Course Description

The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the field of psychology and to give a general understanding of the basic principles of psychology. Since it is intended to cover a variety of topics within psychology, it provides an overview of the field necessary for later courses. In this course, we will:

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

1. Highlight some of the most interesting experiments within the field of psychology, discussing the implications of those studies for our understanding of the human mind and human behavior. The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.
2. Explore the brain and some of the cognitive abilities it supports like learning, memory, perception, language, and consciousness.
3. Examine human development --- both in terms of growing up and growing older.
4. Discuss the manner in which the behaviors of others affect our own thoughts and behavior.
5. Discuss some of the mental disorders and the treatments.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Develop an overview of the field of psychology by studying and reflecting on the topics
2. Understand how psychologists take a scientific approach to human behavior and thought.
3. Practice the convention of scientific discourse appropriate to the audience, purpose, and message.
4. Explain the real-world phenomena by applying the concepts, theories, and methods learned in our course. Learning how to learn is a good start.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

Students must be able to use Microsoft office, PowerPoint, D2L, and Google Classroom.

Instructional Methods

This course is mainly lecture oriented and will focus on important psychology concepts but will not serve as a substitute for reading the textbook. The textbook is a more detailed presentation with more extensive examples and problem sets. You are expected to read all handouts and to allot adequate time to study the material on your own. If you miss a lecture, you are still responsible for that day's material-read the chapter, get notes from someone in class, and see the instructor for any clarification. If you have difficulty with the material feel free to see the instructor as soon as you can for advice on how best to improve your understanding of the material. It is recommended that you remain active in our online classroom as well.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

1. Read the chapter before class.
 - Read the chapter we are covering when it is assigned. This helps you in at least two ways: (1) it exposes you to the material before the lecture,

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

making it easier for you to understand the lecture or supplemental material and thus get more out of it; and (2) it prepares you to complete the homework assignment.

2. Attend all lectures and problem sessions.
3. Take good class notes.
4. Ask questions in the class if the material is not understood or ask after the class.
5. Actively read the chapters several times.
6. Correct ALL quizzes and exams & review them!!!
7. Work all of the in-text problems.
8. Work ALL of the chapters end problems.
9. Study consistently!!
10. Use supplemental material questions (online classroom, other textbooks, etc.)
11. Use flash cards.
12. Use a study group (3-5 people).
13. Take advantage of the instructor's office hours.
14. Take notes as you read the chapters
15. Summarize your lecture notes.
 - It is a good study habit to go over your notes at the end of each week, filling in the blanks from the supplemental video(s) and assignment. It is also a good idea to make friends in the course and get the phone numbers of a couple of people who you can clarify notes with
16. Complete all assignments, both in person and online.
17. Get a tutor.

Communication: If the instructor needs to contact an individual student, it will be via the student's email account. Students should check email frequently, especially after an absence. Email is the best, easiest and fastest way to communicate with me. Remind 101 is also an option.

Student Conduct Policy: In order to create a "learning environment" free of disruption, you MUST TURN OFF your cell phones, MP3 players, PDA's, Pagers, and any other electronic devices before entering the class. All the students enrolled at the university shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment (this includes online classes). (See current Student Guidebook). If the student fails to comply with the code of conduct and is disrespectful, disruptive to the instructor or the students of the class, the instructor reserves the right to dismiss the student from the class on the first offense. A second offense may constitute dismissal from the course with a failing grade. A & M-Commerce will comply in the classroom, and in online courses, with all federal and state laws prohibiting discrimination and related retaliation on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age, genetic information or veteran status. Further, an environment free from discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation, gender identity expression will be maintained.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

A = 90%-100%

B = 80%-89%

C = 70%-79%

D = 60%-69%

F = 59% or Below

*The instructor reserves the right to assign extra credit at her discretion, but it will not exceed 10% of a student's final score.

Assessments

The start of the semester is August 25th. The last class day is December 5. Finals week is December 6-12th.

Your course grade will be based on your exams 40%, essays 30%, 20% quizzes, and 10% research.

1.) Exams will constitute 40% of your course grade. There is a ton of information covered in this class. Measuring your understanding, at least partially through an exam, is part of my job is to prepare you for college. There will be 4 exams (three tests during the semester and one during the final exam period).

Make-Up Exams: NONE. No Makeup exams will be offered. NO MAKE-UP EXAMS WILL BE GIVEN. Exams may be rescheduled, without penalty, only when arrangements have been made in advance of the testing date. Please come to me within the first week of class if they have conflicts with the exam dates. Make-up exams will only be given in the case of verifiable medical or legal emergencies. Verifiable means that written documentation is provided (e.g., signed doctors' notes, court appearance tickets, newspaper obituaries). The final decision concerning make-up exams rests with me, the instructor. If no valid excuse is presented your exam grade is a zero. Exams are multiple-choice and short answers. You are responsible for all lecture/supplemental videos and reading materials. The exams are not open notes or textbooks and should be taken individually.

2.) Essays will constitute 30% of your course grade.

Students will answer essay-style questions. Essays should include insightful ideas and comments that are complete and well explained as well as defended by specific evidence. This does not require direct quotes from sources; however, if direct quotes are used they must be appropriately sourced. Please use your own words and ideas. A paragraph consists of at least five sentences. Posts that demonstrate the student has reviewed, understood, and contemplated the material will earn a passing grade. Posts that are weak, trivial, unclear, ungrammatical, not edited well for mistakes or poor writing or not defended by evidence will earn a failing grade.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

You must complete two essays during the semester from a choice of 5 prompts. These will be posted online with their due dates. Students may complete these anytime prior to the due date.

3.) Quizzes will constitute 20% of your course grade. To encourage participation, reading, and to ensure that you engage in content thoroughly, there will be ten (10) assignments given throughout the semester. The assignments may come in the form of a quiz, written assignment, short essay or small project/presentation on content being covered in the assigned unit. There are no make-up opportunities for missed or late submissions for missed assignments.

4.) Research Participation will constitute 10% of your course grade. Participating in research studies contributes to students and faculty at A&M - Commerce, your understanding of how research is conducted, and human knowledge in general. For this course, participating in research through exploration and analysis of relevant peer reviewed psychology journal articles. Each original 2 page article summary will be worth up to 2 points towards the 10 full points available. To get the full 10 points, 4 research articles must be successfully analyzed and a carrier analysis must be completed (see below). Journals for experiments to research can be accessed via the Texas A&M Commerce library system. Instructions for completing the research assignment can be found on D2L.

Students who are at least 18 of age may be able to elect to participate in 8 hours of research instead of writing the 4 research analysis essays. Instructions on how to do this will be provided to those who qualify.

In addition to the research essays or participation above each student is required to complete a career assessment assignment. QEP Draft ETAMU has partnered with Focus2Career, a personal career assessment utility that can help students to understand some of the available careers at your unique intersection of knowledge, skills, values, personality.

Focus2Career cannot predict the future, but it can show you some of what is out there and some of the ways that your ETAMU education can help you meet your career goals. For this assignment, first complete the Focus2Career personal career assessment utility using the following steps:

1. Navigate to the ETAMU Focus2Career portal by using this link <https://www.focus2career.com/Portal/Login.cfm?SID=1842>

or by following the link on the ETAMU Student Career Preparedness page: <https://www.tamuc.edu/student-careerpreparedness/>

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

2. If you are new to Focus2, you will need to create an account:

- a. Click the [Create an Account] button
- b. In the Your Access Code field, type 'Lions' (no quotes)
- c. Enter your name and email, then come up with a unique User Name and Password

3. Login with your new account

4. Because this is a psychology class, we are most interested in how you perceive your own interests and strengths. Scroll down to the section labeled Self Assessment. In this section you will see five very short surveys:

Work Interest Assessment, Values Assessment, Personality Assessment, Leisure Assessment, and Skills Assessment

5. Complete each assessment. They each take only a few minutes at most to complete, and your progress will be saved if you choose not to do them all at once.

After each survey, Focus2Career will provide information about some of the careers that match your responses to the survey. You can click the [Return to Dashboard] button to go back to the main menu of surveys.

6. Once all surveys are complete, press the [Combine] button from the "Combine Your Results" menu. Choose any or all of the completed assessments to combine, then press [Apply]. A list of careers and how they match up with your responses and with ETAMU degree plans will appear.

- a. After you have reviewed your combined results, choose one career from the list provided by Focus2Career and answer the following questions in your essay:
- b. Why did you choose the career that you did?
- c. What, if anything, did Focus2Career tell you about the career that you did not already know?
- d. Which assessments (Work Interest, Values, Personality, Skills, Leisure) were matched to this career and which, if any, were not?
- e. Do you agree or disagree with the idea that this career is a good or bad match for you on the basis of these assessments?
- f. Do you think career or personality assessments such as these can tell someone something new about themselves?
- g. Does someone say the same thing about themselves on the assessments as their friend, partner, or adviser would?

Class Attendance Policy

All students are expected to attend class on a regular basis. The Department of Psychology adheres to the attendance policy set by the University as stated in the most current Undergraduate Catalog. Being late by more than 5 minutes is equivalent to missing a lecture or laboratory. You must be on time in order to take an exam. Excessive absence is defined as missing more than 10% of the lecture or laboratory sessions without excusable reasons. Excessive absences will be reported to the Dean of the College and the Dean of Students, in accordance with the TAMU-Commerce Procedure A13.02. Good class attendance will be necessary in order to pass the course. If you miss more than 3 lectures prior to the first exam, the instructor reserves the right to drop you from the course. If you miss more than 6 lectures throughout the course of the semester, the instructor reserves the right to drop you from the course

AI use policy [Draft 2, May 25, 2023]

East Texas A&M University acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course.

Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.
