COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is intended to provide a practical understanding of string performance and pedagogy. This understanding will encompass the actual performance and application of problems in teaching beginning string classes in public schools, private instruction and/or conducting a public-school orchestra. Emphasis will be placed on playing ability and diagnostic techniques utilized as well as information from required. Regardless of prior experience, students are expected to learn the course content and show progress from their entry-level skill.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

In this course, students will:

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

1. Demonstrate fundamental technical skills on one stringed instrument and be able to talk about the differences of all other stringed instruments.
2. Develop accurate diagnostic and correctional skills for teaching basic posture, position and performance techniques in string playing.
3. Develop effective strategies for group teaching at the beginning level as would normally be encountered in school settings.
4. Acquire non-verbal teaching skills applicable to any string teaching situation.
5. Develop confidence in the ability to play and teach stringed instruments in group settings at the beginning level.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

MINIMAL TECHNICAL SKILLS NEEDED

Basic understanding of music including:

- Rhythm
- Pitch identification

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

Students will follow outlined activities for each week that include readings, performance tests, written tests and assignments. Class participation is crucial for success in understanding how to perform, demonstrate, and teach string classes. We will randomly choose students each week to do a performance test and then we will discuss as a class.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES OR TIPS FOR SUCCESS IN THE COURSE

ATTENDANCE IS THE MOST IMPORTANT INDICATOR OF SUCCESS FOR THIS COURSE.

Regular attendance, punctuality, and active participation in all scheduled classes, rehearsals, lessons, and performances are essential to student success and are expected of all students in the School of Music. Absences may result in grade penalties, loss of participation or performance opportunities, dismissal from the course or ensemble, or failure of the course. By enrolling, students agree to uphold these standards of professional responsibility and engagement.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.
