Course Description

Course Description: HIST 1302 is a chronological survey of the significant political, social, cultural, and economic issues in the history of the United States from the end of the Civil War in 1865 to the present. The class will move rapidly through the over-arching study of successive time periods. Each student will have the opportunity to explore and gain a greater in-depth understanding of the second half of the American historical study through the examination of readings and various primary documents. The class will enable students to acquire knowledge that would assist them in becoming active and knowledgeable citizens. HIST 1302 will also stress the development of effective reading, note-taking, writing, studying, test-taking, and oral communication skills, all of which will be useful in a student's academic studies and post-academic career. This course is the second part of the two-part history of the United States at the college level.

Prerequisites: (Lvl U ENG 1301 Min Grade C or Lvl U ENG 1301 Min Grade C Concur) or (Lvl U ENG 101 Min Grade C or Lvl U ENG 101 Min Grade C Concur) or (Lvl U ENG 1302 Min Grade C or Lvl U ENG 1302 Min Grade C Concur) or (Lvl U ENG 102 Min Grade C or Lvl U ENG 102 Min Grade C Concur)

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Students will be able to form substantive and evidence-driven arguments to propose solutions to problems or explain phenomena.
2. Student communication will follow conventions of grammar and syntax appropriate to the audience, purpose, and message.
3. Students will demonstrate awareness of societal and/or civic issues.
4. Students will be able to understand their role in their own education.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

Using the learning management system, using Microsoft Word and PowerPoint, using textbook and presentation programs online.

Instructional Methods

The structure of the course will be split into three units, with an exam at the completion of each unit. This course will mostly consist of lectures and a few class discussions.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

Students are expected to complete all assigned work for the course on time. It is recommended that students attend class, take detailed notes, and pay attention to all the lectures and discussions. It is recommended that students stay on top of their grades and assignments by checking the syllabus and their Leo portal regularly. It is recommended that a student asks questions whenever they have a concern or problem pertaining to the coursework and/or assignments.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.
