English 100 Learning Outcomes

In English 100, students can expect to

- Practice critical reading skills
- Build a rhetorical vocabulary and individualized writing process
- Develop original responses and make claims about a range of texts
- Use evidence to support claims, including quoting, paraphrasing, and summarizing
- Place sources in conversation through synthesis
- Organize ideas in paragraphs
- Demonstrate revision and reflection

These Learning Outcomes are designed to align with the Learning Outcomes for English 1301.

Instructional Methods

Through readings, in-class discussions, and small response papers, students develop critical reading practices as well as individualized writing processes. The course begins with discussing the writing process (generally) as well as establishing a rhetorical vocabulary to aid in analysis. Anchor texts from ENG 1301 will be used to help students “breakdown” complex texts and develop original responses that build writing skills. The course concludes with a portfolio and reflection assignment.

Collection of Data for Measuring Institutional Effectiveness

The texts will be part of a portfolio created on your behalf and will be measured to ensure that our program "promotes practices that result in higher student academic achievement; an enhanced student experience; aligned and transparent decisions; and readily available information for improvement, accountability, and accreditation" (see "Department of Institutional Effectiveness," <http://www.tamuc.edu/aboutus/institutionalEffectiveness/default.aspx>). This is solely an assessment of program effectiveness and in no way affects students' course grades or GPAs.
