Course and University Procedures / Policies

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may make it necessary for the instructor to modify the syllabus during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance

Attendance Policy

Students are expected to attend all scheduled classes and events as required by the instructor. Failure to attend or complete mandatory events will result in the deduction of one letter from the semester grade. Medical excuses and university-sponsored trips are acceptable reasons for missing meetings as long as documentation is provided.

Tardiness and early exit will not be tolerated and will result in the lowering of the overall course grade.

Missing deadlines will result in the lowering of the "progressive assignments" portion of the overall grade. A student must progress through the schedule in the determined order. For instance, the student will not be allowed to schedule a hearing date until the script, powerpoint, and hand-out have been completed and approved by the instructor.
