts.
Weekly Quizzes: (10 @ 5 pts. each)	50 pts.
Project	150 pts.
TOTAL	300 pts.

Assessments

1. DISCUSSION/REACTION/RESPONSE ASSIGNMENTS: (5 assignments @ 20 points each/ total of 100 points)

You will have a mixture of Discussions or responsive writing assignments to a link or reading that is posted. Both Discussion and Responsive Writing are integral parts of this learning experience. Since this class meets online in an asynchronous setting, students have limited reasons for not participating each week. Please note that many of you will find these activities to be very interesting and will widen your scope of the definition of human trafficking. The responsive writing is expected to be approximately a page in length and will have very clear directions located in D2L during the coordinating week the item is due. At the graduate level, the expectation is that there will be appropriate use of grammar and conceptual theoretical frameworks.

DISCUSSIONS:

The discussions will open when the course begins, and students will be expected to respond to the discussion post by Wednesday at 11:30 p.m. of the week it is assigned. Responding to the prompt can be done in advance. The response to the prompt should be 7-10 sentences in length, utilizing your critical thinking skills. This means you need to cite either of the textbooks or use outside sources. The following has to be done during the week that the discussion is assigned: Additionally, you will need to respond to TWO of your peers' post between Thursday– Sunday at 11:30 pm. by responding to each of the two with a 3-5 sentence response, again using critical thinking skills which means that you will need to provide citations to back up what you have written. The discussion will close on Sunday at 11:30 p.m. Please remember that these discussions should engage you and your peers effectively. Remember, this is about learning and the desire to learn new topics of interest.

2. UNIT QUIZZES (10 quizzes @ 5 points each/total: 50 points):

Each week, you will submit a quiz. A quiz will consist of you providing FIVE points of interest that are found within the assigned reading from either text. Because it is so easy to put off reading assignments, especially during the summer, I have built these quizzes into the course to help you stay on task. It is essential to complete the readings and synthesize the information effectively. I not only expect you to name the area of interest but also to expand on it and explain your understanding of it, as well as why it stood out to you. You might also include implications for practice.

3. HUMAN TRAFFICKING PROJECT: (150 Total points with 50 pts for the Reflection paper and 100 pts for the Presentation)

This is an excellent opportunity for students to gain hands-on experience in the world of human trafficking. Students will be expected to work on a project related to human trafficking. The student must first obtain the instructor's approval regarding their desired project. The student may want to contact agencies associated with human trafficking issues to find out what resources might be available. The student will need to begin work on this project as soon as the summer session begins and may include, but is not limited to:

- Help with writing a grant in cooperation with and to support a local human trafficking social service agency
- Work with a local social service agency that serves victims of human trafficking to plan an event/support an event to gain public awareness of the growing issue
- Work with a social service agency that serves victims of human trafficking on a unique project
- Speak to a community forum on the growing issue of human trafficking locally and/or as it affects the micro, mezzo, and macro population. This might include a venue such as a network of providers, social service groups, community leaders, a state representative, or a group of legislative representatives, a city council meeting, etc. The list goes on and on.
- Volunteer as a blogger for a coalition or group aimed at educating and eradicating human trafficking and blog for them over the summer
- Be creative and use your imagination to come up with something that aligns with your desire to learn about Human Trafficking. Meaning some will be interested in the Micro, Mezzo, or Macro area, depending on which area they gravitate to as MSW students

As you can see, the project is not something that can be done at the last minute. It will take some thought, time, and networking. However, what is gained from such an experience is far greater than one can imagine. The student will need to upload a presentation of the project to the D2L folder or a link to the presentation. The presentation will be made available to your peers during a Zoom meet-up with the class, and students are expected to attend and present their presentation. By uploading the presentation and presenting it, peers can view all the experiences, interact, ask questions, and become more informed. Be creative. This may include a video of the volunteer experience, pictures, or an interview. The student will also write a brief 1–2-page paper reflecting on the project, its impact on the student, practice, and society as a whole. This project provides an excellent opportunity for students to get involved and offers a creative means to do so. There are many grassroots organizations working to combat the problems of human trafficking, and this is your chance to be a part of that on some level. Numerous organizations are willing to help our students as volunteers.

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Course Specific Procedures/Policies

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may require the Instructor to modify it during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance.

University Specific Procedures

Ethical Behavior

The School of Social Work expects all students to conduct themselves in an ethical, professional manner in the classroom and field settings consistent with the NASW Code of Ethics.

University Code of Conduct

East Texas A&M University has established standards of conduct to create and foster an environment that facilitates student learning and development. Students and university student groups are expected to conduct themselves in a manner that demonstrates respect for the rights and property of others and is consistent with the educational goals and mission of the university. This Code of Student Conduct ("Code") focuses on personal responsibility and accountability for students' actions and the impact those actions may have on the greater community. To access student academic and behavioral expectations for students refer to the Student Guidebook.

Students should also consult the Rules of Netiquette for more information regarding how to interact with students in an online forum: <https://www.britannica.com/topic/netiquette>

School of Social Work & Council on Social Work Education-Specific Policies Course Engagement

Final Evaluation and Grade Depend on Both Classroom Attendance and Participation:
Inadequate participation or a lack of required time commitment in each class significantly affects students' grades. Regardless of the course venue, students must dedicate a comparable amount of time. Expectations of both Face-to-Face classes and those with Online components include time spent reading and studying course material.

To achieve a level of competency in a specific course, students must demonstrate both mastery of the content and active engagement.

Mastery of content areas is evidenced by successful completion of course assignments such as written papers, group project deliverables, tests/quizzes, and other tangible products designed by instructors to evaluate knowledge and skills.

Additionally, the Social Work Profession is built upon human interactions and the development of human relationships, which is defined as engagement. Engagement is defined as meaningful involvement in interactions with the instructor, peers, and outside stakeholders, as appropriate, such as contacting a social worker to conduct an interview for a required assignment. Within the classroom setting, whether virtual or F2F, students must actively participate in 80% of engagement activities as outlined by individual instructors. These activities may include, but are not limited to, participation in live, synchronous virtual classes, attending face-to-face courses when appropriate, interacting with peers in posted discussions, and collaborating on group interactive projects.

Students must meet the standards for content mastery on tangible assignments and demonstrate active engagement at the threshold set by the Instructor for the duration of a semester.

Instructors are experts in each course content area and set the standards for students to meet to successfully complete the course.

Student Conduct

Students preparing to become professional social workers must adhere to the University Code of Conduct, Department Code of Conduct and the National Association of Social Workers (NASW) Code of Ethics.

Department Code of Conduct

The Academic and Professional Issues Committee (API) hearing is the formal path of due process for a student in regard to the concern being expressed. A student will be referred to the School of Social Work's API by faculty, field instructors, or faculty field liaisons when a concern arises regarding academic and student conduct and/or professional preparation. When "a student who fails to meet the professional expectation of the field for which he/she is preparing may be suspended from further study in that program by the department administering that program" as demonstrated through ethical and/or legal violations; aberrant disregard for School of Social Work Code of Conduct or other concerns as determined by the Academic and Professional Issues Committee.
