Naming Conventions

- 7 character form name - All forms use a 7-character name code to identify them. Each letter in the name signifies information about where the form is located and its purpose:
 - Position 1 = system ownership; for example "S" = Student system
 - Position 2 = module ownership; for example "P" = General Person
 - Position 3 = type of form; i.e. "A" = Application form
 - Position 4-7 = form identification; i.e. "CMNT" = comment

"SPACMNT"

Form Components

- Blocks – Area of information on a form; think of it as a paragraph on a page
 - Key block contains basic information
 - Subsequent blocks contain detailed information related to the key block
- Fields – One item of information found in a block
- Records – A collection of fields for one entity within a form

The screenshot shows a web form with a white background. At the top left, there is a label "ID:" followed by a text input field containing "50066144". To the right of the input field is a small blue button with three dots and a plus sign. Further right is a text field containing "Frost, Christopher M.". At the top right, there is a green button with the text "Go". Below these fields is a light gray horizontal bar containing the text "Get Started: Fill out the fields above and press Go."

The first block on most pages contains key information. The key block determines what data is entered or displayed on the rest of the page. All the information on the page is related to the key block. The key block stays on the page as subsequent sections are displayed.

To access the body of the page, populate the key block data and then click Go (Enter)

You can return to the key block if you are in the body of a page by clicking Start Over (F5).
