Course Description

ENGL 1301: College Reading and Writing (3 credit hours): builds the rhetorical reading, writing, and revision skills students rely on throughout college and beyond. Students analyze how popular and academic texts use rhetorical strategies to reach different audiences, compose a literacy narrative reflecting on personal history as a reader and writer, and investigate how a discourse community uses language and genre conventions to communicate. The course closes with a sustained revision cycle, in which students return to earlier work and strengthen it using feedback and skills developed across the semester. The course emphasizes cross-disciplinary skills that transfer directly to writing in other courses and contexts.

ENGL 1301-9FE 83922
College Reading and Writing
Course Syllabus: Fall 2026

Core Curriculum Course Objectives

- Critical Thinking Skills: to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information;
- Communication Skills: to include effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral and visual communication;
- Teamwork: to include the ability to consider different points of view and to work effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal;
- Personal Responsibility: to include the ability to connect choices, actions and consequences to ethical decision-making.

Student Learning Outcomes

Students completing ENGL 1301 will be able to:

- Identify and analyze rhetorical appeals, audience, and purpose in popular and academic texts.
- Compose genre-appropriate writing — rhetorical analysis, personal narrative, and discourse community analysis — anchoring claims in relevant evidence, whether textual evidence from an artifact, sensory and scene-based detail from lived experience, or established analytical frameworks (Swales, Melzer).
- Integrate outside evidence ethically and accurately using MLA citation conventions.
- Engage in the revision and editing process, using strategies such as reverse outlining, structured peer review, feedback triage, and substantive revision to strengthen written work.
- Collaborate effectively with peers to give and receive constructive feedback, using structured peer review to inform meaningful revision.
- Reflect on personal growth as a writer and identify strategies that transfer to future academic writing.

Instructional Modality

This class will meet face-to-face every Tuesday and Thursday from 12:37pm to 2:07pm unless otherwise specified. I expect everyone to attend every class except in cases of documented illness and certain extracurricular events. You should make every effort to attend each meeting not only because there is a correlation between a student's presence and academic performance.

Course Requirements

Student Responsibilities and Tips for Success in the Course

Each student is responsible for attending class and participating in the discussions and activities. You are also responsible for completing the reading assignments prior to class so you can participate fully and make the most of the in-class discussion. Writing assignments need to be completed and submitted prior to or on the date they are due unless arrangements have been made with me 24 hours PRIOR to the due date. If you need extra time for an assignment, let's talk about it. I can be flexible if I know beforehand. If you wait until after the due date, there is very little I can do for you. That means you should complete all readings and bring any notes or questions about the readings. All appointments with faculty should be honored. You may reschedule any meetings before the original meeting time if you have a conflict with the scheduled meeting. If you have a conflict with any scheduled appointments, meetings with faculty should be honored.

Attendance and Participation

There is a strong correlation between attendance and academic success. Consequently, you should make a concerted effort to attend every single class session; however, your physical presence alone will not suffice; you must also be attentive and an active participant in class. That said, if you are sleeping, look like you are sleeping, or using technology during class without my permission, you will be marked absent. Arriving to class more than 30 minutes late and leaving early without permission will also result in an unexcused absence. If I notice you on your phone without permission, I will issue one warning. When I call on you to answer a question, consider yourself warned. If you return to your phone, you will be marked absent.

You are all allowed up to five absences with no penalty. Six absences will result in a one-letter deduction from your final grade, eight will result in a two-letter deduction, and ten will result in an automatic F. Please note that even when an absence is unavoidable, you will still be responsible for acquiring missed course materials and the information supplied in class. If you will be absent for a PTAA-sponsored extracurricular event, you must notify me at least 24 hours in advance to have the absence excused. If you will be absent for a religious holy day, please also let me know at least 24 hours in advance.

I understand we all face unexpected events that may prevent us from arriving to class on time. That said, if you normally arrive on time but one day you must break your streak, I will not penalize you as long as you arrive within 10 minutes of our official start time. However, if you consistently arrive late, I will ask you to meet with me one-on-one to discuss the issue. If you arrive more than five minutes late, you will be marked tardy. Three tardies will form one unexcused absence, so please be punctual.

Assessment & Grading

All assignments, unless otherwise specified, will be submitted in D2L in either .docx or .pdf format. Late submissions will incur a penalty of 1-10 points, depending on the assignment, unless an extension has been negotiated at least 24 hours ahead of the deadline. Neither technological difficulties nor internet malfunctions justify late submissions. It is also your responsibility, as the student and author of your work, to ensure your submission is the correct file and readable.

Grading Scale

A = 90% - 100%
B = 80% - 89%
C = 70% - 79%

Course Specific Policies & Procedures

Interaction with Instructor Statement

All communication with me, whether face-to-face or online, must be professional and respectful. I will not respond to emails written like texts to a friend, a social media post, or a ranting ratemyprofessors review. Assuming your communication satisfies the aforementioned criteria, I will respond within 24 hours unless I receive it over a weekend. You must contact me at my ETAMU email address from yours.

Grievance Procedures

Students who have concerns regarding their courses should first address those concerns with the assigned instructor in order to reach a resolution. Students who are unsatisfied with the outcome of that conversation or have not been able to meet individually with their instructor, whether in-person, by email, by telephone, or by another communication medium, should then schedule an appointment with Dr. Jason Walker, the Director of Writing (Jason.Walker@ETAMU.edu). In the case when the Director of Writing is the instructor, the student should contact Dr. Debbie Lelekis, Interim Chair of the Department of Literature and Languages (Debbie.Lelekis@ETAMU.edu). Where applicable, students should also consult University Procedure 13.99.99.R0.05 (“Student Appeal of Instructor Evaluation”).

Writing Program Policy on Artificial Intelligence

East Texas A&M University (ETAMU) Writing Program acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence (AI), Generative Artificial Intelligence (GenAI), and Artificial General Intelligence (AGI). The ETAMU Writing Program is guided by national, flagship organizations representing the discipline of English and the field of Writing Studies, including the Modern Language Association (MLA), National Council on the Teaching of English (NTCE), and the Conference on College Composition and Communication (CCCC) regarding the theorization and teaching of critical AI literacy. ETAMU Writing Program values a spectrum of beliefs about AI, GenAI, and AGI, ranging from ethical integration to absolute refusal. ETAMU Writing Program believes in and practices critical AI literacy alongside ethical, responsible integration of AI, GenAI, and AGI in our writing instruction, appropriately. We teach students to document their AI use in their writing and other curriculum deliverables while highlighting educational concerns about using these technologies. ETAMU Writing Program instructors share their position on and preferences for AI, GenAI, and AGI integration with students, and students follow the instructor's guidelines and the requirements of the course. Undocumented uses of AI, GenAI, and AGI can constitute an instance of academic dishonesty, including cases related to issues like plagiarism and misrepresentation in student deliverables

Academic Integrity

Students at East Texas A&M University are expected to maintain high standards of integrity and honesty in all of their scholastic work. For more details and the definition of academic dishonesty see the following procedures:

Collection of Data for Measuring Institutional Effectiveness

To measure the level of compliance with the university's Institutional Effectiveness guidelines, throughout the semester, I will collect some of the ungraded texts you produce. The texts will be part of a portfolio created on your behalf and will be measured to ensure that our program "promotes practices that result in higher student academic achievement; an enhanced student experience; aligned and transparent decisions; and readily available information for improvement, accountability, and accreditation" (see "Department of Institutional Effectiveness," <http://www.etamu.edu/aboutus/institutionalEffectiveness/default.aspx>). This is solely an assessment of program effectiveness and in no way affects students' course grades or GPAs.
