COURSE DESCRIPTION

EDAD 718 Doctoral Dissertation (3 - 12 semester hours) A candidate must present a dissertation acceptable to the student's advisory committee and the Dean for Graduate Studies and Research on a problem in the area of specialization. To be acceptable the dissertation must give evidence that the candidate has pursued a program of research, the results of which reveal superior academic competence and a significant contribution to knowledge.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

1. Develop an understanding of the dissertation process, guidelines, and protocols
2. Develop and defend a successful proposal.
3. Navigate the IRB process with guidance from the chair.
4. Carry out the proposed research, collect and analyze data, write up dissertation manuscript.
5. Defend the Final Dissertation Defense.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

MINIMAL TECHNICAL SKILLS NEEDED

Students should have basic knowledge of MS Office including Word, PowerPoint and Excel documents. The use of Leo Mail is required for communication with the professor and other students. The use of the Learning Management System (LMS) D2L is important to success in the course. Tutorials and support are available to learn these skills. Students should be able to do basic research including library database and internet searches for documents and publications.

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

This web-based course provides a resource base to develop the proposal, carry out research and successfully defend the dissertation. While all work is individualized and developed in consultation with the chair, it is expected of the student to take initiative, be aware of all deadlines and communicate regularly with the chair.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

Students will be required to log into the course daily and use University email to communicate with the chair regularly. All established deadlines and product expectations are to be delivered to the chair as specified with each individual student.

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based up Satisfactory / Unsatisfactory system. In most cases students will be issued an "I" for Incomplete each semester which are changed to an "S" by the Registrar upon graduating. A "U" may also be issued if the student is not making substantial progress toward completion of the dissertation in any given semester. Three or more "U"s is grounds for exiting a student from the program.

Grading will be determined on progress toward specific deliverables agreed upon by the dissertation chair and student.

Use of Artificial Intelligence

East Texas A&M University acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course. Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism). Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed. In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources

Students with Disabilities-- ADA Statement

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact:
