Course Description

Studio Hours II deepens specialized student-driven investigations of artistic (material, technical, conceptual) questions, allowing students to work independently, with the supervision of a faculty advisor/course instructor, as well as focused, ongoing mentorship by the students' Advisory Committees. This semester, the focus will be on in-depth conversations with Committee and course instructor as candidates move toward their final MFA Exhibition. This includes at least two meetings per month with Dr. Carpenter. Students enrolled in this course will be expected to exhibit in a semester end exhibition, either the Graduate Review (in the WTFA project space) or a final MFA Exhibition (in the University gallery), depending on semester-of-expected-completion.

Speculative inquiry, curiosity, creative risk-taking and sharing of resources is highly encouraged! This semester, summaries of findings, final exhibition decisions, editing, and other skills of follow-through and completion will also be supported.

Student Learning Outcomes

- Demonstrate a deepening commitment and responsibility to personal expression as explored in your practice, as linked to self-organization, contextual positioning and individual curiosity.
- Decode and manipulate the social, cultural, political, historic and psychological imprints surrounding the subject matter, form, content and context of your ongoing practice.
- Further challenge your own and viewers' expectations of your material, tools and content.
- Increase access to critical language concerning your own work, as writing of extended Exhibition Statement is prioritized.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

Students will need reliable computer and internet access for this course. Students must be able to effectively use myLeo email, myLeo Online D2L course shell, Microsoft Office, and Zoom or other video conferencing platform.

Instructional Methods and Student Responsibilities

Studio Hours is a self-driven course in the studio art terminal degree. As such, the expectation is regular and extensive time commitment to, personal responsibility for, and follow-through on your practice and the course commitments that support your practice. As in all terminal degrees, the onus is on the student to make the most of what is available—studio equipment, space, faculty feedback. Ask for what you need. Then ask again. Seek alternative approaches if what you need is proving a challenge. Resourcefulness is perhaps the most valuable skill for an artist.

This semester, it is expected that you will be communicating frequently with your Faculty Advisory Committee. Please be certain to translate any logistical decisions made in these consultations to Dr. Carpenter who can help facilitate logistics of paperwork, calendars, broader department/graduate school communication.

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale, although for Grad Programs, a grade of C is not permissible for advancement to the next stage.

A = 90%-100%

B = 80%-89%

C = 70%-79%

D = 60%-69%

F = 59% or Below

Total points corresponding to the final letter grades

A = 451- 500 Points

B = 401- 450 Points

C = 351- 400 Points

D = 301- 350 Points

F = 300 & > Points

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Weights of the assessments in the calculation of the final letter grade:

Monthly Meetings	30%
Regular Meetings with Committee	20%
Final Exhibition/Crit	50%
TOTAL	100%

Assessment

Your work and activity in the course will be evaluated using the following criteria:

1. Your self-motivated, sustained and thoughtful attention to your work, and the reflection of that attentiveness in the quality in your submitted materials, discrete works in development, and critical discourse.
2. Your genuine commitment to the course as reflected in your:
 - Attendance and preparedness for each meeting
 - Active participation in discussion and critique
 - Honoring assignment due dates

ACCESS AND NAVIGATION

You will need your campus-wide ID (CWID) and password to log into the course. If you do not know your CWID or have forgotten your password, contact the Center for IT Excellence (CITE) at 903.468.6000 or helpdesk@tamuc.edu.

Note: Personal computer and internet connection problems do not excuse the requirement to complete all course work in a timely and satisfactory manner. Each student needs to have a backup method to deal with these inevitable problems. These methods might include the availability of a backup PC at home or work, the temporary use of a computer at a friend's home, the local library, office service companies, Starbucks, a ETAMU campus open computer lab, etc.

COMMUNICATION AND SUPPORT

Interaction with Instructor Statement

If you have any questions or are having difficulties with the course material, please contact your instructor. Correspondence will always be through university email (your “myLeo” mail) and Announcements in myLeo online (D2L). You will not RECEIVE email through D2L, so be sure to check your ETAMU email for communication. Students are encouraged to check university email daily.

Include the Following in Emails with Instructor:

- Course name and subject in the subject line
- Salutation (Good afternoon, Dr. Carpenter)
- Proper email etiquette (no “text” emails – use proper grammar and punctuation)
- Student name and CWID after the body of the email (possibly add to student signature on email)

Artificial Intelligence (AI) use policy [as of May 25, 2023]

East Texas A&M University acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course.

Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.
