PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

I bring over thirty-three years of law enforcement experience to the classroom, currently serving as the commander of the Tactical Investigations Division of the Fort Worth Police Department. In this role, I lead the Narcotics, Vice, Gang, and K-9 Units, employing innovative strategies to address and mitigate crime trends through the deployment of resources in near real-time. My extensive experience in law enforcement, combined with my academic achievements and global perspective, equip me to inspire and educate students in leading innovation, whether in government service or the business world. My work in community engagement and non-profit collaboration further highlight my dedication to implementing cutting-edge solutions to difficult issues, and effectively solve problems in today's complex societal landscape.
