

Melinda Bobbitt

Adjunct Professor of English
Department of Literature and Languages
Texas A&M University- Commerce

Contact Information

Office:

Department of Literature and Languages
Texas A&M University- Commerce
P.O. Box 3011
Commerce, TX 75429-3011
(903) 249-4455, fax (903) 886-5980

e-mail:

Melinda.Bobbitt@tamuc.edu

Education

Ph.D. Rhetoric and Composition, TAMU-Commerce, 2013.

M.A. English, TAMU-Texarkana, 2007.

B.A. English, TAMU-Texarkana 2000.

Areas of Teaching and Research Interest:

Literacy and Working Class Studies, Cultural Rhetorics, Writing Studies, Pedagogy

Academic Positions

Adjunct Professor. Texas A&M University-Commerce (2014-present)

Assistant Professor. Northeast Texas Community College (2009-present)

QEP Director, Northeast Texas Community College (2012-present)
Director Writing Center (QEP), NTCC 2012-present

Graduate Teaching Assistant, TAMU-Commerce. 2007-2010.

Assistant Director University Writing Center, Texas A&M

last updated 8 August 2015

University-Commerce (2009-2010)

Instructor of English, Simms ISD, Simms, Texas (2000-2007)

Publications

Bobbitt, Melinda. "A Book Review on Undead TV: Essays on Buffy The Vampire Slayer, Texas Theater Journal 6:1, 2010, January.

Bobbitt, Melinda. "Country Girl". The Mayo Review. Texas A&M Commerce. 2009

Presentations

"Teaching Working Class Students Through Memoir." EGAD, Texas A & M Commerce, February 2011.

"Teaching Argument Through Arguable Texts." CCCC, San Francisco, CA, March 12, 2009.

"The Beauty of Words: The Fear of Writing." Pathways, Texas A&M Commerce, TX, November 2008.

"Austin's Clergy: Salvation through Marriage." EGAD, Texas A & M Commerce, February 2008.

"Mark Twain's Women: Duty First." East Texas Baptist University, Marshall, TX, November 2007.