Course Description

The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the field of psychology and to give a general understanding of the basic principles of psychology. It provides an overview of the field necessary for later courses.

This course will highlight some of the most interesting experiments within the field of psychology, discussing the implications of those studies for our understanding of the human mind and human behavior. We will explore the brain and some of the cognitive abilities it supports like learning, memory, perception, language, and consciousness. We will examine human development --- both in terms of growing up and growing older.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

We will discuss the manner in which the behaviors of others affect our own thoughts and behavior. Finally, we will discuss some of the mental disorders and the treatments.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Develop an overview of the field of psychology by studying and reflecting on the topics.
2. Appreciate how psychologists take a scientific approach to understanding human behavior and thought.
3. Practice the convention of scientific discourse appropriate to the audience, purpose and message.
4. Explain the real world phenomena by applying the concepts, theories, and methods learned in our course. Learning how to learn is a good start.
5. Nurture scientific thinking. This is an approach to information that combines a high degree of skepticism (questioning what “everybody knows”), followed by objectivity (using empirical data to separate fantasy from reality) and rationalism (practicing logical reasoning).

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Research Participation

A goal of this class is to help you become familiar with psychological research. One way to obtain this goal is to have you participate in research studies. Participating in research studies contributes to students and faculty at East Texas A&M University, your understanding of how research is conducted, and human knowledge in general. All students in this class will be required to participate in the psychology department’s participant pool or complete alternative assignments (see me for more information on alternative assignments).

Students must complete a total of 6 experiment credits. However, if you complete your first 4 experiment credits without any “no-shows” you will receive 2 free punctual participant credits. In other words, if you show up to your experiments on time you will only need to complete 4 experiment credits. When you first sign into the experiment management system (EMS) you will be asked to take a prescreen. The prescreen takes about 20 minutes to complete. If you complete the prescreen in the first two weeks of the semester you will receive ½ free experiment credit. This can be combined with later experiments that are worth ½ credit.

If you do not wish to participate in research, you may complete the alternative assignment instead. This assignment consists of watching videos and listening to podcasts on Perusall. The number of credits each assignment is worth is posted in the title of the assignment. You should comment on these assignments like other Perusall assignments. I have left question prompts throughout the assignments. These should be responded to. Additionally, on most assignments there is a quiz at the end with one or two free response questions about the video. These should be thoughtfully answered using evidence from the video. You must earn full credit on the assignment to receive research credit.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

If you fail to complete this portion of the class your grade will be lowered by one full grade. In effect, if you have an 'A' in the class but fail to complete your research participation (either through participating in research studies, alternative assignments, or a mixture of both) your final grade in the class will be a 'B.'

More information about participating in research, such as how to log in to the EMS, is given at the end of this syllabus.

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

You need to be able to use the following.

- Microsoft Office or equivalent
- PDF
- myLeo/Desire2Learn (D2L)
- Searching the internet for texts
- Using Library resources

Instructional Methods

This course is an asynchronous class. Videos and PowerPoints will focus on deepening your understanding of the important concepts and theories. Prior to each post's, you will be expected to complete the reading materials before the class.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

- 1) Check and read class emails and announcements in D2L promptly for announcements, updates, clarifications, etc.
- 2) Take notes as you listen to lectures, read the assigned parts of the textbook to check if your listening comprehension matches with the textbook descriptions, and fill in the missing pieces.
- 3) Quiz yourself often. Can you define a concept in your own words? Can you answer 3 or 4 questions of the textbook practice questions correctly?
- 4) Review the materials on a regular basis.
- 5) Complete assigned coursework on time.
- 6) Please contact me when you have questions. The material is difficult, and no one learns everything perfectly the first time through. This class, and your time, is too important for you to spend time getting frustrated instead of learning

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

A = 90%-100%
B = 80%-89%
C = 70%-79%
D = 60%-69%
F = 59% or Below

Weights of the assessments in the calculation of the final letter grade.

Category	Percentage
Exams	30%
Final exam	15%
Quizzes	10%
Discussion Posts	20%
Critical Thinking Essays	15%
Homework Activities	10%
TOTAL	100%

Makeup exams and assignments

Late submissions are not accepted for any assignments. Some assignments from each category are dropped to cover any missed assignments.

Makeup exams are not permitted for any reason other than university business. One exam is dropped at the end of the semester to account for any missed exams.

If you are traveling and representing the university (e.g., band members, athletes, etc.). you need to request accommodations BEFORE the exam or assignment is due, not after.

YOU are responsible for any material you miss if you miss class. You should contact your peers and ask what you missed and ask for notes. If we are doing an activity about something you missed, you should ask the people around you, NOT wait for me to re-teach the material you missed.

Assessments

Exams: 30%

There are four exams in the course. Each exam is worth 10% of your grade. Only your three highest exam scores will count towards your grade. In other words, your lowest exam score will be dropped. This is to account for any missed exams or a poor grade. There are no makeups for exams except for official university business.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Final exam: 15%

There will be a cumulative final at the end of the semester covering all the material discussed throughout the course.

Quizzes: 10%

For every topic we cover, there will be a 10-question quiz on D2L. The purpose of these quizzes is to give you practice with the material. As the goal of these is to promote learning, you may attempt these quizzes up to 3 times. Only your highest attempt will count. Two quizzes will be dropped at the end of the semester. Quizzes are due the day after we finish covering a topic in class.

Discussion Posts: 20%

Each week there will be a discussion post due. The discussion post will contain an open ended question from the content learned during the week. Your response must be a minimum of a paragraph. All discussion posts are due at 11:59pm on the day they are due.

Critical Thinking Essays: 15%

Critical thinking refers to the process of objectively evaluating, comparing, analyzing, and synthesizing information. Students will answer two essay-style questions via the assignment folder in D2L. Essays should include insightful ideas and comments that are complete and well explained as well as defended by specific evidence. You are not allowed to use direct quotation from sources. Please use your own words and ideas.

An essay should be at least 1 paragraph but no more than 3 paragraphs in length. The essay will be graded as pass/fail. Essays that demonstrate the student has reviewed, understood, and contemplated the material will earn a passing grade. Essays that are weak, trivial, unclear, ungrammatical, or not defended by evidence will earn a failing grade.

There are 5 critical thinking essay questions. You must choose at least TWO of these questions to answer during the semester. Answers are due at the end of the week for the corresponding chapter. If you complete more than 2 essays, only the 2 essays with the highest grade will be used in calculating your final grade. These are graded pass/fail. Thus, once you pass two of the essays, you do not have to do anymore for the semester.

Homework Activities: 10%

For each chapter in the textbook, there is a homework assignment. The homework assignment will contain one or two questions over the chapter. You must answer the question fully to gain all points. Two homework activities will be dropped. The homework activities can be found in D2L under the assignments tab.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.
