

Lauren Parker

Lparker7@leomail.tamuc.edu

Qualifications & Strengths

- Effective teaching skills
- Multiple years of experience with livestock – owning and managing
 - Breeding assignments, feeding programs, general health practices, halter breaking, and calf rearing
- Creative lesson plan designs

Education

Bachelor of Science in Animal Science – 12/2015

Texas A&M University – Commerce, Commerce, TX

Master of Science in Animal Science – Current

Texas A&M University – Commerce, Commerce, TX

Relevant Course Work

Introduction to Animal Science	Feeds & Feeding	Reproductive Physiology	Anatomy & Physiology
Animal Nutrition	Genetics	Livestock Management Techniques	Beef Cattle Management

Related Experience

Graduate Assistant Research/Teaching – August 2016 to present

Texas A&M University – Commerce, Commerce, TX

- Assist with undergraduate classes/labs and conduct personal research.
- Assist with multiple classroom lesson plan developments appropriate for the college level.
- Create challenging exams/quizzes/homework assignments for multiple classes.
- Offer guidance for students with questions over material and how to effectively study.
- Teach labs where students have a hands-on experience with various segments of the agriculture industry.

Beef Cattle Clinic Instructor – 2014 to Current

H & W Cattle Company, Merit, TX

- Share knowledge of showing/raising beef cattle to new FFA/4-H members.
- Utilize 10 years of experience with beef cattle to teach kids how to raise quality beef projects through nutrition, health, and management.
- Instruct various clinics to demonstrate how to properly care for and show beef cattle.

- Students that have attended these clinics have shown tremendous progress by winning showmanship competitions and stock shows with their projects.
- Students exhibit confidence with their beef projects that is effectively transferred to other areas.

Certifications

Beef Quality Assurance Certification – Current

Affiliations

American Society of Animal Science – Member

American Brahman Breeders Association – Member

American Shorthorn Association – Member