CSCI 556 (01B) Data Analysis & Visualization

COURSE SYLLABUS: FALL 2026

(Revision date: July 27, 2026)

INSTRUCTOR INFORMATION

Instructor: Jinoh Kim, Ph.D.

Office Location: CS/JOUR 217

Office Hours: TBD (thru online course page)

University Email Address: jinh.kim@tamuc.edu

COURSE INFORMATION

Textbook(s):

- Practical Statistics for Data Scientists (50 Essential Concepts), 2nd Edition, ISBN 10: 149207294X / ISBN 13: 978-1492072942

Software Required:

- Weka (<https://waikato.github.io/weka-wiki/>)

Optional Texts and/or Materials:

- Data Mining: Practical Machine Learning Tools and Techniques, 4th Edition. ISBN-13: 978-0128042915, ISBN-10: 0128042915

Course Description

Big scientific data sets are growing exponentially both in size and complexity. Extracting meaningful information from these data requires not only programming skills, but also understanding the analysis work-flows, mathematical models and visualization tools that help to condense large amounts of information into a comprehensible story. We will introduce standard statistical data analysis and modeling methods such as correlation functions, linear regression, clustering, pattern extraction, classification, data mining, as well as Monte Carlo methods which are commonly used in creating simulations in the computational sciences. Different analysis and visualization packages popular in scientific modeling, analysis, and visualization will be introduced.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

The Counseling Center at A&M-Commerce, located in the Halladay Building, Room 203, offers counseling services, educational programming, and connection to community resources for students. Student Learning Outcomes (Should be measurable; observable; use action verbs)

1. The student will gain detailed knowledge about the goal and techniques of the data analysis and visualization process.
2. The student will understand the steps in characterizing and understanding data.
3. The student will be able to build effective predictive models.
4. The student will be able to build models that rely on memorizing training data.
5. The student will be able to build models that have an explicit additive structure.
6. The student will be able to build models for data that has no labeled training data available: Unsupervised learning
7. The student will be able to use software applications for data analysis.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Prerequisites

None

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

- Basic knowledge of computer and operating systems
- Basic knowledge of data structure, algorithms, and statistics/probability

Instructional Methods

- Recorded lecture with presentation slides
- Utilization of an open-source data analysis and visualization tool (WEKA)

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

- Participation: Class attendance (mandatory) with active participation of class activities.
- Assignments: Following the given instruction is important. On-time submission of assignments encouraged.
- Exams: Well prepared for exams (with an ability to answer questions within the given exam time); The exams will be paper-based, closed-book/note tests.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

The Counseling Center at A&M-Commerce, located in the Halladay Building, Room 203, offers counseling services, educational programming, and connection to community resources for students. GRADING (Tentative)

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

A = 90%-100%

B = 80%-89%

C = 70%-79%

D = 60%-69%

F = 59% or Below

Weights of the assessments in the calculation of the final letter grade:

- Assignments (30%): One lowest score will be discarded
- Exams (60%): Three exams - refer to the exam policy below for details.
- Class participation (10%): Class attendance and activities

Attendance Policy:

This is an in-person section and attending the class is mandatorily required. More than three absences (for any reason) may result in a failing grade. Two tardies will be counted as one absence.

Assignment Policy:

The deadline for the assignment can be extended with a 15% penalty per day, up to two days (48 hours). Any submission later than 48 hours after the deadline will not be accepted and graded. One lowest assignment score will be discarded from the final grade calculation.

No extension/resubmission will be allowed.

Exam Policy:

This course basically has two exams (Exam 1 and Exam 2). Optionally, you can take Exam 3 as a make-up exam in the Finals week. Exam 3 is a cumulative test. In case that you take Exam 3: The lower score from Exam 1 and Exam 2 will be discarded, and then Exam 3 score will be combined for the final grade calculation (i.e., exam score = (max(Exam 1 score, Exam2 score)+Exam3 score)/2).

No additional make-up exam will be considered for any reason.

Artificial Intelligence and ChatBots

Texas A&M University-Commerce acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course.

Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.
