COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

In this course, you will utilize the Learning Management Systems (LMS) D2L for instructional and learning opportunities, submitting assignments, participating in online synchronous and asynchronous discussions, accessing resources, and completing quizzes/tests. Additionally, you will need the knowledge and skills to use Microsoft Word, PowerPoint, and Outlook Email. If you have any issues with using the various systems or software, you must contact support services and notify the Instructor of the technical issue.

Instructional Methods

This course will be delivered via synchronous and asynchronous sessions via D2L. It will consist of live class sessions, pre-recorded lectures, group engagement activities, and various assignments, including experiential learning and practical application of the content areas. In addition, small lectures, discussion activities, and workshops may provide instruction during this course.

Student Responsibilities and Tips for Success in the Course

As a student in this course, you are responsible for engaging in active learning and reaching out to the Instructor if problems or challenges interfere with optimal learning. Communication is vital when engaged in a fully online, virtual environment.

Expectations for success include:

1. Always demonstrate professional behavior, including respect for the Instructor and peers; being open to feedback and guidance throughout this class and the program.
2. Adhered to the School of Social Work and University student code of conduct and NASW Code of Ethics.
3. Begin reading the assigned text and supplemental readings as soon as possible, focusing on completing all readings prior to engagement with the Instructor or peers.
4. Prepare to engage in live class sessions, discussions, and other activities so you can be a contributor as well as a receiver of knowledge and skills.

5. Actively participate in engagement activities, including live virtual class sessions, online discussions, and interactive learning opportunities -as this is vital for learning and success in both this course and the program.
6. Work ahead when possible. Completing assignments ahead of the due date so you are prepared to submit on the due date.
7. Sign in to the D2L course shell multiple times weekly to access updated announcements or posted resources.
8. Check your university email daily. This is the university, department, and Instructor's official method of communication.
9. Be open and focused on the "process" and not the "product," as earning this degree requires time, effort, work, growth in knowledge, skills, and abilities, along with personal and professional attributes.

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

- A = 90%-100% of total points
- B = 80%-89%
- C = 70%-79%
- D = 60%-69%
- F = 59% or Below

Evaluation for the course grade is according to the following formula:

Assessments	Value
Personal Supervisory Style Profile	35%
Grant Writing and Program Development: Group Project	50%
Interactive Application Activities / Discussions	15%
TOTAL	100%

Assessments

Personal Supervisory Style Profile (Appendix A)

Students are to apply knowledge of human behavior and the social environment when interviewing an individual, specifically a social work supervisor and to complete a Leadership Style profile on the supervisor. The profile outline includes values that are demonstrated in the personal style, personal range, and personal adaptability of the supervisor. This assignment will help the student to understand and provide knowledge in leadership, program development, administration, and evaluation. It allows for cognitive processes through theory integration (applying relevant social work theories to practices of supervision) and self-awareness, where the student assess how the supervisor may influence their supervisory style. Effective communication in this assignment provides affective processes (building rapport and responding with understanding and support).

The student is expected to develop clinical and organizational supervision skills. This project will facilitate an in-depth exploration of skills in administration, planning, and organizing of supervisors who work with of individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. To start - the student will compare the supervisor's style that he or she interviewed with the student's own leadership style, including style, range, and adaptability. Be prepared to discuss the results of your profile in class—three to five pages in length.

Grant Writing and Program Development: Group Project (Appendix B)

In groups of two or three students, write a formal grant proposal and submit that request to a public or private (rural/urban) granting agency using the format/components in handouts given to you by the instructor. This is an actual grant, and the proposal is to address real health or human service needs to focus specifically on either an urban, rural or community that intersects between rural and urban environments. It may include cognitive processes (research and informational gathering), a request for personnel, equipment, supplies, purchased services, or other resources. The beneficiary is to be an existing agency or other organization, e.g., your field agency, your place of employment, or some other social service organization you feel would benefit if new resources were made available to them. Through an affective process, it is expected that the students develop a genuine commitment to the project, where the grant writing will be persuasive to the funders, whereas the funds will be granted. To start - If you need to know of an agency that would appreciate your help, check with your instructor. The length of most grant applications is 10 pages; however, some granting agencies have a standardized format for submission, which may dictate the length of the grant proposal. Having the ability to communicate the project's rationale strengthens the argument for funding.

Students are to demonstrate their knowledge or learned skills by providing the instructor with a summary of the grant proposal project a minimum of two weeks in advance of the due date. The instructor will also set aside part of a class session to meet with each group, review their progress, and consult with students regarding the progress being made. Each team will give a 20-minute presentation to the class, using members of the class as their "grant review committee," such as those used by most grant-making or public agencies. This project will illustrate the cognitive and affective processes needed when writing proposals and grants to evaluate the needs of individuals, families, groups, organizations, and community practices. The presentations will consist of a 15-minute summary of the proposal and five minutes of questions.

Interactive Application Activities – Group Activity (Appendix C)

There will be three interactive activities related to proposals and grant writing. Each group will report their findings. The findings will be uploaded to D2L - Each student will upload their group's summary to D2L. A statement (two-paragraph summary) of three group activities/discussions.

- 1) One favored Leadership Style
- 2) Tips to writing a Successful Proposal
- 3) Tips to writing a Successful Grant

Due Date Policy

Late work will have an automatic 15-point deduction. All work must be completed by the last day of class.

Course Specific Procedures/Policies

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may require the Instructor to modify it during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance.

University Specific Procedures

Ethical Behavior

The School of Social Work expects all students to conduct themselves in an ethical, professional manner in the classroom and field settings consistent with the NASW Code of Ethics.

University Code of Conduct

Texas A&M University-Commerce has established standards of conduct to create and foster an environment that facilitates student learning and development. Students and university student groups are expected to conduct themselves in a manner that demonstrates respect for the rights and property of others and is consistent with the educational goals and mission of the university. This Code of Student Conduct ("Code") focuses on personal responsibility and accountability for students' actions and the impact those actions may have on the greater community. To access student academic and behavioral expectations for students refer to the Student Guidebook.

Students should also consult the Rules of Netiquette for more information regarding how to interact with students in an online forum: <https://www.britannica.com/topic/netiquette>

University Rules on Research

Students involved in conducting research and/or scholarly activities at Texas A&M University-Commerce must also adhere to standards set forth in University Procedure 15.99.03.R1 Ethics in Research, Scholarship, and Creative Work.

AI Use Policy

Texas A&M University-Commerce acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that can generate text or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the course instructor.

Any use of such software must be documented. Undocumented use constitutes academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow the use of such software entirely for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided, the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources. [Draft 2, May 25, 2023]

Course Engagement

Final Evaluation and Grade Depends on both Classroom attendance and Participation:

Inadequate participation or lack of required time commitment in each class significantly affects students' grades. No matter the course venue, students must engage in a comparable amount of time. Expectations of both Face-to-Face classes and those with Online components include time spent reading and studying course material.

To earn a level of competency within a specific course, students must demonstrate both mastery of content and active engagement.

Mastery of content areas is evidenced by successful completion of course assignments such as written papers, group project deliverables, tests/quizzes, and other tangible products designed by instructors to evaluate knowledge and skills.

Additionally, the Social Work Profession is built upon human interactions and building human relationships – which is defined as engagement. Engagement is defined as meaningful involvement in interactions with the Instructor, peers, and outside stakeholders as appropriate (such as contacting a social worker to interview for a required assignment). Within the classroom setting, whether virtual or F2F, students must actively participate in 80% of engagement activities as outlined by individual instructors. These activities may include but are not limited to, participation in live, synchronous virtual classes, attending a Face-to-Face course when appropriate, interacting with peers in posted discussions, and collaborating in group interactive projects.

Students must meet standards for content mastery on tangible assignments and meet the threshold of active engagement of the time set during a semester by the Instructor.

Instructors are experts in each course content area and set the standards for students to meet to successfully complete the course.

Student Conduct

Students preparing to become professional social workers must adhere to the University Code of Conduct, Department Code of Conduct and the National Association of Social Workers (NASW) Code of Ethics.

Department Code of Conduct

The Academic and Professional Issues Committee (API) hearing is the formal path of due process for a student in regard to the concern being expressed. A student will be referred to the School of Social Work's API by faculty, field instructors, or faculty field liaisons when a concern arises regarding academic and student conduct and/or professional preparation. When “a student who fails to meet the professional expectation of the field for which he/she is preparing may be suspended from further study in that program by the department administering that program” as demonstrated through ethical and/or legal violations; aberrant disregard for School of Social Work Code of Conduct or other concerns as determined by the Academic and Professional Issues Committee.

Graduate Students have the right to appeal to the Graduate Dean according to University Procedure 13.99.99.R0.39.

Undergraduate Students have the right to appeal to the Dean of the College of Education and Human Services according to University Procedure 13.99.99.R0.41.

APPENDIX A
Grading Rubric
Personal Supervisory Style Profile Paper
(100 points)

Description:

To integrate the knowledge acquired about social work supervision during the course, you will interview a supervisor in the human service arena. Write a paper reflecting on your interview and a plan for development along your career path. This assignment will lead you to analyze models of practice in social work supervision critically.

General Instructions:

Each student will submit a reflection paper based on an in-depth (or series of) interview(s) with a supervisor. Students may select a current or former field instructor, on-the-job social work supervisor, co-worker in a supervisor role, fellow student, or acquaintance in a social work supervision position. Family members are not acceptable.

Students will develop the interview questions based on the course content regarding supervision and leadership. Use the outline and rubric below to develop the interview questions, write and submit the 800-1000 word-count paper.

Content Outline:

Introduction

Interviewee' approach and experiences

- Appointment to the supervision position/role
- Administrative, educational, and supportive tasks
- Leadership
- Inclusion and Equity in the workplace
- Ethical issues or dilemmas in supervision

Analysis of the interviewee's approach and experience

Preferred perspective(s) and approach(es) as a leader and social work supervisor

APPENDIX B
Grading Rubric
Grant Writing and Program Development: Group Project Grant Proposal
(100 points)

Description:

This grant writing assessment is a service grant in response to an actual request for proposal (RFP).

Each team (2-3 students) will write a formal grant proposal to a granting institution using the format/components of the grant guides. Students will submit the written grant proposal to the potential beneficiary institution for future submission. This assignment will be assessed using a generic to evaluate service grants (See Rubric on the following page). The instructor will be available throughout the semester for teams to consult, review their progress, and respond to any project-related questions or concerns.

Instructions:

Each team (determined by students) will identify an existing institution, e.g., your field agency or other social service organization, that can benefit from this service-learning experience.

Teams will identify and complete an RFP that aligns with the institution's future project.

Teams are to provide the instructor with the grant application selected and the name of the organization or agency beneficiary before writing the grant proposal.

Students will complete the RFP based on the established format provided by the granting institution. The length of most grant applications is 10 pages; however, each funding agency establishes the length of the grant proposal. The rubric might be different from the required information in the RFP. If so, make sure to submit all required content in the rubric, although it might not be requisite in the RFP. The assignment grade will be based on all the criteria below.
