Course Description

ENGL 1301: College Reading and Writing (3 credit hours): builds the rhetorical reading, writing, and revision skills students rely on throughout college and beyond. Students analyze how popular and academic texts use rhetorical strategies to reach different audiences, compose a literacy narrative reflecting on personal history as a reader and writer, and investigate how a discourse community uses language and genre conventions to communicate. The course closes with a sustained revision cycle, in which students return to earlier work and strengthen it using feedback and skills developed across the semester. The course emphasizes cross-disciplinary skills that transfer directly to writing in other courses and contexts.

ENGL 1301 Section 15 CRN 80498

College Reading and Writing

Course Syllabus: Fall 2026

Core Curriculum Course Objectives

- Critical Thinking Skills: to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information;
- Communication Skills: to include effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral and visual communication;
- Teamwork: to include the ability to consider different points of view and to work effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal;
- Personal Responsibility: to include the ability to connect choices, actions and consequences to ethical decision-making.

Student Learning Outcomes

Students completing ENGL 1301 will be able to:

- Identify and analyze rhetorical appeals, audience, and purpose in popular and academic texts.
- Compose genre-appropriate writing — rhetorical analysis, personal narrative, and discourse community analysis — anchoring claims in relevant evidence, whether textual evidence from an artifact, sensory and scene-based detail from lived experience, or established analytical frameworks (Swales, Melzer).
- Integrate outside evidence ethically and accurately using MLA citation conventions.
- Engage in the revision and editing process, using strategies such as reverse outlining, structured peer review, feedback triage, and substantive revision to strengthen written work.
- Collaborate effectively with peers to give and receive constructive feedback, using structured peer review to inform meaningful revision.
- Reflect on personal growth as a writer and identify strategies that transfer to future academic writing.

Instructional Modality

This class meets face-to-face on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings from 10 to 10:50 am in the Donald Talbot Hall of Languages, room 201. You should try to be here on time every time class meets for best chances of success.

Student Responsibilities and Tips for Success in the Course

Each student is responsible for attending class and participating in the discussions and activities. You are also responsible for completing the reading assignments prior to class so you can participate fully and make the most of the in-class discussion. Writing assignments need to be completed and submitted prior to or on the date they are due unless arrangements have been made with me PRIOR to the due date.

There will be no phone use during class time. If you have an emergency and are expecting a phone call, notify your professor before class begins, set your phone to vibrate, then leave the room to talk on your phone.

You may use a laptop or tablet if you like during class time, but using said device for anything other than specifically approved class-related research and discussion will cost you your laptop privileges.

Note: Personal computer and internet connection problems do not excuse the requirement to complete all course work in a timely and satisfactory manner. Each student needs to have a backup method to deal with these inevitable problems. These methods might include the availability of a backup PC at home or work, the temporary use of a computer at a friend's home, the local library, office service companies, Starbucks, an East Texas A&M campus open computer lab, etc.

Course and University Policies & Procedures

Course Specific Policies & Procedures

Interaction with Instructor Statement

The best way to get in touch with me is via email at Charles.Stephens@tamuc.edu. Be polite and clearly and completely state your issue, and I will try to get back to you within 48 hours, or by Monday in the case of emails sent over the weekend.

Course Attendance Policy

I take attendance every time class meets. But there are no penalties for missing class. You should try to be here every single day. But I don't care about excused or unexcused absences. I assume you are all adults who can manage their own time. Occasionally I am required to report attendance, and I don't lie about it.

Please do not ask me, before, during, or after class, or via email, to explain to you what you missed. That's your responsibility, and I cannot summarize a whole class in just a few minutes. I will post my class notes on a daily basis. You should consider "buddying up" with a fellow student, so the two of you can assist each other with notes when one of you misses class. You can also swing by my office during office hours, and I'll be happy to answer any class-related questions you have.

Late Work

Turn your assignments in on time. If you need a little more time, go ahead and ask me for it via email. I will almost always give you two more days to work on things, as long as you ask before the due date and you don't abuse the privilege. If you turn in late work consistently and/or without an approved extension, it may result in grade reductions. If you turn in late work consistently, it will be very hard to pass the class with a decent grade.

ENGL 1301 Section 15 CRN 80498

College Reading and Writing

Instructor's AI Use Policy

As they currently exist, most AI based apps and programs are not suitable for student use. All students must do their work without using AI/LLM based apps and programs (like ChatGPT), and if I find proof that they have been used on student work, the student will have one chance to repeat the work without them.

Short and Sweet: ChatGPT and related programs can and will destroy your ability to learn and think critically unless used with extreme caution. I also don't want to grade work written by AI. I take this very seriously, and consider the use of AI related apps to be cheating.

Instructor's Policy on Plagiarism

All work submitted should be your own. Submission of work other than your own is plagiarism and is considered cheating and will be reported to the Dean of Students. If found guilty of plagiarism, you will receive a 0 on the assignment.

Grievance Procedures

Students who have concerns regarding their courses should first address those concerns with the assigned instructor in order to reach a resolution. Students who are unsatisfied with the outcome of that conversation or have not been able to meet individually with their instructor, whether in-person, by email, by telephone, or by another communication medium, should then schedule an appointment with Dr. Jason Walker, the Director of Writing (Jason.Walker@ETAMU.edu). In the case when the Director of Writing is the instructor, the student should contact Dr. Debbie Lelekis, Interim Chair of the Department of Literature and Languages (Debbie.Lelekis@ETAMU.edu). Where applicable, students should also consult University Procedure 13.99.99.R0.05 ("Student Appeal of Instructor Evaluation").

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus is a guide. Various circumstances and events during the semester may make it necessary for the instructor to modify the syllabus. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance in class, on D2L, and via ETAMU email.

University Specific Policies & Procedures

Student Conduct

All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment. The Code of Student Conduct is described in detail in the Student Guidebook:

<http://www.etamu.edu/Admissions/oneStopShop/undergraduateAdmissions/studentGuidebook.aspx>

Students should also consult the Rules of Netiquette for more information regarding how to interact with students in an online forum: <https://www.britannica.com/topic/netiquette>

Nondiscrimination Notice

East Texas A&M University will comply in the classroom, and in online courses, with all federal and state laws prohibiting discrimination and related retaliation on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age, genetic information or veteran status.

Writing Program Policy on Artificial Intelligence

East Texas A&M University (ETAMU) Writing Program acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence (AI), Generative Artificial Intelligence (GenAI), and Artificial General Intelligence (AGI). The ETAMU Writing Program is guided by national, flagship organizations representing the discipline of English and the field of Writing Studies, including the Modern Language Association (MLA), National Council on the Teaching of English (NTCE), and the Conference on College Composition and Communication (CCCC) regarding the theorization and teaching of critical AI literacy. ETAMU Writing Program values a spectrum of beliefs about AI, GenAI, and AGI, ranging from ethical integration to absolute refusal. ETAMU Writing Program believes in and practices critical AI literacy alongside ethical, responsible integration of AI, GenAI, and AGI in our writing instruction, appropriately. We teach students to document their AI use in their writing and other curriculum deliverables while highlighting educational concerns about using these technologies. ETAMU Writing Program instructors share their position on and preferences for AI, GenAI, and AGI integration with students, and students follow the instructor's guidelines and the requirements of the course. Undocumented uses of AI, GenAI, and AGI can constitute an instance of academic dishonesty, including cases related to issues like plagiarism and misrepresentation in student deliverables.

ENGL 1301 Section 15 CRN 80498

College Reading and Writing

Academic Integrity

Students at East Texas A&M University are expected to maintain high standards of integrity and honesty in all of their scholastic work. For more details and the definition of academic dishonesty see the following procedures:

Collection of Data for Measuring Institutional Effectiveness

To measure the level of compliance with the university's Institutional Effectiveness guidelines, throughout the semester, I will collect some of the ungraded texts you produce. The texts will be part of a portfolio created on your behalf and will be measured to ensure that our program "promotes practices that result in higher student academic achievement; an enhanced student experience; aligned and transparent decisions; and readily available information for improvement, accountability, and accreditation” (see “Department of Institutional Effectiveness,” <http://www.etamu.edu/aboutus/institutionalEffectiveness/default.aspx>). This is solely an assessment of program effectiveness and in no way affects students’ course grades or GPAs.

Students with Disabilities – ADA Statement

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact:

Resources

East Texas A&M Supports Students' Mental Health

The Counseling Center at East Texas A&M, located in the Halladay Building, Room 203, offers counseling services, educational programming, and connection to community resources for students. Students have 24/7 access to the Counseling Center's crisis assessment services by calling 903-886-5145. For more information regarding Counseling Center events and confidential services, please visit www.etamu.edu/counsel

Writing Center

The Writing Center offers writers free, one-on-one assistance. We welcome all writers, majors, and disciplines—undergraduate and graduate students alike. In fact, we work from the premise that all writers, no matter their ability level, benefit from the feedback of knowledgeable readers. The Writing Center staff is trained to provide writers with just this service. In short, we are here to help you help yourself. The Writing Center offers one-on-one sessions with writers—both face-to-face and online—begin on the hour and last up to 45 minutes. You cannot sign up for back-to-back appointments, but you may sign up for as many appointments as you'd like each day and week. For more information, visit <https://www.tamuc.edu/writing-center>
