Course Description

MUS 100B.012 (Concert Band) is a one-hour credit course designed primarily for music majors. The goal of this course is to provide members with high-quality performance experiences of artistically meritorious repertoire, including significant ensemble works of the past and present.

Course Content and Student Learning Objectives

Through engagement in this course, students will:

- Demonstrate an understanding of individual, section, and ensemble intonation and rhythmic accuracy, along with fundamental and advanced instrumental techniques required by a variety of pieces in the wind band repertoire.
- Convey expressive, characterful performances of various wind band works that represent diverse compositional and musical styles, as well as a variety of time periods throughout history.
- Articulate musical ideas through the use of standard musical vernacular pertaining to intervals, music notation, chord structure, rhythm/meter, harmonic texture, form, music symbols, and terms referring to dynamics, tempo, and articulation.
- Develop and apply problem-solving skills to identify and correct problems pertaining to pitch, rhythm/meter, articulation, phrasing, and dynamics within an ensemble rehearsal setting, as well as small-group sectionals.
- Communicate with guest composers via Q&A sessions
- Communicate with guest artists/educator interaction & Q&A sessions

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

GRADING:

Your final grade will be determined by:

(60%) Music Preparation: Obvious, detailed preparation of music (before rehearsal and sectionals). Rehearsals are not for individual practice, they are for group collaboration. When students are not prepared for rehearsal, they keep the group from making progress. It is expected that students come to rehearsal with their part thoroughly learned so they can contribute to the group's success.

(20%) Performances and Assessments: Participation and punctuality in performances, sectionals, or other musical assessments (concerts, recording sessions, etc.).

NOTE: sound checks are considered part of the performance.

(20%) Professionalism: This pertains to the degree of professionalism exhibited in rehearsals, performances, class meetings, or guest lectures as well as timely and clear communication of illness, conflicts, concerns, etc., as would be expected of a professional educator or musician. Attendance and promptness to sectionals and rehearsals are expected. The time to start practicing professionalism is now.

Required Sectionals will be held every week. The principal player in each section is responsible for coordinating the sectional and informing the director of any absences from sectionals via the weekly sectional attendance form.

Attendance Policy:

Since each member of the Concert Band is critical to the ensemble's success, all students must be present at each rehearsal and sectional and participate fully in each class regardless of modality unless the absence falls under the excused absence policy.

Communication with the instructor about any absences is of the utmost importance. Excused absences are illness with documentation, family emergency, or a university-related event or activity (with prior approval). As with professional ensembles, students are expected to secure a qualified substitute for the rehearsal in advance. A full description of the substitute process will be discussed in the first rehearsal. Potential absences other than those listed above should be addressed directly with the conductor at the beginning of the semester or as early as possible. The final classification of absences will be at the sole discretion of the conductor.

- One unexcused absence = a maximum grade of B
  - Two unexcused absences = a maximum grade of C
  - Three unexcused absences = a maximum grade of D
  - Four unexcused absences = a maximum grade of F
- An unexcused absence from a performance may result in an automatic grade of F and dismissal from the ensemble.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

- Tardies accumulate at the rate of three unexcused tardies = one unexcused absence
- If a student fails to meet the standards of attendance, rehearsal, or performance for the ensemble, the student may be removed and replaced at the conductor's discretion.

Use of Electronic Devices:

No cellular phones are allowed during class to maintain a focused learning environment. This includes checking emails on any other device. If a tuner is required, a small handheld tuner is the only approved device.

Music Stands

All Woodwind and Brass students must provide portable music stands in sectionals and practice rooms. University music stands will be used only for large ensemble rehearsals and performances. Students needing to order a portable music stand may obtain information from the band office on recommended stand models. Details will be discussed, and recommendations will be made at the first-class meeting.

Music and Concert Folders

You will be given a concert folder for use during the semester. In addition, you will be given music and expected to return music at various times throughout the semester. Please listen and look for announcements regarding this process. If the pieces are originals, you are responsible for the maintenance of each piece that you are issued. Replacement costs for lost or damaged original music will be $3 per page, and a lost or damaged black concert music folio will result in a $20 replacement fee.

Concert Attire

Gentlemen: Black tuxedo, BLACK long-sleeved dress shirt, long black tie (to be purchased from the Department of Music (est. cost $15.00), solid black shoes and socks.

Ladies: MUST have sleeves, and shoulders should be covered (no spaghetti straps)-black shoes are required and are not considered appropriate. The attire should be ALL black.

In addition to appropriate traditional concert attire, students are expected to maintain a professional personal appearance in the concert setting.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.
