COURSE TEACHING

The instructor will teach the class following the Text. He will formulate, derive and proof basic theorems and numerical methods. The assignments will include Matlab programs, proofs and problems with numerical calculations. As additional teaching, a description will be given on the correlations between Machine Learning (ML) and numerical methods. The participating students may ask questions and discuss the taught material. Hence, attending the class carries advantages of better understanding the material and solved examples.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Text: Applied Numerical Analysis Using Matlab, Lauren V. Fausett, 2nd Ed., Pearson Prentice Hall, 2008. ISBN: 0-13-239728-5

The teacher's notes of a lecture will be posted on D2L - Brightspace before the lecture. Some lectures and proofs go beyond the book and the notes. Hence participating the lectures is useful and necessary.
