Course Description

(ENG 1301) College Reading and Writing. Three semester hours. Introduces students to writing as an extended, complex, recursive process and prepares students for English 1302, which more rigorously examines the forms and structures of argument and means to approaching multiple audiences. In 1301 students will write weekly, and will work on essay organization and development. The course will emphasize close reading, summarizing, and analysis of expository texts, including student writing.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Student Learning Outcomes (Should be measurable; observable; use action verbs)

1. Read, interpret, and analyze print and digital texts.
2. Apply writing strategies to draft, revise, and edit major writing tasks.
3. Apply and evaluate appropriate syntax, grammar, punctuation, and spelling.
4. Apply and evaluate appropriate voice, style, tone, and audience awareness in writing.
5. Compose new writing in multiple genres that is focused, coherent, and developed.
6. Collaborate with peers to plan, develop, and revise projects.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

Students must be able to compose and format their essays on a computer using word software like Microsoft Word. They must also know how to access materials through the D2L learning management system and to upload their essays by the designated deadline.

Instructional Methods

This is an online course. We will participate in online discussions through D2L.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

Absences are in the form of not responding to discussion boards. To ensure success students are expected to respond weekly to discussions and submit work in by the deadlines. Staying ahead or maintaining a healthy routine with coursework will help ensure students are successful.

AI use policy [Draft 2, May 25, 2023]

East Texas A&M University acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course.

Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.
