Course Description

A study of various methods and approaches to teaching guitar, in class and/or studio environments. Through readings, class discussions, teaching demonstrations, and teaching observations, students will be provided with creative teaching strategies to instruct guitar students from the beginning stages of guitar study through the intermediate level.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Write a teaching philosophy that outlines objectives and procedures applicable to private guitar instruction.
2. Analyze and describe teaching techniques suitable for use in the private guitar lesson for students of all ages.
3. Assess the different methods available for teaching beginning through intermediate level guitar students.
4. Analyze the standard teaching repertoire for beginning through intermediate level guitar students.
5. Develop teaching strategies for the instruction of sight-reading, harmonization, transposition, memorization, and other necessary skills.
6. Identify elements of quality teaching through the observation of master teachers.
