COURSE INFORMATION

Materials – Textbooks, Readings, Supplementary Readings

Textbook(s) Required: No textbook purchases are required for this course. We will use free online reading and resources, which will be linked in the D2L course each week.

Software Required: Students will need access to a standard office suite (e.g., Microsoft Word or compatible software) for written assignments. A reliable web browser is also required to access the D2L course and any linked online content. Some assignments may involve creating short videos, which can be completed using free or built-in recording tools such as ScreenPal or similar software. Please note that ScreenPal is provided as an example; students may use any comparable video capture program that meets the assignment requirements.

Clinical I Field-Based Block Description

The Clinical I Teaching Field-Based Experience integrates three coordinated courses (ELED 440, ELED 447, and RDG 448) to bridge instructional theory and classroom practice. Candidates will engage in applied teaching, observation, and reflection in EC–6 classrooms under the guidance of university supervisors and cooperating teachers.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

This field-based block emphasizes:

- TEKS-aligned instructional design
- literacy integration
- professional responsibilities
- effective assessment practices
- ethical and data-driven decision-making

Candidates will participate in POP Cycle observations, cooperating teacher evaluations, ILT conferences (Initial, Mid, and Final), and TEA Mental Health Training. Attendance at all seminars and field assignments is required.

ELED 440 Instructional Strategies

This course provides foundational knowledge and practical strategies for effective teaching in EC–6 classrooms. Emphasis is placed on instructional design, classroom organization, and the application of developmentally appropriate teaching models across core content areas. Topics include lesson and unit planning, classroom management, and communication practices that foster student engagement. Candidates explore how to create well-structured, inclusive learning experiences that meet the needs of diverse learners.

Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs)

By the end of this course, candidates will be able to:

1. Design and deliver instruction aligned with TEKS using developmentally appropriate models.
2. Implement classroom management and organizational strategies that promote positive learning environments.
3. Apply effective questioning, grouping, and engagement strategies to enhance student participation.
4. Communicate learning objectives and feedback clearly to support student growth.

ELED 440: Performance-Based Assessment

ELED 447 Data and Assessment

This field-based course examines professional ethics, collaboration, assessment literacy, and reflective practice within the teaching profession. Candidates learn to use data to guide instruction, communicate effectively with stakeholders, and navigate legal and ethical responsibilities in schools. Emphasis is placed on formative and summative assessment, data-driven decision making, and professional growth through structured reflection.

Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs)

By the end of this course, candidates will be able to:

1. Apply professional ethics and demonstrate understanding of teacher responsibilities under Texas law and TEA policy.
2. Use formative and summative assessments to monitor learning and guide instructional decisions.
3. Interpret and communicate student assessment data effectively.
4. Reflect on professional growth through ILT conferences and mentorship feedback.

ELED 447: Performance-Based Assessment

RDG 448 Supporting Literacy Development

This course focuses on supporting reading and writing development across content areas, with special attention to emergent bilingual learners. Candidates apply research-based strategies to build fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension, and explore ways to integrate literacy instruction into all subjects. The use of language assessments and student data to guide instructional decisions is emphasized.

Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs)

By the end of this course, candidates will be able to:

1. Apply reading and writing strategies to support comprehension and content understanding.
2. Use literacy assessment data to inform lesson design and targeted intervention.
3. Develop lessons integrating academic vocabulary and writing within core content areas.
4. Support emergent bilinguals and struggling readers through scaffolded instruction.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

Students should possess basic digital literacy skills, including the ability to:

- Access, download, and submit assignments through the university's learning management system (ex. D2L).

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

- Communicate professionally via email and participate in online discussions or video meetings (ex. Zoom, Teams).
- Use Microsoft Word, PowerPoint, and Excel or equivalent tools for creating lesson plans and instructional materials.
- Navigate online educational resources such as TEA, TEKS, T-TESS, and certification preparation platforms.
- Collect and organize digital artifacts for field documentation (lesson plans, observation forms, reflections, and data).

Familiarity with digital presentation tools (ex. Canva, Google Slides, Nearpod) and assessment applications (ex. Kahoot, Quizizz, Google Forms) is recommended for instructional design and field integration.

Instructional Methods

This field-based block combines direct instruction, guided practice, and authentic application through classroom teaching experiences. Methods include:

- Seminar Sessions: Interactive discussions, modeling, and analysis of effective teaching and assessment practices.
- Field-Based Observation and Practice: Structured, supervised classroom experiences with cooperating teachers.
- Performance-Based Assignments: Development of lesson plans, assessment artifacts, and literacy integration projects.
- Collaborative Learning: Professional learning communities (PLCs), peer feedback, and reflective discussions.
- Coaching and Feedback: Ongoing formative feedback from university supervisors and cooperating teachers during POP cycles.
- Reflective Practice: Journals, ILT conferences, and data analysis activities connecting theory to classroom application.

These instructional methods ensure candidates connect pedagogical content knowledge to real-world teaching performance and professional reflection.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

- Engage Professionally: Attend all scheduled seminars, field days, and ILT meetings; communicate promptly and respectfully with supervisors and cooperating teachers.
- Be Prepared and Punctual: Arrive on time and prepared for all field experiences and assignments, modeling professionalism expected of certified educators.
- Stay Organized: Keep digital copies of lesson plans, evaluations, and feedback; track field hours and required documentation accurately.
- Be Reflective: Use supervisor feedback, POP cycle notes, and ILT discussions to identify areas for growth and set professional goals.
- Apply Feedback: Incorporate suggestions from supervisors and cooperating teachers into lesson design and instructional delivery.
- Collaborate: Participate actively in team meetings, peer discussions, and cooperative planning.
- Stay Informed: Regularly check university email, D2L announcements, and seminar updates for assignments and field expectations.
- Complete All Requirements: Successfully finish TEA Mental Health Training, all POP cycle observations, ILTs, seminar assignments, and cooperating teacher evaluations.

Consistent professionalism, reflection, and communication are key indicators of success in Clinical I and readiness for Clinical II and full-time student teaching. Refer to the Teacher Candidate Handbook.

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

- A = 90%-100%
- B = 80%-89%
- C = 70%-79%
- D = 60%-69%

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

F = 59% or Below

Total points corresponding to the final letter grades

A = 451- 500 Points

B = 401- 450 Points

C = 351- 400 Points

D = 301- 350 Points

F = 300 & > Points

Weights of the assessments in the calculation of the final letter grade.

Example:

Assignments	20%
Discussions	20%
Midterm Exam	30%
Final Exam	30%
TOTAL	100%
