A&M-Commerce encourages and supports faculty members in pursuing and obtaining external funding for research and sponsored projects. The Office of Sponsored Programs (OSP) provides support services and information to aid faculty members in finding external funding, developing grant proposals, submitting grant applications, and managing awards. All external grants are made to the university, not to the individual proposing the project; therefore, all applications for external funding must be submitted by the OSP staff, not by an individual faculty member. All proposals for external funding must make clear the nature of any university commitment. Please review university Procedure 15.01.R0.01 for more information on seeking external funding for a project, program or other activity.
