COURSE INFORMATION

Recommended Textbook: Governing Texas 6th or 7th Edition (physical or ebook is acceptable and you will NOT need the access codes)

ISBN: 978-1-324-03510-7 or 978-1-324-08564-5

Course Description: This course is a survey of the institutions and policies of the Texas governing bodies. You will learn about formal and informal institutions of the state government and how they play into the creation and implementation of public policy. Topics considered include the legislative, executive, and judicial branches, bureaucracies, public policies (formulation and implementation), global forces that continue to shape our understanding of the relationship between the people and government of Texas.

● Please note that you will not be taught what to think about political issues in this course. Rather, you will be provided with the knowledge to determine how to think about political issues for yourself.

Student Learning Outcomes:

1. Critical Thinking: Students will be able to differentiate between fact and opinion.
2. Communication: Student communication will be clear, purposeful, and make appropriate use of evidence, data, and technology as applicable. In written, oral, and/or visual communication, East Texas A&M students will communicate in a manner appropriate to the audience and occasion, with an evident message and organization structure.
3. Personal Responsibility: Students will be able to understand their role in their own education.

4. Social Responsibility: Students will demonstrate awareness of societal and/or civic issues.
5. Explain the origin and development of the Texas Constitution
6. Describe state and local political systems and their relationship with the federal government.
7. Describe separation of powers and checks and balances in both theory and practice in Texas.
8. Demonstrate knowledge of the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of Texas government.
9. Evaluate the role of public opinion, interest groups, and political parties in Texas.
10. Analyze the state and local election process.
11. Identify rights and responsibilities of citizens.
12. Analyze issues, policies, and political culture of Texas.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS Minimal Technical Skills Needed

Students will need to be familiar with the University learning management system (D2L/Brightspace), know how to use a personal computer, navigate the internet, and use basic word processing software such as Microsoft Word and PowerPoint.

Instructional Methods

Each week module will consist of and involve quizzes, and discussion boards over the assigned readings and any other supplemental readings the instructor wishes to add. You will regularly be asked to contribute your opinions and answer questions about the readings.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

Students are expected to complete the assigned readings and engage in class discussions/writing assignments. Complete all assignments. Be prepared to discuss the topics presented in class. Be courteous to and respectful of your fellow students and instructors.

GRADING: A = 90%-100% B = 80%-89% C = 70%-79% D = 60%-69% F = 59% or Below

This following is the breakdown for grades and points in class based on a 1000 point scale:

Introduction Post and Political Spectrum: 50 Points Total

Current Event Writing Assignments: 200 Points Total (4 @ 50 points each)

Research Project: 150 Points Total

Exams: 400 Points Total (4 @ 100 points each)

Final Exam: 200 Points Total

AI Statement East Texas A&M has adopted the following statement for inclusion on faculty syllabi: East Texas A&M University acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course. Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism). Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructor's guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed. In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources. In the context of this class, DO NOT USE AI. Programs that save you all the trouble of reading, thinking, and presenting your thoughts and ideas are antithetical to university education. If it is apparent that you used AI in writing any assignment in this course, you will receive a 0 on that assignment with no opportunity to make it up. I cannot stress this enough, do not use AI software to complete assignments for this class. If you need assistance with writing, I suggest using our writing center or having someone peer edit your assignments. AI use of any kind will result in a zero for the assignment. Multiple infractions will be sent to our Department Chair and potentially the Dean to be dealt with. I also strongly encourage you to work in a document that uses timestamps so that you have documentation that you yourself wrote your assignments. If you use any type of editing or translation software that will also flag your assignment. If you have any concerns about editing or translation services for your assignment please reach out to me beforehand.

Your professor reserves the right to make changes to the syllabus at any point during the semester and will inform students of alterations. ******

Assessments

Note: Personal computer and internet connection problems do not excuse the requirement to complete all course work in a timely and satisfactory manner. Each student needs to have a backup method to deal with these inevitable problems. These methods might include the availability of a backup PC at home or work, the temporary use of a computer at a friend's home, the local library, office service companies, Starbucks, a TAMUC campus open computer lab, etc.

Participation: With this being an online course, you will need to login to D2L and access this course regularly throughout the week and/or modules. Not logging in and keeping up with due dates and weekly readings and assignments will have a detrimental effect on your grade.

Introduction Post: During the first module, you will be asked to make an introduction post for me and your classmates to read through. In addition to the introduction post, you will also share a short non-invasive reflection after you have taken a political spectrum survey. Your results from this survey are for you and you alone. You do not have to include any details you do not wish to. You are welcome to share if you like, but again it is not required. Additional details for the post will be posted in D2L.

Current Events: To be civically engaged, it is important to have an idea of what is going on in the world, country, state, and local areas. You will have a current event assignment for modules 1-4. Further instructions and expectations will be posted in D2L.

Exams: There will be four exams given during the semester in addition to a final exam to be administered during finals week. They comprise a significant portion of your grade, so it would be beneficial to be prepared for your exams. Since there is a multi-day window for exams, makeup exams will not be given. If you have an athletic or academic reason as to why you are not able to take the exam during the window it is open, you must email me IMMEDIATELY so that other arrangements can be made. This means emailing me BEFORE/DURING the exam window, not after the window has closed.

Research Project: In this course you will conduct and complete a research project over an instructor approved topic. The project will consider an issue or topic that is relevant to Texas and Texas politics. Further details and instructions will be posted in Brightspace/D2L.

Extra Credit: Extra credit will be given at the instructor's discretion. I will NOT create extra credit for any student at any time because they "need to get" a certain grade or because they have chosen not to do the original assignments assigned. I do not "give" grades rather you EARN your grade. I cannot stress this enough: keep up with your assignments and your grade in the gradebook throughout the whole semester and not just at the end.

Submitting Assignments & Late Assignments: Late work will not be accepted. Each assignment is given with enough time to complete it. You are responsible for attaching the correct assignment to the correct folder in D2L Brightspace. Failure to submit the correct attachment will result in a zero and be counted as no submission and will follow the no late work policy. Once you submit your assignment you should always click on the document to guarantee that it has been submitted correctly, or no document is counted as failure to complete the assignment on time. Poor internet connection, dead laptop batteries, etc. are not valid reasons for an assignment not being completed. If for some reason you are having difficulty uploading your assignment please email me a PDF version before the deadline and explain the situation, but please only use this as a last option.

If you have made it this far, please email me by August 28th stating you have read and understand the syllabus. Completing this step will earn you five extra points on your first exam.

Withdrawals

Dropping the Class: If you need to adjust your schedule by dropping this course, please contact your Academic Coach. Please be aware that dropping your course may impact your financial aid, veterans and military benefits, three year, 45-hour, and 30-hour rules. It is the student's responsibility to drop the course. If you fail to officially drop the class, a failing grade shall be assigned.

Student Withdrawal: A student wishing to withdraw from all courses before the end of a term for which he/she is registered must clear his or her record by filing an application for voluntary withdrawal. Please contact your Academic Coach. This action must be taken by the date stated in the Academic Calendar as the last day to drop a class or withdraw. Any student who withdraws from the university is subject to the conditions outlined in the section regarding Scholastic Probation or Suspension in the university catalog. It is the student's responsibility to withdraw from classes if he or she does not plan to attend during the semester in which he/she has enrolled.

A student has one year from the first day of a semester to appeal a withdrawal refund. Courses withdrawn are counted as attempted hours and count towards the three-peat, 45-hour and 30-hour rules and financial aid and veterans and military benefits.

Instructor Withdrawal: Your instructor of record reserves the right to withdraw a student from his or her course based on inadequate performance and progress in the course materials, and or behavior.

All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment.

Your instructor reserves the right to alter or change the syllabus at any time during the semester and will inform students of any changes.
