Course Description

HIED 695: Research Methodology - Three semester hours

This course provides a comprehensive introduction to research methodologies, including foundational concepts, common research designs, and the processes of data collection and analysis utilized in both quantitative and qualitative approaches. Students will engage in critical examination of research practices and will apply their learning to develop a formal research proposal. This course emphasizes the integration of theory and practice to prepare students as practitioner-scholars and informed consumers of research. It is an approved Level I doctoral research tools course.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Engage in collaborative learning as active participants in a learning community, working together to analyze, evaluate, and apply course materials toward individual research proposal development.
2. Compare and contrast research designs, effectively distinguishing between quantitative and qualitative research methods.
3. Demonstrate an understanding of the interconnection between theory, research, and practice, fostering a practitioner-scholar mindset.
4. Plan and execute the research process, culminating in a formal written research proposal formatted according to American Psychological Association (APA) guidelines (6th or 7th edition).

Key skills and competencies include:

- Identifying and articulating a specific research problem.
- Conducting and synthesizing relevant empirical research to create a comprehensive literature review.
- Defining the purpose and research questions aligned with the identified research problem.
- Evaluating and selecting appropriate research designs and methodologies for data collection.
- Analyzing and interpreting data from pilot studies to formulate and report meaningful results.
- Properly citing and formatting research in compliance with APA standards.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Research and Reading Expectations

To fully engage with each week's topics, students are expected to delve into both the course text and supplementary resources. While the internet may offer valuable insights, it should not be the sole source of information. Visiting the library (in person or online) is essential in the success of this course. Your commitment to thorough research will enhance your understanding and research skills.

Final Assignments

All students must submit a paper focusing on one of the major student learning outcomes outlined in the course. Late submissions will not be accepted. Papers must be meticulously edited and adhere to APA Style Manual guidelines. Writing quality, including grammar, punctuation, and spelling, will be rigorously assessed alongside content. Any instance of academic dishonesty will result in appropriate penalties.

As you navigate this course, remember that effective communication through writing is a vital skill in this program. Strive for clarity, accuracy, and adherence to academic standards in all your written work.

Student Responsibilities and Tips for Success in the Course

Scholarly Expectations

At East Texas A&M University we prioritize academic integrity and hold a zero-tolerance policy towards plagiarism and other forms of academic dishonesty. Such behavior includes but is not limited to plagiarism, auto-plagiarism, cheating, collusion, and abuse of resource materials. All submitted work must be original and uniquely created for this course. Works will be screened for plagiarism using TurnItIn or similar services. Consequences for academic dishonesty may range from reduced credit on assignments to potential removal from the academic program or institution, with an automatic F in the course being a standard outcome. Proper citation in APA 6th edition style is required for any referenced works.

Students should demonstrate proficiency in resolving technical issues, problem-solving skills, and the ability to embrace challenges as opportunities for learning and growth. As future educational technology professionals, collaboration and cooperation are essential skills that students are expected to practice throughout this course. It is encouraged to seek assistance when needed and offer support to peers.

Please note the adjusted due dates for holidays. All submissions should adhere to the provided guidelines, and late work will not be accepted. ***

Timeliness

Assignments must be submitted by the designated due dates to receive full credit. Late or incomplete submissions may result in deductions of up to 10% of the assignment's value per day, with assignments losing all value if submitted 10 days past due. Ample notification and time will be provided for completing course assignments. Students are encouraged to plan ahead for any anticipated absences or technical difficulties and have contingency plans in place.

Time Commitment

To succeed in this course, students should be aware of the time commitment required. Refer to the bullets below for an estimate of the average expected time spent on class-related work:

- Outside class per class week: 9 hours (minimum), 12 hours (maximum)
- Total Term Expectation: 144 hours (minimum), 192 hours (maximum)

Your commitment to these requirements and policies will contribute to a successful and enriching academic experience. Should you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to reach out for assistance.

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

A = 90%-100%

B = 80%-89%

C = 70%-79%

D = 60%-69%

F = 59% or Below

Total points corresponding to the final letter grades

A: 180-200 points

B: 160-179 points

C: 140-159 points

D: 120-139 points

F: 0-119 points

Course Assignments

Quizzes

Quizzes are designed to assess your understanding of key concepts and course material. They will consist of multiple-choice questions and will be administered as open-book and open-web assessments. Quizzes will be made available through course modules. Students are expected to complete quizzes independently. Any form of collaboration, sharing answers, or other academic dishonesty is strictly prohibited and constitutes a violation of university academic integrity policies. The distribution or reproduction of quiz content outside this course is prohibited, as these materials may be reused in future courses. Unauthorized sharing or use of quiz content will be treated as a serious breach of academic integrity.

Bibliographic Research Paper (BRP)

The Bibliographic Research Paper provides an opportunity to engage deeply with scholarly research and develop skills in critical analysis and synthesis.

Assignment Requirements:

1. Topic Selection: Choose a topic within higher education (e.g., student affairs, faculty affairs, governance, organizational theory, distance learning, competency-based education, tenure). If you have a preliminary dissertation topic, you may focus on that area. Otherwise, select a general area of interest and allow the research to guide the development of your focus.

2. Article Selection: Identify and review five peer-reviewed research articles related to your topic. Each article must report empirical research with data collection and analysis. Ensure the journals explicitly indicate a peer-review process.
3. Paper Content: Prepare a 3–5 page paper summarizing the recommendations for future research from your selected articles. Only include recommendations explicitly stated in the articles. Focus on synthesizing patterns, gaps, and directions suggested by the research.
4. Formatting: Follow APA 7th edition formatting as outlined in Chapter 2 of the APA Manual (Student Sample Paper format). Include a title page, headings where appropriate, and a references page.

Research Design Paper (RDP)

The Research Design Paper extends the work completed in the BRP by developing a detailed research proposal based on one of the identified recommendations for future research. This assignment emphasizes research design, methodological rigor, and academic writing.

Assignment Requirements:

1. Background of the Proposed Study: Provide context for the research problem, including a brief literature review that situates your study within existing scholarship.
2. Research Problem, Purpose, and Questions: Clearly articulate the research problem, the purpose of the study, and the specific research questions you intend to address.
3. Research Design and Analysis: Describe the research methodology, including data collection and analysis procedures. Justify the appropriateness of your design relative to the research questions.
4. Threats to Validity and Mitigation Strategies: Identify potential threats to internal and external validity and discuss strategies for minimizing these threats.
5. Formatting: The paper should not exceed 10 pages, including title and reference pages. Follow APA 7th edition guidelines (Chapter 2 of the APA Manual, Student Sample Paper format).

AI use policy [Draft 2, May 25, 2023]

East Texas A&M University

acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course. Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.
