Course Description

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Students will be able to define basic statistical terminology and concepts.
2. Students will be able to identify and summarize a research problem in a statistical project.
3. Students will be able to collect data from various databases.
4. Students will be able to analyze, interpret and report statistical findings for a research problem in a statistical project.
5. Students will be able to analyze data using computer software.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

This online course requires the use of a computer and/or laptop to complete assessments. D2L is the course management tool that is an integral part of this course. Students are required to check D2L on a regular basis to keep abreast of course developments. Several D2L features are utilized throughout the course including email, course documents, grade center, and external links. In addition, this course requires a significant amount of online activity. In order for students to participate and progress in this course the following is required:

1. Basic computer skills
 - a. sending and retrieving emails
 - b. the ability to open files and attaching files for course assignments
 - c. locating websites and other resources on the internet
2. Internet Connectivity
 - a. reliable and regular access to an internet connection
 - b. alternative locations for internet access (i.e. on-campus library, friend's house)
3. A flash drive to serve as a backup for files created for this course
4. A Windows or Macintosh desktop or laptop computer. In addition, other device suggestions are listed below.
 - a. Windows 10 or newer or Macintosh – OS 10.13 (High Sierra) or higher
 - b. The device should have an updated browser.
 - c. The device must have the ability to access D2L (Learning Management System)
 - d. Microsoft Office 365 and Adobe Acrobat Reader
 - e. Pop-up block settings disabled

Note: Chromebooks and Mobile devices may not provide full access to the course.

Netiquette: Netiquette guidelines are used to govern online behavior. It is the expectation that all students in the course will contribute to the learning environment in a respectful manner when posting information in this course. In addition, there is the expectation that there will be some level of academic discourse. The link below provides some helpful reminders that can be referred to as a guide to assist students when posting information online in this course. <http://www.albion.com/netiquette/corerules.html>

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

1. Students are responsible for reviewing the course syllabus and course schedule to keep abreast of course activities.
2. Students are expected to check their email and D2L announcements regularly.
3. Students are encouraged to manage their time while taking this course. It is suggested that students dedicate time to work on their classwork on a regular basis.
4. Students are encouraged to communicate regularly with the instructor and peers.

Note: There are a number of free resources available to students. These sources include but are not limited to: (a) the campus library, (b) IT support and (c) the Writing Center.

Assessments

ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION:

This is an online course. Unlike the traditional face to face course this course does not require you to show up in a specific classroom on specific dates and time. However, both attendance and participation is required and is essential to your performance in this course. Students will be required to make a consistent effort to complete all online course work. It is the student's responsibility to check D2L throughout the week for any announcements, updates and/or to keep abreast of what is going on in the course.

Students are allotted three (3) unexcused absences from this course. If a student exceeds these absences it could result in a failing grade or removal from the course. In the case of an absence or an emergency, the student must provide the instructor with the appropriate documentation (i.e. doctor's note, police report, etc.) via email directly to the instructor's email within 48 hours (2 days) following the absence, medical or personal emergency. Verbal excuses will not be accepted. Students must follow this procedure in order to make-up any assignments.

Attendance and participation is worth 5% of the total grade.

ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY:

There is one annotated bibliography assigned in this course. The annotated bibliography is designed to assist students with collecting research for their reflection paper in the course. Students will be responsible for annotating 20 articles for this assignment. The annotated bibliography must be 12-point font, Times New Roman and in APA format. The annotated bibliography is worth 5% final grade.

LEARNING CHECKS (10):

There are 10 learning checks in this course. The learning checks are short quizzes which include about 5 to 10 questions and are designed to keep students current with the assigned weekly readings. The learning checks will be “open notes” or “open book” and timed. Students are not allowed to confer in any way electronically, by phone, or in person-with anyone else. The learning checks will include a variety of objective questions, such as true/false, multiple choice and short answer questions. The learning checks will be administered in D2L. The learning checks is worth 10% of the final grade.

RESEARCH ARTICLE SUMMARY (2):

There are two research article summaries assigned in this course. The research article summaries are designed to assist students with collecting research for their reflection paper in the course. The research article summaries must be 12-point font, Times New Roman and in APA format. A sample research article summary will be provided in D2L as guide to assist students with this assignment. The research article summaries combined are worth 10% final grade.

STATISTICAL PROJECT:

There is one statistical project assigned in this course. Students will select a crime of their choice to research, collect statistical data, analyze their results and interpret their findings. The statistical project will include an introduction, literature review, data analysis section and a conclusion. Students will need to use peer-reviewed research journal articles, textbooks and other sources of information to support their research in this paper. The statistical project will be between five (5) to seven (7) pages in length, double-spaced, 12-font, Times New Roman, must include 15-20 references and in APA format. The reflection paper is worth 10% final grade.

EXAMINATIONS (3):

There are three examinations in this course. The examinations are designed to test students' knowledge of the course content. The examinations will be “open notes” or “open book” and timed. Students are not allowed to confer in any way electronically, by phone, or in person-with anyone else during the examination. The examination questions will include a variety of objective questions, such as true/false, multiple choice and short answer questions. The examinations will be administered in D2L. Note: The final exam in this course is not cumulative. The examinations combined are worth a total of 60% of the final grade.

GRADING

The weight of the assessments in this course are listed below.

Attendance/Participation	5%
--------------------------	----

Annotated Bibliography	5%
Learning Checks (10)	10%

Interaction with Instructor Statement

Any communications in this course will be either in-person, via email or through D2L.

Please refer to me as Professor or Dr. Horton.

If a question arises in this course, students are encouraged to look for the answer first before contacting the instructor. Two reliable sources in this course are the course syllabus and announcements in D2L. If after checking these sources a student has questions, please contact the instructor for assistance.

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Course Specific Procedures/Policies

ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION

This is an online course. Unlike the traditional face to face course this course does not require you to show up in a specific classroom on specific dates and time. However, both attendance and participation is required and is essential to your performance in this course. Students will be required to make a consistent effort to complete all online course work. It is the student's responsibility to check D2L throughout the week for any announcements, updates and/or to keep abreast of what is going on in the course.

Students are allotted three (3) unexcused absences from this course. If a student exceeds these absences it could result in a failing grade or removal from the course. In the case of an absence or an emergency, the student must provide the instructor with the appropriate documentation (i.e. doctor's note, police report, etc.) via email directly to the instructor's email within 48 hours (2 days) following the absence, medical or personal emergency. Verbal excuses will not be accepted. Students must follow this procedure in order to make-up any assignments.

Attendance and participation is worth 5% of the total grade

CITATION STYLE

Students are required to use APA (American Psychological Association) citation style and format in this course. Students are encouraged to review the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (7th ed.) or similar APA Citation Style resource.

EXTRA CREDIT

No individualized extra credit work will be permitted in this course. Why? Extra credit is unfair to students who do their work and complete it on time. However, extra credit may be offered to the whole class for a variety of activities that go beyond what is anticipated in the course syllabus.

LATE OR MISSED ASSIGNMENTS

All assessments in this course must be submitted on the due date and times specified (Central Standard Time). Last submissions for good cause in the case of an absence or an emergency can be accepted. The student must provide the instructor with the appropriate documentation (i.e. doctor's note, police report, etc.) via email directly to the instructor's email within 48 hours (2 days) following the absence, medical or personal emergency. Verbal excuses will not be accepted. Students must follow this procedure in order to make-up any assignments. Last submissions with good cause will be reduced by a full letter grade (i.e. 10%) for each day the assignment is late.

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may make it necessary for the instructor to modify the syllabus during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance.

University Specific Procedures

AI Use in Courses

East Texas A and M University acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course.

Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.
