COURSE DESCRIPTION

Catalogue Description of the Course

COUN 528. Introduction to Group Dynamics and Procedures. Three Semester Hours. A study of group development, dynamics, and theories in relation to group counseling. Leadership styles, techniques and roles are explored, and ethical issues related to group interventions are discussed. Prerequisite: COUN 510 or consent of instructor.

General Course Information

As one of the core courses in the ETAMU Counseling Program, this course should be taken early in the student's program, but not first. The course includes studies that provide both theoretical and experiential understandings of group purpose, development, dynamics, counseling theories, group counseling methods and skills, and other group approaches. A grade of "B" or higher must be earned in COUN 501, 510, 528, and 516 for admission to candidacy status (or its equivalent for those seeking school counselor certification only), which is required before practicum (COUN 551).

Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs):

Measurement 1 (Knowledge):

I. Journal Entries (10 total journals). Students will use journal entries to explore personal group counseling experiences and compare and contrast their personal process with material learned from lectures and readings.

II. Group Paper. In this paper, students will demonstrate their understanding of group dynamics and processes, including therapeutic impact factors, developing group cohesion, and ethically and culturally relevant strategies.

Measurement 2 (Skills):

I. Group Paper. Students will develop a culturally and ethically competent counseling group guided by their chosen counseling theory. This process will include a description of the group development, logistical considerations, and group session plans and goals.

*All SLOs address the respective CACREP Standards evident in the syllabus.

Competency 006 (Counseling). The school counselor understands how to provide effective counseling services to individuals and small groups.

Competency 010 (Professionalism). The school counselor understands and complies with ethical, legal, and professional standards relevant to the profession.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

In this class, you will utilize the Learning Management System (LMS) entitled D2L for portions of instructional and learning methods and submitting assignments. You will need to utilize other technologies such as Microsoft Word, PowerPoint, etc. If you have issues with this system, it is your responsibility to contact the help desk immediately.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Instructional Methods

This course consists of lecture, discussion, experiential, reading and writing assignments, guided practice and role-plays, in-class activities, and other experiential activities- course is web enhanced. Self-reflection, self-evaluation, and offering and receiving feedback are also important instructional methods in this course.

In addition to other requirements, this course involves an experiential component of at least 10 hours designed as training for group membership and leadership. The group experiences are not designed to substitute for therapy.

Client Role

You will be in a client role and in a counselor role in different role-plays and activities in this course. These roles are essential and mandatory to your learning, demonstration, and assessment of basic counseling skills. If you are not prepared to engage in these roles, you are recommended to drop this course, as it will negatively influence your grade. What you share in these role-plays (or real-plays) is entirely up to you and your comfort level. As such, all students are held to the highest privacy and confidentiality standards and must abide by the current ACA code of ethics. You have the right and personal responsibility to share only as deeply as you want. At the same time, if you find yourself not wishing to engage in these exercises, you may prefer to drop the course.

Small Group Experience (10 clock hours group participation)

Students will gain experience as group members through participation in 10 clock hours of departmentally approved experiential small group activity during one academic term.

You will also facilitate a counseling group in classroom role-play situations. You are to meet with your co-leader and plan your session. You will conduct a counseling group in classroom role-play situations. You are to have enough exercises/ techniques to process a 60-minute group. The group is to have time for an opening, an exercise, processing the exercise, and termination. You will have to plan your time carefully. A handout that summarizes the content of the group is required. Please print enough copies to distribute to classmates and the course instructor. A debriefing will follow each group session for the leaders. The debriefing is to take no longer than 15 minutes.

Group leaders and group members will undertake every reasonable assurance of confidentiality. The group experiences are not designed to substitute for therapy.

The Focus of the Small Groups

The purpose of this course is to teach you about the functioning of groups. The bias of the instructor is that YOU are the most important component in the group process -- not merely you as a technician. Thus, the focus of the course is on how you bring yourself as a person into your small groups. The purpose of these small group activity is not to provide group therapy. However, your interactions in group will hopefully be real, based upon real concerns, and the group will hopefully be therapeutic. Thus, you are expected to participate in a personal way with a focus on sharing your thoughts and feelings as it pertains to what it is like for you to be a part of your experiential group. You are expected to give feedback to others and also to listen to and consider feedback you receive from others. The focus is not so much on resolving your personal problems. Rather, the focus will be more on here-and-now issues as they emerge within the context of the small groups and exploration of any of the personal topics you bring into your group. Hopefully, this class will be therapeutic -- a catalyst for your growth and a path for increasing your awareness of yourself in a group situation. You are not expected to disclose your deepest personal concerns, yet you are expected to deal with your personal reactions to what is taking place in the here-and-now context of the unfolding of the group. It is our expectation that members will engage in risk-taking as a way of expanding personal boundaries and that each participant will take active steps to create a safe climate of support.

Each of you is expected to focus on those personal areas that have the most meaning to you, both personally and professionally. You will be asked to talk about yourself in personal ways and explore real issues that are of concern to you, yet it is up to you to decide what personal topics you want to examine.

Confidentiality and Ethics

In this course, you are entering an experience that involves a fair amount of role-playing and practice interviewing. Naturally, in the course of discussion, it is possible for a student colleague to say something personally important and confidential. It is your duty to maintain confidentiality. Confidentiality is extremely important to the integrity of this course, enrolling in this course carries with it the responsibility to maintain confidentiality. Confidentiality cannot be guaranteed in any situation, but we are collectively accountable to maintain a safe, trusting environment throughout the course including experiential activities, and in-class conversations. While it can be compelling to share personal information about class members with others, all students are bound by the ACA ethical code of confidentiality with respect to any material shared by other members of the class. The disclosure of personal information to anyone outside this class would be considered unethical and you will face consequences for disclosing it to non-class members. Please explore any concerns you have about confidentiality during class time, after class, or via private communication with the instructor.

When students demonstrate personal limitations that might impede future performance, or consciously violate ethical standards, and are ineffective and harmful to clients, then these students will not receive the instructor's endorsement to continue with the program. (ACA Ethical Standards)

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

As a student in this course, you are responsible for the active learning process. Expectations of this course include the following:

1. You are expected to display professionalism at all times. Be respectful of your professor and peers. Be open to feedback, as you will receive this throughout the program.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

2. Prepare for classes. Complete any and all readings prior to class time.
3. Complete all assignments by the deadline.
4. Adhere to the university student code of conduct.
5. Participate. During face-to-face classes, you are expected to actively participate in all activities and discussion. In the online format, you are expected to participate in all online discussions/activities. This is crucial to your learning.
6. All writing assignments must be done according to APA 6th edition.
7. Regularly check your University email. My suggestion is to check this at least once a day as your instructors and others from the department and University may contact you.
8. Begin your readings ASAP. Sometimes it may take more than one attempt to digest the material.
9. Deadlines are the last possible moment something is due—not the first moment to start. Work ahead. I realize this may not always be possible; however, when you can, do so.
10. Be open to the process. This degree takes time, work, effort, and growth.

Assignments/Assessments

**Note. All assignments are to be submitted in D2L

Case Study: Theories & Techniques of Group Counseling (10 points)

This short paper gives you the opportunity to apply a group counseling theory to a specific client scenario. Choose one group theory discussed in Chapter 4 (e.g., Cognitive-Behavioral, Person-Centered, Adlerian, Gestalt, etc.).

Paper Guidelines (2–3 pages, APA 7 format):

1. Case Summary – Summarize the vignette provided in class (or one chosen with instructor approval).
2. Theory Selection – Identify the theory you are applying and explain why it is appropriate.
3. Application – Describe how you would structure the group, set goals, and use techniques consistent with this theory.
4. Leader Role – Discuss the role of the group counselor within this theoretical approach.
5. Expected Outcomes – Reflect on what therapeutic factors you would anticipate emerging from this approach.

Submission: Due Sunday, Sept 15, by 11:59 PM in D2L.

Mini Group Formation Project (10 points)

This project is an early opportunity to practice designing a group outline. Using Chapter 5 as a guide, create a 1–2 page plan for a hypothetical counseling group. This will prepare you for the larger Group Proposal assignment later in the course.

Content Requirements (1–2 pages, APA 7 format):

1. Group Purpose & Population – Identify the type of group, its purpose, and target members.
2. Setting & Size – Describe where the group would meet and how many members it would include.
3. Recruitment & Screening – Outline how you would recruit members and screen for fit.
4. Membership Considerations – Identify at least one ethical and one multicultural issue to consider in group formation.

Submission: Due Sunday, Sept 22, by 11:59 PM in D2L.

Growth Group Experience (Required, Not Graded)

To become an effective group leader, you must first understand what it feels like to be a group member. For this reason, CACREP requires counseling students to complete at least 10 hours of direct group participation as part of their training.

In this course, you will participate in a Growth Group designed to support your personal and professional development as a counselor. These groups are not therapy. Instead, they provide a structured opportunity to:

- Experience group membership from the inside.
- Explore your own reactions, patterns, and roles in a group setting.
- Develop insight into the stages of group development and group dynamics.
- Strengthen self-awareness and empathy, which are essential for group leadership.

Attendance is required. While the experience is not graded, active engagement and respectful participation are essential. This assignment is a cornerstone of your counselor preparation and will deepen your understanding of the skills and challenges involved in leading groups.

Growth Group Journals (3 points each – 15 points total)

The Growth Group Journals are an essential part of your Growth Group Experience. Beginning with the first group meeting, you will submit a weekly journal entry that captures your reflections as a group member.

These journals are not summaries of what others share. Instead, they are opportunities for you to:

- Reflect on your personal experience in the group.
- Notice your thoughts, feelings, and reactions as a participant.
- Connect your observations to group stages, dynamics, and member roles.
- Identify therapeutic factors (e.g., universality, cohesion, catharsis, interpersonal learning) and how they contributed to the effectiveness of the group.
- Deepen your self-awareness as both a member and a future group leader.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Format Requirements:

- Typed, 12-point font, double-spaced
- 1–2 pages in length (maximum 2 pages)
- Written in a personal, reflective style

Submission:

- Journals are due every Sunday by 11:59 PM
- Each entry is worth 3 points; five entries total (15 points)

Growth Group Journals Rubric

Criteria	3 – Exceeds Expectations	2 – Meets Expectations	1 – Below Expectations
Depth of Reflection	Provides thoughtful, insightful reflection that demonstrates strong self-awareness and growth as a counselor-in-training.	Provides adequate reflection with some self-awareness; insight is limited or surface-level.	Provides little or no reflection; superficial description of events; lacks self-awareness.
Connection to Group Process	Clearly connects personal reactions to group stages, dynamics, and member roles with accurate application of course concepts.	Makes some connection to group stages or dynamics, though vague or inconsistent.	No meaningful connection to group stages, dynamics, or roles.
Therapeutic Factors	Identifies and analyzes therapeutic factors (e.g., cohesion, universality, altruism, catharsis) and explains how they influenced the group's effectiveness.	Mentions at least one therapeutic factor but explanation is limited or unclear.	No mention or inaccurate discussion of therapeutic factors.
Clarity and Format	Writing is clear, well-organized, professional; meets all formatting requirements (typed, 12-pt font, double-spaced, 1–2 pages); submitted on time.	Writing is generally clear; minor lapses in organization or formatting; may be up to one day late.	Writing is unclear, disorganized, incomplete; does not follow format; significantly late or not submitted.

Group Observation Assignment (15 points)

Groups exist in every setting — clinical, educational, professional, and social. This assignment is designed to help you recognize group dynamics in action and apply the concepts you are learning in this course.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

You will select a group to observe and write a short paper (2–3 pages) analyzing what you see. Your goal is to describe and evaluate the group through the lens of group counseling theory and practice.

Choosing a Group

You may observe either a real group or a fictional group (from a film, television show, or documentary).

- Real groups may include psychoeducational groups, self-help groups, support groups, or therapeutic groups.
  - If you choose a real group, you must:
    - Obtain permission from the facilitator and the group.
    - Observe without interfering in group functioning.
    - Protect confidentiality by omitting all identifying details.
- Fictional groups may be selected from media (e.g., a therapy group in a film, a support group in a TV series). Be thoughtful about your choice so you can analyze the dynamics meaningfully.

Instructor pre-approval of your selected group is required.

Paper Guidelines

Your 2–3 page paper should:

1. Describe the group: type, setting, purpose, and membership (omit identifying information if real).
2. Identify key group dynamics: roles, communication patterns, leadership, cohesion, and conflict.
3. Apply course concepts: connect your observations to theories, stages of group development, or cultural considerations discussed in class.
4. Reflect: What did you learn about groups through this observation? How does it inform your development as a counselor?

Format: Typed, 12-point font, double-spaced, APA style for any references.

Criteria	3 – Exceeds Expectations	2 – Meets Expectations	1 – Below Expectations
Personal Reflection &amp; Self-Awareness	Provides thoughtful, well-developed reflection that demonstrates strong self-awareness and counselor growth. Shares meaningful insights into reactions, patterns, and learning.	Provides adequate reflection with some self-awareness; insights are general or surface-level.	Provides little or no reflection; vague or purely descriptive with no insight.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Criteria	3 – Exceeds Expectations	2 – Meets Expectations	1 – Below Expectations
Connection to Group Process	Clearly links personal experience to group stages, dynamics, and member roles; applies course concepts accurately.	Makes some connection to group process, though vague, inconsistent, or incomplete.	No meaningful connection to group stages, dynamics, or roles.
Therapeutic Factors	Identifies and thoughtfully explains therapeutic factors (e.g., universality, cohesion, catharsis, altruism) and how they contributed to group effectiveness.	Mentions at least one therapeutic factor but explanation is limited, vague, or incomplete.	No mention or inaccurate discussion of therapeutic factors.
Clarity, Format &amp; Timeliness	Writing is clear, well-organized, professional; meets all format requirements (typed, 12-pt font, double-spaced, 1–2 pages) and submitted on time.	Writing is generally clear; minor issues with format, organization, or 1-day late.	Writing is unclear, disorganized, incomplete, does not meet format, or is late by more than 1 day/not submitted.

Group Proposal Assignment (25 points)

This assignment allows you to demonstrate your ability to design a counseling group that integrates theory, group type/setting considerations, therapeutic factors, ethics, and multicultural competence.

You will create a comprehensive group proposal for a counseling group you would like to organize and lead in a mental health setting.

Proposal Content Guidelines

1. Introduction & Rationale – Purpose, target population, need.
2. Theoretical Framework – Group counseling theory guiding goals and interventions.
3. Group Structure – Format (open/closed, voluntary/mandated), length, group size, setting, member recruitment and screening.
4. Goals & Objectives – Clear, measurable, clinically relevant.
5. Session Outline – Brief plan for each session, showing flexibility.
6. Therapeutic Factors – Identify which factors you expect to emerge and how you will facilitate them.
7. Multicultural & Ethical Considerations – Culturally responsive and ethically sound design.
8. Evaluation & Outcomes – Plan for measuring effectiveness.
9. Conclusion – Value of the group to the setting.

Group Leadership Assignment (25 points)

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Each student will plan and facilitate a 30–45 minute group session with classmates, followed by a critical reflection paper.

Leadership Session:

- Design and lead a session with clear goals and activities.
- Demonstrate awareness of group stages, member roles, and group dynamics.
- Facilitate group process with professionalism, cultural responsiveness, and ethical sensitivity.
- Observe and respond to therapeutic factors as they arise.

Critical Reflection Paper (4–6 pages, APA 7)

1. Describe your leadership session.
2. Analyze group dynamics observed (stages, roles, cohesion, conflict).
3. Evaluate your leadership skills: strengths, challenges, impact.
4. Identify and analyze therapeutic factors that emerged and how they influenced group effectiveness.
5. Reflect on group type and setting considerations: how would leadership strategies change in different contexts?
6. Integrate theory, multicultural competence, and ethics.
7. Identify areas for growth as a group leader.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

Browser support

D2L is committed to performing key application testing when new browser versions are released. New and updated functionality is also tested against the latest version of supported browsers. However, due to the frequency of some browser releases, D2L cannot guarantee that each browser version will perform as expected. If you encounter any issues with any of the browser versions listed in the tables below, contact D2L Support, who will determine the best course of action for resolution. Reported issues are prioritized by supported browsers and then maintenance browsers.

Supported browsers are the latest or most recent browser versions that are tested against new versions of D2L products. Customers can report problems and receive support for issues. For an optimal experience, D2L recommends using supported browsers with D2L products.

Maintenance browsers are older browser versions that are not tested extensively against new versions of D2L products. Customers can still report problems and receive support for critical issues; however, D2L does not guarantee all issues will be addressed. A maintenance browser becomes officially unsupported after one year.

Note the following:

- Ensure that your browser has JavaScript and Cookies enabled.
- For desktop systems, you must have Adobe Flash Player 10.1 or greater.
- The Brightspace Support features are now optimized for production environments when using the Google Chrome browser, Apple Safari browser, Microsoft Edge browser, Microsoft Internet Explorer browser, and Mozilla Firefox browsers.

Communication with your professors is key to your professional growth. I am here to support and guide you along your academic journey. With that being said, I cannot help you if you do not communicate with me. Please make an appointment if you have any concerns or questions. Because I teach in different locations, email is the best way to reach me. I will attempt to answer all emails within 24 hours, Monday-Friday, but at times will need up to 72 hours to do so. When emailing, please use your university email and address me with courtesy and respect.

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Course Specific Procedures/Policies

Written assignments are due on the day noted in the syllabus. All papers are due at the beginning of the class period. Late papers will have 10% deduction per day late from the final score.

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may make it necessary for the instructor to modify the syllabus during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Student Conduct

All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment. The Code of Student Conduct is described in detail in the Student Guidebook.

AI use policy [Draft 2, May 25, 2023]

East Texas A&M University acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course.

Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.
