COURSE INFORMATION

Required Textbook:

Let the Part Play You: A Practical Approach to the Actor's Creative Process* by Anita Jesse (4 Rev Sub edition). ISBN-10: 0963965522

Most of your reading for this course will come from the above required text. The professor will make a copy available for you on reserve to read in the office throughout the semester if cost is prohibitive to acquiring this book. Since you would not be able to take that text away from the office to read, and if you wish to purchase your own text to be able to write/highlight/make notes, etc., used copies of this text can be ordered through online vendors for a very low cost. As well, the University Bookstore has copies of the text available for your purchase.

Required Viewing

Students are required to view at least one of the two University Playhouse productions during the semester in order to observe different actors at work in production:

Student Showcase
September 24-28

Suzette Who Set to Sea
November 19-23

Tickets for productions are available via the University Playhouse Box Office virtual ticketing platform for a nominal fee. Instructions for purchasing tickets will be provided during class. Please be advised that advance planning and purchasing is required.

Note: Please understand that viewing at least one of the performances listed is an absolute requirement of the course. Part of becoming a skilled actor is viewing other actors' successes and challenges. Clear your schedules now!*

Catalog Course Description:

This course focuses on introducing and developing the basic acting techniques of characterization, role analysis, stage movement, voice, and body control.

Course Introduction:

Welcome! This course is required of all Theatre majors and minors at East Texas A&M University and aims to teach specific fundamental techniques associated with the acting process per the Stanislavski System. The methodologies used to reach determined objectives/learning outcomes are as follows: guided discussions of readings and performances, rehearsals, workshops, performances, small group and large group activities, written and creative assignments, and quizzes.

This is a class that will be challenging, invigorating, and participatory. Please consider yourself to now be a part of a workshop rather than a classroom as it is usually understood. Begin by considering yourself to be part of a learning community where members support one another with suggestions and constructive criticism. Learning, observing, and sharing are central to this course. An attitude of awareness and openness are essential to your development and your contribution to the developments of the other members in this class. Please leave any worries, frustrations, competitiveness, and/or negativity outside the classroom door as much as possible. Active participation in discussion and presentation of projects within the class is not only welcome, it is an essential requirement.

Positive, helpful and constructive attitudes are also required! Presentations must be well prepared and shared with the understanding that questions and discussion will follow. The ongoing critique of performance is crucial to everyone's learning process. You should be aware that the vast majority of class time is composed of activities in which you are REQUIRED to actively participate. You will be up on your feet and moving almost every single day.

In this course, I will serve as your teacher, acting coach, guide, and outside eyes/ears as we work very specifically on your performance efforts. I ask that you trust me and approach the work with an open mind, an open heart, discipline and commitment, and a willingness to try new things. Then, we can work through artistic challenges together!

Student Learning Outcomes: By the end of this semester, the student will be able to:

1. demonstrate understanding and practical proficiency in executing the foundational principles of Stanislavski's approach to realistic acting for the stage.
2. display acquisition of effective skills in working with others via a disciplined, collaborative, professional, respectful, and productive approach throughout the rehearsal and performance processes.
3. exhibit proficiency in accepting and incorporating constructive criticism into their own performances, while developing the skills needed to insightfully evaluate both personal artistic efforts and the work of others.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Instructional / Methods / Activities Assessments:

Participation and Growth (20%): Note that attendance alone does not constitute participation.

As mentioned above, participation is vital in this class. This is an interactive environment and students must not only attend, but must also actively contribute to each class.

Furthermore, the completion of miscellaneous homework assignments will also be considered part of your participation grade. There may be quite a few of these short assignments and they are all important in the development of your skills as an actor. Further, as also mentioned above, each student is required to attend at least one of the University Playhouse's season productions this semester and scan in and out of the performance as evidence of attendance/successful audience member participation.

Positive, respectful and helpful attitudes are mandatory. I would like to make this very clear: I will make every effort to treat you with the respect that I believe you deserve. You are also expected to treat your peers and myself with that same respectful attitude. If I believe that a student is disrespectful, I will ask that person to leave the classroom. In this event, the student will receive a zero for any activities conducted that day in class and receive a zero for their participation grade for the day (no matter how long the student has been in class). Disrespect, rudeness, or negative attitudes will substantially lower the student's participation grade. The following are other reasons you would be asked to leave the class and receive a zero for the day's activities: sleeping in class, listening to headphones, reading the newspaper, working on other assignments, coming to class under the influence of any mind-altering substance not prescribed to you by a physician, or otherwise causing disruption or distraction during class (this includes cell phones going off and texting in class – turn them off when you come into the classroom and don't turn them on again until you leave). Finally, it should go without saying that refusal to participate in any activity or part of an activity during class will result in a substantial and appropriate loss of participation points for the student.

Note: Each student will receive one "pass" regarding participation in warm-up activities. This pass is intended to be used on a day that the student may not feel up to physical exertion. Please be advised: the "pass" does not include the day's activities beyond the warm-up period, and once the "pass" has been used for the semester – it is gone folks!

Previous acting experience will not guarantee you a good grade in this course. Significant growth and a genuine attempt within the class will. This is a class that regards self-competition as a goal. You and your peers will arrive at various levels, and you will leave at different levels. However, growth from the beginning to the end of the semester can be evaluated. I challenge you to push yourself to grow and succeed. This class is concerned with developing your skills to the best of your ability. The community in the class is here to help all of us grow and expand our abilities.

Participation will be calculated daily and Growth reflected upon/tabulated at the end of the semester. Under normal circumstances, if you are scheduled to work with a partner(s) on a day you are absent, your participation grade will be reduced double the amount it normally would for an absence. Responsibility to the people you are working with is essential for success in this class. Each student will begin with a mid-passing Participation and Growth grade of an 80. Strong effort or lack of effort during each class and over the course of the semester as a whole will either raise or lower that grade. Amongst other things, additional participation credit may be acquired through successful acting participation in University Playhouse productions.

Measures Course Learning Outcomes #1, #2, and #3.*

Quizzes (15%): There will be three short quizzes given in this class that will generally focus on the assigned readings, lectures, activities, etc. Quizzes will be comprised of matching, multiple choice, true/false, and/or short answer questions. Telling me that you were absent after the fact will not excuse you from a quiz. You must contact me before your absence, and approval for makeup quizzes will only be granted in cases of extreme emergencies (official documentation required). Under normal circumstances, make-up quizzes will not be given. Students arriving late to class should be aware... once the first quiz is handed in from a student in the class, no other quizzes will be distributed. So, make sure that you arrive on time and prepared! Each quiz is worth 5% of your final grade.

Measures Course Learning Outcome #1.*

Open Character Scene (15%): In pairs, students will rehearse, workshop, and perform a memorized Open Character Scene that has been selected by the instructor. The Open Character Scene will be rehearsed, workshopped (worth 5%), and presented as an improved performance (worth 10%). The length of the scenes will vary depending on the choices made by the actors but will generally run around 2 to 3 minutes. Further criteria for this assignment will be given at a later date.

Measures Course Learning Outcomes #1, #2, and #3.*

Contemporary Monologue (15%) Each student will work individually to select and perform a memorized contemporary monologue that is approximately 2 minutes long. The performance will be rehearsed, workshopped (worth 5%), and presented as an improved performance (worth 10%). Further criteria for this assignment will be given at a later date.

Measures Course Learning Outcomes #1 and #3.*

Characterization Collage Presentation (10%): Each student will create one characterization collage of at least ten images. The collage will be based on the character that the student is portraying in the Contemporary Monologue. The collage will be presented to the class via a planned, formal, developed, rehearsed presentation/speech by the student in which they utilize effective vocal production, physical grounding, expression, etc. This is a creative project that requires you to analyze your character in abstract and concrete terms in order to yield a more truthful portrayal onstage and then take that analysis one step further to develop an effective oral presentation. This is an individual activity. More specific criteria will be discussed at a later date.

Measures Course Learning Outcome #1.*

Scripted Scene Performance (15%): This will consist of a 5 minute scripted scene performance in which you work with another person. The scripted scene will be memorized, rehearsed, and shown as a performance for an invited audience during class at the end of the semester. Further criteria for this assignment will be given at a later date.

Measures Course Learning Outcomes #1, #2, and #3.*

Analysis Project (10%): For your final exam in this course, you will develop an Analysis Project in which you will write a Stanislavskian-inspired script/character analysis of approximately 3-5 pages (single spaced) on the play/character from your Scripted Scene. Although certain parts of this analysis must be generated and written independently, you may work with your partner to determine certain portions of this project as outlined by the instructor if you choose. Both students in the scene must turn in a separate copy of the analysis for grading. You will be graded on both content (70%) and construction (30%). So, please use your very best writing skills and execute the project with a commitment to using higher-level thinking to develop a detailed and comprehensive analysis. This project takes much time, involvement, and revision – start working on this early! Further criteria for this project will be given at a later date.

Measures Course Learning Outcomes #1, #2, and #3.*

Grading:

Semester Grading Scale: The following grading scale will be used to determine all individual grades as well as the student's overall grade in the course:

A=90%-100% (Exceptional Quality Work); B=80%-89% (Above Average Quality Work); C=70%-79% (Average Quality Work); D=60%-69% (Below Average Quality Work); F=0%-59% (Fails to Meet Acceptable Expectations in Quality of Work)

Note: Numerical correlations for individual assignments receiving awarded letter grades in this class may be calculated as follows: A 95%; B 85%; C 75%; D 65%.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS
Leomail:

It is a course expectation that you use your Leomail email address and that you check daily. There will be times that I need to contact you with important information and email is the speediest and easiest way of doing so.

Saving of Assignments:

Be aware that it is a course expectation that you keep copies of your original and graded assignments until you receive your final grade for the semester.

LMS:

All course sections offered by East Texas A&M University have a corresponding course shell in the MyLeo Online Learning Management System (LMS). Below are technical requirements.

LMS Requirements:

LMS Browser Support:

https://documentation.brightspace.com/EN/brightspace/requirements/all/browser_support.htm

Access and Navigation:

You will need your campus-wide ID (CWID) and password to log into the course. If you do not know your CWID or have forgotten your password, contact the Center for IT Excellence (CITE) at 903.468.6000 or helpdesk@etamu.edu.

COMMUNICATION AND SUPPORT
Contacting Dr. Klypchak:

Please feel free to visit me during my office hours at any time during the semester. I am here to help! If you can't make my office hours due to a scheduling conflict, please set up an appointment with me. It is not an imposition. Communicate, communicate, communicate! If something is occurring that is presenting you with difficulties in this class, let me know. Don't be intimidated. I am here to assist you in success and will do my best to help you achieve it. The easiest and most reliable way to contact me is via email. I check it fairly frequently. Please do not leave a message for me in the main department office.

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Course Specific Procedures:

Clothing: Dress for maximum freedom and movement. You may occasionally be lying and rolling on the ground. Fair warning – the floor may or may not be spotless. Wear comfortable shoes that you can move around in or bring other shoes. Heels, boots, short skirts, tight jeans, and low-cut shirts will all restrict movement (and consequently restrict your ability to participate in class). Do not wear jewelry that will affect your freedom of movement or speech. No hats are allowed to be worn during warm-ups, activities, performances, etc. Also, please keep your hair securely away from your face during all exercises, workshops, and performances in class – it is essential that I be able to see your face during all practical acting exercises. No one will be excused from a class activity because of clothing concerns; you are required to wear clothing that will not inhibit participation in class activities.

Attendance: I have designed this course for those serious students of the theatre who are committed to developing as artists and generating an exceptional product. With that said, serious students of the theatre do not skip class unless there is an emergency. In this practically based class, there is no such thing as an “excused” or “unexcused” absence. Class meetings are highly interactive in nature. You must come to class prepared to participate. It is also important to note that participation is a major component of your grade. Something to keep in mind: you must be present in order to participate. I expect you to practice/rehearse outside of class in preparation for in-class activities, I expect you to be familiar with any readings required, and I expect you to have completed all assignments, drills, etc. on time.

I will take roll at the very beginning of each class in order to aid in calculating your participation grade and tracking your attendance. If you are absent, you are making that choice, and I expect you to accept the consequences graciously and in a mature manner. It is your responsibility to remain informed of class activities if you are absent for any reason.

Prompt attendance is required at all classes. The formal attendance policy for this class is as follows. Under normal circumstances, you are allowed two emergency absences in this course with no attendance grading penalty (although your participation grade will still be lowered accordingly upon a missed class). Please note that it will prove very challenging if you miss at all as it is absolutely impossible to “make up” a missed performance-based class; I encourage you to avoid missing even one class if at all possible. Under normal circumstances, upon the third absence, the student will receive a deduction of three points from their final grade; upon the fourth absence, the student will receive another three points deduction from their final grade; upon the fifth absence, the student will receive another three points deduction from their final grade; due to the interactive nature of this course, under normal circumstances, upon the sixth absence the student will either be administratively dropped from, or receive an F in, the course (depending on the point in the semester).

Please be aware that missing a scheduled appointment/coaching time with me without significant and appropriate advance notification may also count as an absence. Keep up with your absences in this course – this is your responsibility. Do not ask me how many absences you have during the semester; I may not have that information readily available when you need it.

*for more information on the university attendance policy please go to the following link:
<http://www7.tamuc.edu/registrar/attendance.asp>.

Late Arrivals: To further foster a high level of commitment – and because the work we will be doing this semester will involve intensive focus – the class will adopt the following late entry policy. Students must be on time for every class. Entering a class late or leaving early is disruptive to the flow of the class and indicative of a less-than-disciplined/committed artist. Please be on time out of consideration to your learning process and the processes of others. If you are late for class, your participation grade will reflect this. The class will begin promptly at 12:30 p.m.! If you arrive after 12:35 p.m., please do not enter the classroom (you will be marked absent regardless). If you arrive within the five-minute grace entry period, please do so discretely in order to avoid disrupting the class activities/discussions. It is your responsibility to make sure that you find me after class and document your late attendance for the day; otherwise, your initial marked absence documented during roll will remain. Also, you are expected to stay until you are dismissed from class. A late arrival or early departure will significantly reduce your participation grade. Two late arrivals (within the five-minute grace period) or early departures (or any combination of the two) may be counted as one absence in the class.

Cell Phones: Please silence all cell phones upon entering the classroom. Except in cases of anticipated extreme emergency, please do not check messages or engage in text messaging during class. This is disruptive to the flow of the course.

Submission of Assignments: All assignments must be submitted in D2L or in hard copy to the instructor (depending on the assignment submission requirement requested by the instructor in class for each individual assignment). While you are welcome to email me any questions that you may have, please understand that under normal circumstances, I cannot accept emailed student work at this time.

Late Work: Workshops and Performances – under normal circumstances, a missed workshop or performance may not be made up. Late Written Work/Projects – late miscellaneous homework counting as part of Participation will not be accepted. Late written work/projects will be deducted a full letter grade each weekday after the assigned due date. This means that if you have to be absent for some reason on the day a written assignment is due, you must give your assignment to one of your classmates to hand in for you or submit it via D2L by the deadline – whichever has been outlined in class for the assignment in question, or you will receive a grading deduction. All assignments are due within the first five minutes of the class period unless I specify otherwise. At 12:36 p.m. on the day that the assignment is due, your assignment will receive one letter grade reduction in credit; at 12:30 p.m. the following day, another letter grade will be reduced, and so on. No late assignments will be accepted after one week past the original due date.

Extra Credit: As a general rule, there is no extra credit offered in this class – please, do not even ask. In the rare instance that an extra credit opportunity arises, that opportunity will be announced and equally available to all members of the class.

Adaptation of Assignments: Due to the fluid nature of this performance-based class, some assignments/scheduling may need to be adapted. All changes will be announced prior to implementation.

Food, Drink, and Gum: Please do not bring food or drinks into the classroom at any time (exception: you may bring bottled water with you to class). As this is a course focusing on practical performance, chewing gum is not allowed at any time during class.

Incompletes: Under normal circumstances, an Incomplete (X) will not be given for a final grade in this course.

Artistic Content: Playwrights and performers have explored a wide range of themes and viewpoints, using a variety of artistic approaches. Pieces will be selected by the students and/or instructor to aid student accomplishments in relation to the Course Learning Outcomes. The pieces chosen and presented may contain ideas, language, or depictions of behaviors/images that you personally find offensive or otherwise disturbing. Try to concentrate on the performance rather than your opinion about the material in such an instance. There is also a policy in this class that a performer is required to inform their audience that the performance piece may be offensive or triggering during the student's slate. Any class member is always welcome to leave the classroom for that particular performance and return afterward in this case.

Performance Material: All performance material will come from plays appropriate to the unit under study. No film scripts will be used in this class for performance purposes. This is a course in acting for the stage – not film. Although there is significant crossover, these two art forms are different in a number of ways. Further, when choosing material, a piece found on the internet or in a monologue/scene book that is not part of an actual play script available for you to read/analyze will not be acceptable. In order to work on a selection in this class, you must have access to the entire play from which the piece comes.

Syllabus Change Policy: The syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may make it necessary for the instructor to modify the syllabus during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance.

University-Specific Policies and Procedures:

Student Conduct:

All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment. The Code of Student Conduct is described in detail in the Student Guidebook.

AI Use Policy:

East Texas A&M University acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course. Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism). Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed. In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.

Students with Disabilities-- ADA Statement:

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities.
