COURSE INFORMATION

Course Description

ART 2316 - Painting I

Hours: 3

Introduction to the fundamentals of painting with an expanded practical investigation of color interactions beyond the basics introduced in Two-Dimensional Design. Exploration of traditional and contemporary techniques and methodologies through a variety of subjects including still life, figure, self-portrait and landscape from direct observation or imagination.

Course Objectives

This course will offer a general overview of the various methods used in oil and acrylic painting. In addition, students will begin and continue developing their personal voice, vision and approach to painting and artmaking, as well as a general concept of art and art theory. Experimentation within the confines of the various assignments is welcome and encouraged.

INSTRUCTOR CONTACT & RESPONSIBILITIES

Please contact me via email. I respond to messages and emails usually within 24 hours or the end of the following business Monday through Thursday. Please do not expect a response over the weekend, holidays or after 5pm. All grades will be fully updated and shared after Midterms and Finals. The instructor values your time, growth and effort and does their best to complete grading promptly. If there is more time needed than normal, I will let you know as soon as possible about the delay. Students are encouraged to ask questions during class time and to reach out when needed. Please contact me via email to meet during office hours or at an additional time. Please reach out as soon as possible if you need assistance, additional support or resources during the semester. I am here to support you in the class and my goal is for every student to succeed in the course.

MyLeo/D2L & Announcement

Please make sure to regularly check the D2L course announcements and turn-on notifications for the course in myLEO/D2L. It is the students responsibility to stay up to date with the course online.

PROCESS & STUDIO TIME

- Every step in the life of each assignment is important and valuable. Discussion with the instructor, classmates, and other sources is expected throughout the production process.
- Some projects will not be completed during class hours. Students are expected to make full use of class time for active studio work and to work outside of class on drawings, sketchbooks, research, and preliminary work.
- On average, a minimum of six hours per week (one hour of outside work per every one hour of class time) will be necessary to successfully complete the course.
- Participation, engagement, and discussion with the instructor and peers are important and expected when reviewing artwork, techniques, processes, research, and progress.
- This course will focus primarily on the production and critique of a series of drawings, studies, and expanded drawing projects. Projects may vary significantly in subject matter, scale, materials, processes, and time required.
- Project requirements, format, materials, and estimated time span will be given at the outset of each new project.
- Students are encouraged to use the drawing studio outside of class time, with respect for other classes, students, and professors' schedules.

SUPPLIES, MATERIALS AND TEXTBOOKS

Students are responsible for bringing all of the necessary materials to be prepared for work in class on scheduled days. Attending class without the necessary supplies or prepared surfaces will be an unexcused absence.*

Textbooks, Readings & Viewings

There are no required textbooks for this course. All required readings/viewings will be shared via D2L/myLeo. Online readings and viewings for the course include selections from content on Art21, MoMA, ArtForum, etc.

Required Materials & Supplies

Please see attached list of required supplies for the course. Additional supplies will be required as needed to complete assignments based on your own project goals, ideas and methods.

Please note that you are expected to have/have ordered all of the course materials by the start of the 2nd week of class. If a student does not have required supplies by the start of the 3rd week, they may be administratively dropped from the course.

PAINTING ROOM 205:

Your Lion Card will allow you to access the Painting Room 205 outside of class time. Except when there is another class, the room is open for you to use 24/7 unless the university is closed. You are expected to clean up and keep the room and all materials in the room in good condition.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Understand safety, history, conventions, and current issues related to painting.
2. Place own works and works of others in cultural, historical, social and stylistic context.
3. Use the materials, knowledge, tools, processes and skills of the discipline including paint media and surfaces to fully develop artworks from concept to completion.
4. Use, understand and apply the elements and principles of design within own artworks, art writing and during critiques.
5. Create completed artworks that demonstrate an understanding of materials, process and conceptual themes as well as technical and conceptual skills of the discipline.
6. Apply understanding of painting and art related vocabulary, process and materials to own works and the work of others.
7. Place own art work and those of others within current, historical and evolving contexts in and beyond the expanding field of painting.
8. Develop ideas and artworks based on research, exploration and experimentation of paint media, the discipline and beyond the arts. Synthesize and apply information and ideas from a range of sources, inspiration and materials.
9. Evaluate and analyze own works and the works of others through critique, reflection and visual analysis.
10. Engage and participate in critiques of your own work and the work of others using art vocabulary and terminology.
11. Demonstrate the synthesis of drawing, design, color and painting in completed artworks that emphasize observational, conceptual and exploratory approaches to painting.
12. Professionally document artworks and create a digital portfolio of paintings created in the course.
13. Professionally present artworks, prepare surfaces, and maintain collaborative studio spaces and materials.

COURSE CONTENT & PROFESSIONALISM

Please note that this is a studio art course where professional, global, and varying perspectives on art and humanity are reviewed, discussed, examined, and shared in a respectful environment. Course content and artwork may be challenging, unfamiliar, or outside of your personal experiences and perspectives. Students are expected to engage professionally, thoughtfully, and respectfully with a wide range of ideas, approaches, materials, and viewpoints.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Projects: There are a total of 6 major painting projects for this course.

Sketchbooks: Includes all notes, drawings, preliminary work, research & studies.

Exhibition Research: Attend at least 2 exhibitions during the semester and document your experience. Included in Sketchbook & Research Assignments.

Artist Research: Contemporary artist research is required with the majority of assignments.

Digital Portfolio: A midterm & final digital slide presentation of your work from the course.

ASSIGNMENTS & ASSESSMENTS

Assignments	%
Projects	60
Portfolios	10
Research & Sketchbooks	30
Total	100 / 100%

PROJECTS

Project 1: Black and White Still Life (Acrylic)

Project 2: Object & Color Studies (Oil)

Project 3: Color Still Life (Oil)

Project 4: Perspective (Oil)

Project 5: Narrative Figure Painting (Oil)

Project 6: Final Painting (Open)

CRITERIA & RUBRIC FOR DRAWINGS & MAJOR PROJECTS

Technique & Use of Media – 30%

Assignment Objectives & Conceptual Development – 40%

Participation, Effort & Process – 10%

Creativity, Experimentation & Risk-Taking – 10%

Craftsmanship, Presentation & Formatting – 10%

RESEARCH, NOTES, EXHIBITIONS & STUDIES

I will occasionally require research, studies, and/or gallery and museum visits during the semester. These will be completed in your sketchbooks and/or submitted on the LMS/myLeo.

You should attend at least 2 museum/gallery exhibitions a semester and document each one. You are especially encouraged to go to all ETAMU gallery openings.

You will be asked to complete research and preliminary work as needed for assignments.

GRADING

You will receive a final letter grade for this course. Grades are based on assignments, portfolios, critiques, research, preliminary work, participation, attendance, effort, technical and conceptual development, experimentation, and improvement throughout the course. Keeping a sketchbook and practicing drawing and mark-making outside of class will be beneficial to your development.

All major projects must be presented for critique regardless of level of finish and submitted to the designated D2L assignment. Projects that are not presented for the scheduled critique will receive a 50% grade deduction. Critique and process are an important part of each project, and work will be evaluated based on the development of ideas, consistency of effort, quality and quantity of work, technical and conceptual development, experimentation, and engagement with the course.

Students are encouraged to take artistic risks, experiment with materials and processes, and explore new approaches to drawing.

FINAL GRADES

A = 90–100%

B = 80–89%

C = 70–79%

D = 60–69%

F = 59% or Below

GRADING SCALE

A—Excellent Work: All requirements have been met and many have been exceeded. Work demonstrates strong technical and conceptual development, thoughtful use of materials and processes, experimentation, and continued growth. Critical and conceptual understanding is demonstrated through studio participation, research, and critique.

B—Very Good Work: Course requirements have been met. Work demonstrates competence in technical skills, materials, processes, craftsmanship, and conceptual development, with thoughtful engagement in the course.

C—Average Work: Course requirements have been adequately fulfilled. Work demonstrates satisfactory technical and conceptual development and participation in critiques, midterms, and finals.

D—Poor Work: Course requirements have not been adequately fulfilled.

F—Failure: Course requirements have not been fulfilled and/or there has been insufficient participation, preparation, or completion of assigned work.

Critiques

In addition to making artwork, students will develop a critical voice in relation to their own work and the work of others. Critiques are an important part of the studio process and will provide opportunities to discuss ideas, materials, processes, conceptual development, and presentation.

Attendance and participation during critiques is required. Even if a work is unfinished, it must be presented during the scheduled critique. Work or students not present for a scheduled critique will receive the 50% grade deduction outlined in the grading policy. Critiques may not be made up.

Critiques will be conducted in a professional and respectful manner. Students are expected to participate thoughtfully, discuss their own work, engage with the work of others, and use appropriate art vocabulary and terminology.

Course Schedule

Please see attached and uploaded course calendar in the D2L.

Late Work / Make-up Policy

Critiques are an essential part of the course. Even if a work is unfinished, it must be presented during the scheduled critique. If the work or student is not present for a scheduled critique, the maximum grade the student may receive for that project is 50%.

Late work for major assignments may be submitted within one week of the original due date with a 10% deduction from the assignment grade per day late, unless the student provides documentation of an acceptable mitigating circumstance. Please see the ETAMU and Department of Art attendance policies for information regarding excused absences.

Late work for non-major assignments, including studio work, plans, research, exhibition research, sketches, and other preliminary work, is generally not accepted. Because these assignments support the development of major projects, students are expected to complete them before moving on to the next stage of the project. Please reach out to the instructor as soon as possible if unexpected or extenuating circumstances arise during the course.

Optional Extra Credit

Extra credit opportunities may be offered to the entire class during the semester. These opportunities are optional and will not negatively affect a student's grade if they choose not to participate. The instructor will provide the same opportunities to all students, and extra credit is offered at the discretion of the instructor. Extra credit is not available for individual assignments or on an individual basis. Students who have engaged in academic dishonesty are not eligible for extra credit.

A total of 5 points of extra credit may be earned toward the student's final course average.

Grade & Course Questions

Please stay in contact and keep up with the course in D2L. Please ask questions well before an assignment deadline whenever possible. If you have a question or concern about a grade, please contact the instructor to schedule an individual meeting within one week of receiving the grade. Grades cannot be discussed via email. Grades cannot be adjusted based on personal need or desire, and all grades are assigned according to the criteria and policies outlined in the syllabus.

Class Participation & Attendance

Regular and punctual attendance is expected and required. Art is a practice-based discipline, and the learning process requires active and dedicated participation. Attendance is taken during each class session at the beginning of class and/or after break. Students are expected to be present for each class and for the entire class period.

Students will receive a letter grade deduction for their fourth absence, and each additional absence. Being tardy for class equals $\frac{1}{2}$ of an absence. If a student arrives after roll has been taken but within the first 30 minutes, they will be counted tardy. If a student arrives after the first 30 minutes of class, they will be counted absent. Two late arrivals equal one absence.

Most lectures, demonstrations, and assignments will occur at the beginning of class and will not be repeated for students who arrive late or have an unexcused absence. If you are late to class, you will need to notify me by the end of the class period to replace an absence with a tardy. In-class assignments missed may only be made up with official documentation of an excused absence under ETAMU policy. Due to the nature of critiques, they may not be made up.

When a class is missed, it is the student's responsibility to find out what was missed and what is expected from classmates and D2L.

Administrative Drop Policy for Attendance

If a student has been absent for 40% or more of the course at the midterm/midpoint of the semester, they may receive an administrative drop from the course and will need to retake the class when they are better able to attend and successfully complete the course.

Studio Expectations, Safety & Policies

Students are expected to maintain a clean, organized, safe, and respectful studio environment. Follow all safety instructions for materials, tools, equipment, and processes, and ask the instructor before using unfamiliar equipment or hazardous materials.

Please do not dispose of paints, solvents, chemicals, adhesives, or other hazardous materials in sinks or regular trash. Use designated disposal containers and clean your workspace at the end of each class.

Wear appropriate clothing and protective equipment when necessary. No smoking, vaping, or eating is permitted in the studios. Drinks should be kept in closed, spill-proof containers and away from artwork and equipment.

Cell phones, headphones, and other personal devices should not interfere with class activities, demonstrations, discussions, critiques, or studio work. Headphones may be used during independent studio work, but should be removed during lectures, critiques, demonstrations, introductions, and class discussions.

Students are expected to contribute to a safe and productive studio environment and to care for shared spaces, equipment, and materials.

End-of-Semester Studio Clean-up

Students are required to attend and participate in the end-of semester studio clean up on the scheduled class date during class hours. Failure to attend and participate in final clean-up will result in a one-letter-grade drop in your final grade. In addition to contributing the clean-up and maintenance of the shared studio spaces, you are responsible for cleaning your work area, storage area, any checked out materials, and hazardous materials area. You are to remove all stored work and materials from both storage and your lockers before the end of the semester.

Final Day to Remove Work and Materials

The final day to remove any work or materials is the last day of Final Exams. Any artwork or materials left after this day cannot be stored for you and will be disposed of the following day.

Studio Storage & Lockers

It is suggested that students use a locker in the studios to store supplies. You will need to bring a combination lock and share the code with your instructor. The shelving provided in the canvas storage room may be used to store paintings and artworks currently being worked on, but students should be aware of the potential for damage, vandalism, and theft when storing work in public areas. Please do not leave materials out in the studios, and be aware of the potential for damage, theft, etc. Paintings may not be left on easels or hanging to dry, and should be stored on the shelves. Please take work home when completed as storage is limited.

Studio Safety & Handbook

There are risks and safety practices you should be aware of in regards to safety in the art and painting studios. Most of the solvents used in oil painting (Turpentine, thinners, mediums, etc.) are toxic. Some paints, like cadmium red, are also toxic. Consult the labeling of solvents and pigments for information and the Safety Data Sheets (linked in every studio). Toxic materials should not be ingested or allowed to touch the skin for prolonged periods. Wear protective gloves when using these materials in order to avoid skin contact. When using solvents, always have good ventilation.

You should only be using Gamsol as a solvent in the studio, it is a highly refined Odorless Mineral Spirit designed for studio work. Do not use standard OMS found at hardware stores, etc. or turpentine.

If you decide to use materials not addressed below, read the safety labels, SDS sheets and consult with your instructor as to their safe use.

HEALTH AND SAFETY HANDBOOK

The Art Department's Health and Safety Handbook can be found at the following:
<https://www.etamu.edu/art/health-and-safety/>

HEALTH AND SAFETY AGREEMENT FORM

All students enrolled in Art Courses need to read through the Handbook, specifically in the area their class is in (Drawing, Painting, Photo, Ceramics, Sculpture, Printmaking, Viscom), and submit their signature in the agreement form found at this link:
<https://dms.tamuc.edu/Forms/ArtLabPolicy>

This is required for all studio courses by the first week of class.

AI Use Policy

Generative AI & Student Responsibility to Document Authorship

Generative AI is not permitted in this course for writing, artwork, or other course assignments unless specifically allowed in an individual assignment. When permitted, AI may be used only in the manner and for the purpose outlined in that assignment and may not replace the student's original creative, conceptual, or technical work. Undocumented use of generative AI as original student work constitutes plagiarism and academic dishonesty.

All submitted work must be the student's own original work. Students are responsible for documenting their creative process and maintaining evidence of authorship throughout the semester. This is particularly important for digital, hybrid, experimental, and process-based work.

Students are expected to document the process and development of their work, particularly when working digitally or through processes that may be difficult to document after completion. Documentation may include sketches, studies, photographs, process documentation, digital files, layers, screen recordings, time-lapse recordings, or other evidence of development. Process documentation may be requested by the instructor at any point during the course.

Writing & Editing Tools

Students may use Grammarly or similar AI-assisted software for final proofreading, revision, and editing only. These tools may not generate or substantially rewrite student writing. Use of these tools should be documented and noted with the corresponding submission when applicable.

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus and course schedule is subject to change with notice. Any changes will be announced via D2L.

University Specific Procedures

Student Conduct

All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment. The Code of Student Conduct is described in detail in the Student Guidebook.

<https://inside.tamuc.edu/admissions/registrar/documents/studentGuidebook.pdf>.

Students should also consult the Rules of Netiquette for more information regarding how to interact with students in an online forum: <https://www.britannica.com/topic/netiquette>

ETAMU Attendance

Students participating in sports or other University activities can be excused from the Departmental policy if they have made arrangements with the instructor to address missed class-work BEFORE the scheduled event. A schedule of the days they are planning to perform or play must be provided at the beginning of the semester or at least a month before their first planned absence. Excessive absences may result in the student being administratively dropped from the course.

prohibited on all A&M-Commerce campuses. Report violations to the University Police Department at 903-886-5868 or 9-1-1.

ETAMU AI Use Statement

East Texas A&M University acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course. Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism). Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed. In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.
