Required Textbook

For this course, we will be using a platform called Top Hat that is included through TAMUC's Inclusive Access. This is the same online book used for 1301. No new purchase required unless you did not gain access previously. Through Top Hat, you will gain access to the following required course materials:

Writing Inquiry 3rd Edition. Fountainhead Press, 2023

To gain access to Top Hat, it is your responsibility to create an account when you receive an email from the campus bookstore at the start of the semester. If you have any issues with Top Hat, you should contact support@tophat.com

Additional Required Materials

Course readings (articles, excerpts) made available via D2L

Digital storage (flash drive, cloud storage, etc.)

Note: You should check your email and D2L daily for updates pertaining to ENG 1302.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

ENG 1302 – GLB/US-Written Argument/Research. Hours: 3

This course provides students with advanced training in communication skills emphasizing the writing and reading of argumentative prose and adapting writing to alternate audiences. Students will write weekly, including such texts as journals, reading response logs, summaries of argumentative texts, argumentative papers, and longer papers integrating secondary research. Activities include close reading of sample texts, both student and professional. Some sections will emphasize special topics in both reading and writing. Prerequisites: Grade of C or better in English 1301 or advanced placement or CLEP.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Through a mixture of reading, writing, and discussion throughout the semester, students will:

- analyze, evaluate, or solve problems when given a set of circumstances, data, texts, or art.
- A&M-Commerce students will communicate in a manner appropriate to audience and occasion, with an evident message and organizational structure in written, oral, and/or visual communication,
- work together toward a shared purpose relevant to the course or discipline with a sense of shared responsibility for meeting that purpose.
- understand and practice academic honesty
- view themselves as engaged citizen-writer-researchers whose actions impact their communities.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Through readings, in-class discussions, and small response papers, students develop critical reading practices and individualized writing processes. The course begins by discussing the writing process (generally) and establishing a rhetorical vocabulary to aid in analysis. Anchor texts from ENG 1301 will help students “break down” complex texts and develop original responses that build writing skills. The course concludes with a portfolio and reflection assignment.

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

You will need regular access to the internet, digital storage (hardware or cloud storage), a valid working TAMUC email address, knowledge of D2L, and a computer with a word processing software.

Instructional Methods

Class Meeting Times and Rooms by Section:

Section 12B MWF 11:00-11:50am in Room DTH 301

Section 12E MWF 12:00-12:50pm in Room DTH 302

Section 03E TTh 12:30-1:45 pm in Room DTH 305

What does a typical class look like?

I typically begin class with a review of the syllabus and follow with a short writing activity. The writing activity will be around 5-10 minutes and is usually based on topics from our assigned readings. This means that you should come to class having already read the assigned readings so that you can be successful in the short writing activities and discussions.

We then briefly discuss the short writing and then move on to discuss the readings for the day as a class. Following the discussion of the readings we usually have activities related to the readings or in-class writing. For activities, I often have students work in pairs or groups.

I encourage students to engage with the readings and participate in class discussions, asking questions and voicing opinions or concerns. I value your questions, opinions, and concerns, and your contributions during class will enrich our class discussions.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES AND TIPS FOR SUCCESS

Your success in ENG 1302: GLB/US-Written Argument/Research is tied to active participation in digital spaces (D2L, TopHat), including the completion of all readings, activities, and assignments throughout the course.

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Course Specific Policies and Procedures

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus and course schedule are guides. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may make it necessary for the instructor to modify the syllabus and course schedule during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus and course schedule will be announced in advance.

There will be no phone use during class time. If you have an emergency and are expecting a phone call, notify your professor before class begins, set your phone to vibrate, then leave the room to talk on your phone.

You may use a laptop or tablet if you like during class time, but using said device for anything other than class-related research and discussion will cost you your laptop privileges.

Attendance Policy

As mentioned earlier, active participation is the key to success in this section of ENG 1302: GLB/US-Written Argument/Research. Therefore, timeliness is required for assignments. Consistently failing to actively participate or submit assignments on time will impede your ability to pass this class.

AI Use Policy

As they currently exist, most AI based apps and programs are not suitable for student use. I encourage all students to do their work without using AI based apps and programs, and if I find proof that they have been used on student work, I will ask the student to repeat the work without them.

Short and Sweet: ChatGPT and related programs can and will destroy your ability to learn and think critically unless used with extreme caution. I also don't want to grade work written by AI. I take this very seriously, and consider the use of AI related apps to be cheating.

Late Work

It is imperative to our success as a class that your assignments are turned in on time. The acceptance and assessment of late work in this section of ENG 1302: GLB/USWritten Argument/Research is on a case-by-case basis. Late work will result in a grade reduction at the discretion of the instructor. Consistently turning in late work will impede your ability to pass the class. Extensions for the final exam are unavailable and Incompletes are reserved for extreme circumstances.

Statement on Antiracism

This course discusses things like economic class, educational opportunities, and other aspects of access to literacy that present a racial disparity in America. It is the position of this class to identify such structural deficiencies as wrong. This subject will potentially cause some discomfort, so please be patient as we discuss these topics together. This course does not tolerate willful insensitive language with respect to sex, race, gender, or orientation, but does attempt to understand how things like racism and sexism create barriers for people.

Where applicable, students should also consult University Procedure 13.99.99.R0.05 (“Student Appeal of Instructor Evaluation”).

COLLECTION OF DATA FOR MEASURING INSTITUTIONAL EFFECTIVENESS

To measure the level of compliance with the university’s Institutional Effectiveness guidelines, throughout the semester, I will collect some of the ungraded texts you produce. The texts will be part of a portfolio created on your behalf and will be measured to ensure that our program “promotes practices that result in higher student academic achievement; an enhanced student experience; aligned and transparent decisions; and readily available information for improvement, accountability, and accreditation” (see “Department of Institutional Effectiveness,” <http://www.tamuc.edu/aboutus/institutionalEffectiveness/default.aspx>). This is solely an assessment of program effectiveness and in no way affects students’ course grades or GPAs.
