COURSE INFORMATION

In this course we will cover the fundamental theories and research conducted in social psychology related to constructing and administering surveys. We will cover both classic and modern social psychological research.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Grading:

Attending scheduled class meetings, while behaving in a professional manner in running experiments, generally results in an 'A' grade. More specifically, this means: 1) do not fail to show up for, or arrive late for, an experiment, 2) conduct experiments in a respectful manner, especially the debriefing process. Failing to conduct an experiment at the appointed time, or not completing assigned class work, may result in a reduction of your grade. I suggest checking your email everyday during the semester.

A = 90%-100%

B = 80%-89%

C = 70%-79%

D = 60%-69%

F = 59% or Below

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Course Specific Procedures/Policies

My expectations in this area should be very simple to fulfill. (1) Immaturity will NOT be tolerated! If a student's behavior is disrupting the class, he/she will be asked to stop. (2) Respect: Given the nature of this course, we may discuss issues that some of you may find embarrassing, uncomfortable, and/or even "inappropriate." To remain in this class, you must be respectful of others and maintain a mature and professional manner at all times. Failure to do so will result in your expulsion from the course. (3) The Student's Guidebook addresses the issues of academic cheating and plagiarism. These are a breach of conduct, and students are subject to disciplinary actions. It's simple. Do NOT cheat (to cheat is to act dishonestly or unfairly in order to gain an advantage) or plagiarize (to plagiarize is to take the work or idea of someone else and pass it off as one's own)!
