Course Description

ENGL 1301: College Reading and Writing. Three semester hours. Introduces students to writing as an extended, complex, recursive process and prepares students for English 1302, which more rigorously examines the forms and structures of argument and means to approaching multiple audiences. In 1301 students will write weekly, and will work on essay organization and development. The course will emphasize close reading, summarizing, and analysis of expository texts, including student writing.

Core Curriculum Course Objectives

- Critical Thinking Skills: to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, analysis, evaluation, and synthesis of information;
- Communication Skills: to include effective development, interpretation, and expression of ideas through written, oral, and visual communication;
- Teamwork: to include the ability to consider different points of view and to work effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal;
- Personal Responsibility: to include the ability to connect choices, actions, and consequences to ethical decision-making.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

English 1301 Learning Outcomes

- Define important terms/concepts including, but not limited to, literacy, sponsor, code-switching, code-meshing, embodiment, and writing processes;
- Discuss the ways these terms expand based on cultural and communicative practices;
- Examine scholarly, personal, and/or multimodal course texts that detail varying understandings and applications of key terms/concepts;
- Develop writing processes that allow for personal exploration of key terms/concepts;
- Engage in collaboration that supports individualized and communal understanding and writing development;
- Consider the various affordances and constraints of composing using different technologies (analog, digital, and/or multimodal), practices, styles, and/or languages;
- Compose texts across different genres and media of writing that further expand key terms/concepts based on personal experiences and engagement with important course texts;
- Reflect on your writing experiences and literacy practices;
- Design individualized learning goals appropriate for a first-year writing course; and
- Assess individualized learning goals based on labor and performance alongside feedback from peers and the instructor.

Instructional Methods

This is a face-to-face course, meeting on-campus at Dubiski in A416.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

- Be on time and prepared for class (completing readings and homework assignments)
- Submit assignments on time following the stated expectations
- Check grades frequently and communicate with your instructor regarding any questions or concerns
- Participate in class activities
- Be respectful of each other
- Follow Dubiski campus expectations (cell phone policy, etc.)

COURSE ASSESSMENT

As an instructor, my approach to classroom assessment is two-fold. I will provide you with evaluative feedback on final drafts, but I welcome you to schedule individual writing conferences with me to more specifically address any concerns prior to the due date. You will also provide each other with peer feedback according to provided guidelines.

AI use policy [Draft 2, May 25, 2023]

East Texas A&M University acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course.

Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.
