

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY–COMMERCE AWARD INFORMATION SHEET

Students matriculating at Texas A&M University-Commerce (TAMU-C) are eligible to apply for study abroad scholarships through the International Programs Office. The University makes such funds available to assist students and to make study abroad opportunities more affordable. Please read below for additional information regarding the scholarship program.

- I. Eligibility is merit-based and requires full acceptance into one of Texas A&M University-Commerce's recognized exchange, faculty–led or affiliated study abroad programs. (Merit is determined by a combination of academic performance and quality of the application submitted for consideration.) For purposes of these scholarships, programs through University of Southern Mississippi and international university partners are considered exchange programs; affiliated study abroad programs are those offered via third-party providers, for example University Study Abroad Consortium (USAC) or American Institute for Foreign Study (AIFS); and faculty-led programs are those academic study programs led by TAMU-C faculty or qualified staff members, usually 7-14 days in duration.

In order for a program to qualify for an International Programs scholarship, it must offer semester credit hours.

Demonstrated financial need is not a criterion in the awarding of an International Programs Office scholarship. Students must, however, be enrolled at TAMU-C at the time of application.

- II. Grant amounts are based upon length of program, but generally do not exceed $1,000 for summer programs and faculty-led programs; $1500 for programs of longer duration. All participants in the same program receive the same amount of scholarship support and funds are disbursed directly into student accounts via the Scholarship Office. Note: if you have a balance on your account, scholarship awards will first be applied to pay off existing balances.
- III. Failure to fulfill any of the requirements attendant to this program could cause forfeiture of scholarship, thus requiring the repayment or recoupment of already paid scholarships. Scenario: If a student backs out of the program after the disbursement of scholarship, she/he will be required to refund the scholarship money to the Office of International Programs.
- IV. Regular TAMU-C financial aid is available to students participating in TAMU-C exchange, faculty–led, and affiliated programs. Financial aid amounts may be adjusted to meet the eligible costs of study abroad, including airfare, higher living costs, etc. If you receive TAMU-C financial aid, please consult with your financial aid counselor to request an estimate of the financial aid package for the desired program.

V. Scholarship Application Instructions

- A. Students participating in an exchange or TAMU-C faculty–led program need only complete the International Programs Scholarship Application Form and turn it in with a completed application packet to the International Programs Office (Ferguson Hall, Room 220).
- B. Students participating in affiliated programs must complete the International Programs Scholarship Application Form, an application packet, and attach a copy of the completed affiliated program application.

INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION

Criteria:

Scholarships are based on merit--past academic performance and the quality of the scholarship application packet you submit are important.

Must be sophomore, junior, senior or graduate student who meets both academic and disciplinary requirements.

Undergraduate students must have a GPA of 2.5 or above on a current TAMU-C transcript and be in good standing at the University.

Graduate students must have a GPA of 3.5 or above on current TAMU-C transcript and be in good standing at the University.

Applicant must be fully admitted into an approved program of study.

Completed scholarship applications should be submitted as early as possible, but not later than published scholarship application dates listed above. Partially completed applications do not constitute "application submission." Please do not submit partially completed applications and piecemeal the remaining documents--such applications will not be accepted. Please use the checklist below to assist in preparing your scholarship application packet:
