Course Description

This course deals with pertinent issues in school psychology, such as social justice issues, ethical and legal issues, emergent technologies, history and foundations of school psychology, professional standards, alternative models for delivery of school psychological services, as well as roles and foundations of the school psychologist.

NASP 2020 Domains of Practice:

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Domain 1: Data-Based Decision Making

School psychologists understand and utilize assessment methods for identifying strengths and needs; developing effective interventions, services, and programs; and measuring progress and outcomes within a multitiered system of supports. School psychologists use a problem-solving framework as the basis for all professional activities. School psychologists systematically collect data from multiple sources as a foundation for decision-making at the individual, group, and systems levels, and they consider ecological factors (e.g., classroom, family, and community characteristics) as a context for assessment and intervention.

Domain 2: Consultation and Collaboration

School psychologists understand varied models and strategies of consultation and collaboration applicable to individuals, families, groups, and systems, as well as methods to promote effective implementation of services. As part of a systematic and comprehensive process of effective decision making and problem solving that permeates all aspects of service delivery, school psychologists demonstrate skills to consult, collaborate, and communicate effectively with others.

Domain 3: Academic Interventions and Instructional Supports

School psychologists understand the biological, cultural, and social influences on academic skills; human learning, cognitive, and developmental processes; and evidence-based curricula and instructional strategies. School psychologists, in collaboration with others, use assessment and data collection methods to implement and evaluate services that support academic skill development in children.

Domain 4: Mental and Behavioral Health Services and Interventions

School psychologists understand the biological, cultural, developmental, and social influences on mental and behavioral health, behavioral and emotional impacts on learning, and evidence-based strategies to promote social–emotional functioning. School psychologists, in collaboration with others, design, implement, and evaluate services that promote resilience and positive behavior, support socialization and adaptive skills, and enhance mental and behavioral health.

Domain 5: School-Wide Practices to Promote Learning

School psychologists understand systems structures, organization, and theory; general and special education programming; implementation science; and evidence-based, school-wide practices that promote learning, positive behavior, and mental health. School psychologists, in collaboration with others, develop and implement practices and strategies to create and maintain safe, effective, and supportive learning environments for students and school staff.

Domain 6: Services to Promote Safe and Supportive Schools

School psychologists understand principles and research related to social–emotional well-being, resilience and risk factors in learning, mental and behavioral health, services in schools and communities to support multitiered prevention and health promotion, and evidence-based strategies for creating safe and supportive schools. School psychologists, in collaboration with others, promote preventive and responsive services that enhance learning, mental and behavioral health, and psychological and physical safety and implement effective crisis prevention, protection, mitigation, response, and recovery.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Domain 7: Family, School, and Community Collaboration

School psychologists understand principles and research related to family systems, strengths, needs, and cultures; evidence-based strategies to support positive family influences on children's learning and mental health; and strategies to develop collaboration between families and schools. School psychologists, in collaboration with others, design, implement, and evaluate services that respond to culture and context. They facilitate family and school partnerships and interactions with community agencies to enhance academic and social-behavioral outcomes for children.

Domain 8: Equitable Practices for Diverse Student Populations

School psychologists have knowledge of individual differences, abilities, disabilities, and other diverse characteristics and the impact they have on development and learning. They also understand principles and research related to diversity in children, families, schools, and communities, including factors related to child development, religion, culture and cultural identity, race, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, socioeconomic status, and other variables. School psychologists implement evidence-based strategies to enhance services in both general and special education and address potential influences related to diversity. School psychologists demonstrate skills to provide professional services that promote effective functioning for individuals, families, and schools with diverse characteristics, cultures, and backgrounds through an ecological lens across multiple contexts. School psychologists recognize that equitable practices for diverse student populations, respect for diversity in development and learning, and advocacy for social justice are foundational to effective service delivery. While equality ensures that all children have the same access to general and special educational opportunities, equity ensures that each student receives what they need to benefit from these opportunities.

Domain 9: Research and Evidence-Based Practice

School psychologists have knowledge of research design, statistics, measurement, and varied data collection and analysis techniques sufficient for understanding research, interpreting data, and evaluating programs in applied settings. As scientist practitioners, school psychologists evaluate and apply research as a foundation for service delivery and, in collaboration with others, use various techniques and technology resources for data collection, measurement, and analysis to support effective practices at the individual, group, and/or systems levels.

Domain 10: Legal, Ethical, and Professional Practice

School psychologists have knowledge of the history and foundations of school psychology; multiple service models and methods; ethical, legal, and professional standards; and other factors related to professional identity and effective practice as school psychologists. School psychologists provide services consistent with ethical, legal, and professional standards; engage in responsive ethical and professional decision-making; collaborate with other professionals; and apply professional work characteristics needed for effective practice as school psychologists, including effective interpersonal skills, responsibility, adaptability, initiative, dependability, technological competence, advocacy skills, respect for human diversity, and a commitment to social justice and equity.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Students will develop a basic understanding of topics, history, and professional issues related to school psychology by being an active and engaged participant in weekly discussions (online) through analyzing and evaluating information presented within textbooks, other readings/resources, presentations, and class activities.
2. Students will demonstrate knowledge of the core conditions, roles and foundations of a school psychologist as well as technologies and professional standards through a School Psychologist interview and reflection, and a critical issues presentation.
3. Students will differentiate the various models for delivery of school psychological services through lecture, class discussions, and class assignments.
4. Students will understand how to review ethical and legal issues that may arise during the practice of school psychology through class activities as well as weekly discussion questions and class assignments.
5. Students will utilize and synthesize information learned in the course to develop a personal model of school psychological services in the professional portfolio.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Class Format: The format of the class will be that of a seminar primarily involving discussions and lectures. Lectures will be used to introduce new topics, to present background information, and to highlight important points in the readings. Putting your thoughts into words and sharing them with others is an important means of refining your ideas and developing your understandings. Therefore, we will be using a variety of discussion formats to encourage honest and authentic participation, risk-taking, the critical examination of ideas, generation of questions, and creative thinking. Students are expected to read critically and be prepared to share their ideas about the contents.

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

A = 90%-100%

B = 80%-89%

C = 70%-79%

D = 60%-69%

F = 59% or Below

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Total points corresponding to assignments:

Assignment	Points Possible
Discussion Questions (8 pts x 5)	40
Professional Portfolio	40
School Psychologist Interview and Reflection Paper	50
Critical Issue in School Psychology Presentation	100
Attendance/Participation	60
Total	290

Course Activities and Assignments

Weekly Discussion Questions (40 pts total)

The goal of this assignment is to stop at regular intervals to think about what you are reading and how it is informing your developing understanding of the field. Your response to the question should be posted to D2L 24 hours prior to the corresponding class (that means by 4:30 pm Monday).

Professional Portfolio (40 pts total)

This course provides important opportunities for you to begin the development of your professional identity and portfolio. For the purposes of this class, you must develop a resume, a statement of professional goals/practice, and write a 2-page domain connection paper that focuses on the competencies discussed. Each section required is outlined and detailed below:

1) Resume

Students must complete a resume detailing their professional experiences thus far.

RUBRIC

Excellent (Scale 9-10)	Includes all necessary experiential categories. Each experience is concisely described. Overall document is well organized and visually appealing. No grammatical or spelling errors.
Good/Acceptable (Scale 7-8)	Includes all necessary experiential categories; Each experience is described; however, could be more detailed or more concise. Visual presentation is organized, yet not vivid or distinctive. Very few grammatical or spelling errors.
Poor (Scale 5-6)	Experiential categories are missing. Too much or too little detail to describe experiences. Visual presentation is lacking. Several grammatical or spelling errors.

2) Statement of Professional Practice

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Developing a description of your role as a school psychologist is an important part of your professional development. In one page (single-spaced), your statement should present your views on the role of the School Psychologist, Ethical Commitments, and any other dimension of practice that is important for you (e.g., Commitment to Collaborative Functioning, View of Assessment, Multicultural Commitments, Connection between Research and Practice, etc.).

RUBRIC

Excellent (Scale 9-10)	Includes at least 5 meaningful dimensions of practice; Excellent (detailed, yet concise) description of each dimension; No grammatical or spelling errors
Good/Acceptable (Scale 7-8)	Includes at least 5 meaningful dimensions of practice; Good description of each dimension; More detail or more precision would improve descriptions; Very few grammatical or spelling errors
Poor (Scale 5-6)	Includes 4 or less meaningful dimensions of practice; Minimal description of each dimension; Several grammatical or spelling errors

3) Domain Connection Paper

For the purposes of this class, you must write one domain connection paper to link your current and future experiences to the NASP Domains of Professional Practice of your choice. Formatting instructions will be provided in class.

RUBRIC

Excellent (Scale 9-10)	Detailed analysis of and reflection on content covered in the NASP Domains; Paper provides high quality example of your competency or desired competency in the particular domain; well written and organized; no or very few grammatical or spelling errors
Good/Acceptable (Scale 7-8)	Some analysis of and reflection on content covered in the NASP Domains; Connection paper provides some description of competency or desired competency; however, additional explanation would enhance understanding; clearly written and organized with few grammatical or spelling errors
Poor (Scale 5- 6)	Minimal or no analysis of and reflection on content covered in the NASP domains; Weak description of your competency or desired competency in a particular domain; readable, but grammatical, spelling, or organizational problems detract from quality of the paper

School Psychologist (LSSP) Interview & Reflection (50 pts)

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

The goal of this assignment is to obtain firsthand knowledge about the nature of a school psychologist's roles, functions, and professional practice. For this assignment you will interview a school psychologist and learn about their job responsibilities, challenges they face, the skills they employ and need, the clients they serve, and the nature of the settings in which they work. You are responsible for planning the interview and writing the questions.

You will then write a paper (approximately 3-4 pages) discussing the following: (a) your understanding and expectations of school psychologists' roles prior to this experience, (b) the observations and/or information obtained from the interview, (c) your impressions and reactions, (d) the fit with your vision for yourself as a school psychologist, and (e) in what ways, if any, your understanding of the profession changed. You will share your observations with the class.

RUBRIC

Excellent	Detailed analysis of and reflection on content covered in interview; Includes all 5 areas of reflection; Shows strong critical thinking; well written and organized; no or very few grammatical or spelling errors.
Good/Acceptable	Some analysis of and reflection on content learned during interview; Includes 4 areas of reflection; Shows some elements of critical thinking; clearly written and organized with few grammatical or spelling errors
Poor	Exclusive focus on description of content covered in interview; Includes 3 or less areas of reflection; Shows little to no critical thinking, analysis or reflection; readable, but grammatical, spelling, or organizational problems detract from quality of the paper

Critical Issue in School Psychological Practice Presentation (100 pts)

In groups of 2-3, students will be required to select a topic within a domain of practice, review relevant literature about the topic and present to the class how it relates to the practice of school psychology. The purpose of the presentation is to share the findings of a literature review with your peers. Using professional oral language skills as well as strategies to promote academic engagement, presentations should communicate the topic/purpose of the literature review, a summary of the findings, a synthesis of the literature and a conclusion focused on how the topic relates to the practice of school psychology. Each presentation will be evaluated according to the Critical Issues Presentation Rubric. The rubric can be found in D2L.

Students will present their topic and lead a discussion relating to their chosen topic. Students will be expected to provide their classmates with an annotated bibliography for two representative readings (i.e. articles) for your chosen topic. Presentations should be 30 minutes in length (20-25 minutes of lecture, 5-10 minutes of discussion). You will be asked to submit the presentation topic to the instructor for approval by the 3rd week of class (one per group).

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Attendance/Participation (60 pts)

Thoughtful, critical analysis of course content and field experiences is essential to your development as a school psychologist. I want you to think deeply and critically about course content and share your ideas in class.

*Absences may be excused by the instructor in special circumstances. Excused absences should be minimized. An excessive number of excused or unexcused absences could result in an incomplete grade for this class. Please be proactive in discussing "special circumstances" for excused absences with me. Do NOT assume that absences will be automatically excused. (See more information regarding attendance below).

Guidelines for Written Work

Papers must be typed in a Word document and double-spaced, using APA style when citing sources within text as well as in preparing the reference list. Plagiarism of any type, and written work containing AI-generated content, will not be accepted and will be handled according to university policy. Refer to the publication manual for specific guidelines:

COMMUNICATION AND SUPPORT

If you have any questions or are having difficulties with the course material, please contact your Instructor.

Interaction with Instructor Statement

Please feel welcome to contact me by email. All email should receive a response within 48 hours (except for weekends and holidays). If you have not received a response, then assume your email did not go through and please try again to make contact. All email should include the student's last name, first name, course name and brief description of the reason for contact.

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Course Specific Procedures/Policies

Professional Conduct. Students are expected to conduct themselves as mature and responsible adults while enrolled in this course. Be cognizant that side conversations in class can be distracting to the instructor and your classmates. Please show respect for others when they speak. If you do not agree with their point of view, ask for clarification or offer alternative viewpoints. Behavior meant to demean or belittle a class member will not be tolerated. Also, student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at TAMUC. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor will seek the assistance from the proper authorities (e.g. Chair of Psychology, Counseling, & Special Education and/or Dean's Office).

Finally, please turn off all phones or put them on silent. Laptops are permitted in class but should be used to enhance learning. Students should not use them for checking email or posting messages on Facebook, Twitter, or other social networks (the same with cell phones). If students are found to be using laptops or cell phones for purposes not related to class the instructor will ask the student to refrain from using their laptops/cell phones during class.

Class Participation. All students MUST actively participate in class discussions and class activities in order to fully gain knowledge and build competence. In addition, students are expected to have all readings and activities required for the day's class to be completed prior to coming to class.

E-mail and myLEOonline (D2L Brightspace). All Students should activate and regularly check their Leo Mail and myLEOonline (D2L Brightspace) accounts associated with this class. All assignments will be turned in on myLEOonline (D2L Brightspace) (when applicable) unless otherwise instructed to do something differently by the instructor of this course. All class communication will be done through D2L. I WILL NOT send communication about the class to personal email accounts.

Late Assignments: Late assignments will NOT be accepted unless you have provided adequate documentation allowing your absence to be excused (doctor's note in case of illness or copy of a funeral program in case of a death of a loved one). In the event your absence is excused, the missing assignment must be completed within 1 week of your return to class or the student will receive a grade of 0.

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may make it necessary for the instructor to modify the syllabus during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance.

University Specific Procedures

Student Conduct

All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment. The Code of Student Conduct can be found at <https://www.tamuc.edu/student-code-of-conduct/>.

If you believe someone has engaged in behaviors that do not align with the Code of Student Conduct or you have other concerns, please visit the File a Report page at <https://www.tamuc.edu/office-of-student-rights-and-responsibilities/concerns-incident-reporting/>

Students should also consult the Rules of Netiquette for more information regarding how to interact with students in an online forum:
<https://www.britannica.com/topic/netiquette>

Academic Integrity

Students at East Texas A&M are expected to maintain high standards of integrity and honesty in all of their scholastic work. For more details and the definition of academic dishonesty see the following procedures:

Artificial Intelligence

East Texas A&M acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, Chatbots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course.

Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.

Students with Disabilities-- ADA Statement

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact:
