COURSE INFORMATION

Please note that this is a reading intensive course with assignments due weekly.

Please Note: There is also a No AI policy for this course and No Outside Materials, No Web Searches, and No Outside Information or Content Is Allowed (other than the textbooks and resources directly assigned by the professor for this specific course).

REQUIRED CLASS MATERIALS:

IMPORTANT: You have to have access to both textbooks for the assignments in this class. It is impossible to pass the course without them. The least expensive options have been chosen with student economic wellbeing in mind.

NOTE: Both ebooks can also be purchased through the publisher directly by following the links and instructions inside the class's online digital learning space in Brightspace/D2L starting the first week of classes.

1. (REQUIRED)— Give Me Liberty 7th edition, Seagull version, volume 2 (ISBN 978-1-324-04157-3)— digital edition with access to online resources "Norton Illumine Ebook for Give Me Liberty Includes InQuizitive, History Skills Tutorials, and Additional Content 180-day access." $40.95 through publisher's website. (Campus bookstore sells the digital copy under the ISBN 9781324042242 for
2. (REQUIRED)— Voices of Freedom 7th edition, volume 2 (ISBN 978-1-324-04228-0)— digital edition "Ebook for Voices of Freedom 180-day access." $14.95 through publisher's website. (Campus bookstore may sell the digital copy under a different ISBN, but students needs to make sure to get the correct volume 2 seventh edition seagull version).

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Double-check the textbooks you are purchasing are the correct version, edition and volume. Other versions will not give you access to the online assignments or the correct sources for assignments and exams.

3. Students will need access to Microsoft Word, Google Docs (saved as a .docx to upload to the class), or other word processing software that can have files saved as .docx
4. Access to student email.
5. A reliable computer/laptop/compatible tablet with reliable internet access to take the course and do each week's classwork. (Smart phones will not provide sufficient access and ability to take the course and do coursework.)

Additional Class Materials: Students will need to check their myleo email daily and for any class related news and updates check in to the D2L class. Any additional reading assignments, such as brief articles, videos, or primary documents, will be supplied by the instructor in class or through D2L.

Course Description:

A broad interdisciplinary course in the historical development of the United States and North America from 1865. Assignments will focus on reading, writing, and analysis.

A note about course content: A copy of the table of contents for both textbooks (Give Me Liberty vol. 2. 7th ed. Seagull version) <https://wwwnorton.com/books/9781324041481>) and (Voices of Freedom vol. 2. 7th ed. <https://wwwnorton.com/books/9781324042242>) may be viewed online at the publisher's website. The class will cover chapters 15 through 26 in both books. Students will have a choice over which content they write about in all essay assignments. Multiple choice quizzes have test banks which randomly assign questions for each student's quiz. Students are welcome to peruse the content of the books prior to the start of the semester to get a general idea of the types of topics covered by the course.

Course Pre-Requisites, Co-Requisites:

ENG 1301 or concurrent enrollment or ENG 1302 or concurrent enrollment.

Student Learning Outcomes:

As a Core Curriculum requirement, this class focuses on four common Student Learning Outcomes:

1. Critical Thinking - Students will be able to analyze, evaluate, or solve problems when given a set of circumstances, data, texts, or art.
2. Oral/Visual Communication - Students will communicate in a manner appropriate to audience and occasion with an evident message and organizational structure.
3. Personal Responsibility - Students will understand and practice academic honesty.
4. Social Responsibility - Students will demonstrate an understanding of societal and/or civic issues.

Student Learning Outcomes will be assessed by the Student Responsibility Quiz and a Primary Source Analysis assignment.

Responsibility Quiz: Each student will have to take the Responsibility Quiz. These must be submitted by the Friday of the third week in class; failure to submit these sheets when due will result in a failing grade for the course regardless of other work completed. Questions regarding this particular course and departmental requirement should be addressed to the Department of History chairperson, Dr. Sharon Kowalsky. Students will not be dropped from the course for non-compliance.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Required Reading: Textbook purchase of the two required ebooks is necessary starting the beginning of the first week of class. All work requires access to the ebooks, and there is no way to pass the class without purchasing access to both ebooks. The ebooks chosen have been selected to try and provide students with the most economical textbook purchase possible while still maintaining the content needs of the course. Access to the readings quizzes requires access to the online materials that comes with the Give Me Liberty ebook, and all exams and primary source analysis assignments require access to the primary sources in Voices of Freedom and students' contextual knowledge gained from the Give Me Liberty book and online resources to understand the primary sources.

Weekly Quizzes:

There will be online readings and content quizzes due every week of the semester in this course. There are links inside D2L to the Give Me Liberty book's chapter InQuizitive Quizzes. Grades will also show up in D2L. There are completion questions inside the eBook for Give Me Liberty THESE ARE NOT THE WEEKLY QUIZZES. THEY WILL NOT TAKE THE PLACE OF THE InQuizitive Quizzes.

Make sure you are taking the InQuizitive Quizzes linked through the D2L class in each chapter folder in the Give Me Liberty Textbook Access Folder.

Make-ups—

There are no make-up quizzes for the class. Students will have from the start of the semester to take all quizzes in the course. Each quiz will close on the deadline. They will not be reopened. There is unlimited time and unlimited takes for quizzes until the deadline. Start early and do not wait until the last minute to take the readings quizzes. It takes some students a number of hours to do well, while other can complete it quickly—all which depends on each individual student's learning style.

Attendance and Class Participation: Class attendance is crucial to your success in this course. Developmental activities occur every day this class meets, and absences will adversely affect your grade. Habitual absences and tardiness are unacceptable. It is required that you are in class promptly so that you do not miss anything or disrupt the rest of the students. Additionally, participation in the class is a part of this portion of the grade. Each student must be involved in class discussions in order to receive credit for class participation. Simply being physically present is not enough. If a student does not participate in class regularly each week, that week's full credit is not earned by the student. Furthermore, if a student is caught using email, accessing non-class related websites, or social networking of any kind during lecture or class activities, the entire class gets a fair warning, no second chance will be issued. On the second occurrence, the ENTIRE class will receive an F as their daily grade. At any time, the professor reserves the right to ban technological devices from classroom use.

Classroom Door Policy: In an attempt to secure student and faculty safety in the classroom, the classroom door will close and lock when class or session begins. If a student leaves early, they may be marked absent for that day. Students need to plan accordingly and take care of all personal needs prior to coming to class.

Lectures and Online Notes: It is highly suggested that you print out the online notes before each lecture series. These notes are a brief outline of the power points used in class and are NOT a substitute for lecture. You will not pass the course without attending class. Yet, these notes can help you pay attention and write down live lecture and discussion instead of concentrating on what the slide outlines state.

All Exams will consist of one long essay question. You will receive a review sheet containing all possible essay questions in advance for each exam. These will be in-class exams that will require you to handwrite your essays legibly for us to grade them. Students will take two long essay exams during the semester. One at midterm and one during final exam week. Students will need to follow instructions for the exams carefully to make sure they provide all the information required in the way it is asked for in the instructions. Your essay will be graded according to how well you understand, explain, and analyze material learned in lecture, the Give Me Liberty text, Primary Source material provided in Voices of Freedom, and any other resources provided by the professor in order to answer the question. As part of the essays, students must refer directly to Primary Source material in Voices of Freedom and content from Give Me Liberty and class lectures and any other professor provided materials. We will grade your essay according to how well you analytically understand and explain the details asked for in the essay question according to the directions provided on how to answer an exam essay in this class. Please remember, we cannot grade what you do not write down, and you are being graded on what you prove you know. More explanation of the essay requirements will appear on your exam reviews, on the course website, and will be discussed in class.

Make-ups: In the rare case that a student misses a regularly scheduled exam with a documented reason, that student must contact me within one week after the exam was scheduled to set up a make-up exam without penalty. If for some reason the student cannot provide some sort of documentation regarding the reason for the absence during the original exam date OR does not contact me within one week of the regularly scheduled exam, a make-up exam may be taken with a point penalty determined by the instructor. The content of the make-up exam may differ from the regularly scheduled exam, and therefore, it is suggested that students take the exam when scheduled. YOU CANNOT RESCHEDULE THE FINAL EXAM WITHOUT PRIOR AUTHORIZATION—SEE ME ABOUT THIS IF NECESSARY The instructor of this course reserves the right to deny any make-up exam requests due to lack of documentation. No make-up exams requests for the Final Exam will be granted. All assignments turned in after the deadline will have a point deduction of 10 pts of per day.

Primary Source Analysis Assignments: Students are required to do two primary source analysis during the semester. Students can start it any time during the weeks they are assigned and must complete them and upload them to D2L before the deadline. For the Primary Source Analysis Assignments, students must refer directly to Primary Source material in Voices of Freedom and cite page numbers and textbook names for both Voices of Freedom and Give Me Liberty according to the exam directions. There will be a brief citation guide for the course available in D2L. Lack of proper citation, use of AI in any way, or the use of sources other than those specifically assigned by the professor will result in a lost points and/or a zero for the assignment grade.

Accommodations: This course is designed specifically with most accommodation requests in mind. Having said that, students who have accommodation needs documented and registered with the SDS Office at ETAMU will need to contact the instructor of the course via email for instructions on how to access alternative primary source analysis turn in instructions according to their modification requirements.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS— LMS

All course sections offered by East Texas A&M University have a corresponding course shell in the myLeo Online Learning Management System (LMS). Below are technical requirements

ACCESS AND NAVIGATION

You will need your campus-wide ID (CWID) and password to log into the course. If you do not know your CWID or have forgotten your password, contact the Center for IT Excellence (CITE) at 903.468.6000 or helpdesk@etamu.edu.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Note: Personal computer and internet connection problems do not excuse the requirement to complete all course work in a timely and satisfactory manner. Each student needs to have a backup method to deal with these inevitable problems. These methods might include the availability of a backup PC at home or work, the temporary use of a computer at a friend's home, the local library, office service companies, Starbucks, a ETAMU campus open computer lab, etc.

COMMUNICATION AND SUPPORT

If you have any questions or are having difficulties with the course material, please contact your instructor.

Emailing the professor's university email address (Jessica.Wranosky@etamu.edu) is the very best way to reach Dr. Wranosky. In every email, please make sure to provide your full name at the end, which course you are enrolled in, and a description of what your request or question is.

Dr. Wranosky will communicate with students through the email address they have on file in MyLeo (make sure yours is up to date and working throughout the semester) and D2L announcements. Please check these areas daily and before attending class and throughout the week. If an emergency arises, Dr. Wranosky will post the announcement for the class in one or more of these locations.

In all forms of class communication including all online forums, students are expected and required to maintain a respectful tone and use semiformal to formal language.

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Audio/Video Recording of Lectures and Class Meetings Policy: Students in the class have the right to expect privacy and security in their learning environments. Therefore, students will not create audio or video recordings of the materials without explicit professor permission. Further, no photographs, audio or video of the course may be uploaded or shared in any environment online or otherwise—including AI software or online notetaking platforms.

AI Use in this Course:

NOTE: Use of AI for this course is not allowed in any way.

ALSO: Do not upload any information from this course to any AI software or website—that is considered academic dishonesty and/or intellectual property theft.

Uploading any content from this course (including exam review information, exam questions, any sound or video files of anyone in the class, lecture note information, lecture note outlines, and/or any content from the publisher's websites or textbooks) to AI software (including DALL-E, ChatGPT, etc., breaks copyright laws. To do so is illegal. AI software companies take ownership and use rights of any words, phrases, or files uploaded or used by their software, and students do not own any of the content from this course except for their own student created work. All AI software tracks users, and there are ways to know who uploaded what content. To break such laws is against university student code of conduct, as well as being an illegal action, and proper disciplinary procedures will be taken.

AI Use in Courses (Campus Statement):

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

East Texas A&M University acknowledges that there may be legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course. Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism). Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructor's guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed. In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may make it necessary for the instructor to modify the syllabus during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance.

Class Calendar and Dates: While it is highly unlikely that the dates for the reading and assignments would change, I reserve the right to do so if the need presents itself. Any such changes will be announced in class or via the course website. The reading and writing assignments are due at the start of class and considered late thereafter.

University Specific Procedures
